Kennedy Awaits Board Report To Solve Rail Crisis

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy is due to get an advisory board's recommendations today for settling another big labor pay case, this one involving the bulk of the employes of the nation's railroads.

The report will deal with the wage increase demands of unions representing 450,000 rail workers, the same number of workmen involved in the recent steel labor controversy.

Even before receiving the report from the three-man presidential emergency board, named to try to head off a possible rail strike, the railroad industry had directed an appeal to the White House to disallow as inflationary any increase the board may recommend. The carriers demanded a wage cut.

TWO THIRDS

The unions complained that the industry's public statements coming just in advance of the report were unethical and comparable to "trying to influence a judge while he has a case under consideration."

All this presaged rough going ahead, no matter what the board may recommend, in the 30-day period allotted under the Railway Labor Act for negotiations on the basis of the board's findings before a strike can be called. Members of the 11 rail unions involved have already authorized walkouts.

The report due today deals with claims of the nonoperating workers who service and maintain the rail system. They compose about two-thirds of all rail employes.

The carriers have a hot dispute running, too, with the operating unions—the engineers, firemen and others who man the trains.

Martin Rites Set Following Fatal Mishap

Funeral services for Charles M. Martin, Sr., 40, who was killed in an accident at the Olin Mathieson plant in West Monroe Wednesday, will be held at 2 p.m. Friday in the McClendon Baptist Church, West Monroe. The Rev. D. O. Foster will officiate, assisted by the Rev. Harold Cook and the Rev. Charles Holstead.

Burial, under the direction of Kilpatrick's Funeral Home of West Monroe, will be in the Twin City Memorial Gardens. Masonic rites will be held at the graveside.

Martin, of Route 2, West Monroe, was crushed to death when a fork truck he was operating overturned. The battery pack, estimated at over 2,000 pounds, slid from the truck as it tipped forward and fell on the man.

He died of a crushed chest and pelvis. Mr. Martin was dead on arrival at the St. Francis Hospital about noon.

The fatality was the first at the Olin plant since the corporation took control of the facilities in West Monroe in 1956.

The accident occurred at the south container plant, one of five facilities at West Monroe.

Mr. Martin was attempting to lift a heavy roll of paper onto a load dock when the truck tipped over. The shifting weight of the battery, as the truck leaned forward, apparently burst its fastenings and fell on Martin.

Mr. Martin was a veteran of 12 years at the plant, and member

Million-Ton Blast Set Off In Pacific

U.S. Winds Up First Week Of Nuclear Tests

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States wrapped up the first week of its nuclear tests in the Pacific with its third and biggest burst so far in the series—a million-ton blast that flashed through cloudy skies near Christmas Island.

As in the first two tests, the device Wednesday was dropped from a plane. But it was at least twice as strong as either of the earlier shots.

A joint announcement by the Defense Department and the Atomic Energy Commission said it was in the low megaton yield range—the explosive equivalent of from one to several million tons of TNT.

NUCLEAR TESTS

The previous shots in Operation Dominic, which got under way one week ago Wednesday, were in the 100,000 to 500,000-ton range.

By contrast, the atom bomb that struck Hiroshima in World War II was rated at 20,000 tons of TNT.

Wednesday's blast thundered over the Pacific at about 8 a.m. test site time, or about 1 p.m. Eastern Standard Time.

As nuclear weaponeers checked the results of the initial clutch of tests and prepared for blast No. 4, a controversy was reported brewing up within the Kennedy administration. The question: What steps should the United States take to halt future nuclear tests after Dominic runs its course.

Some officials advocate that the German Guards Give Up Both Refugee, Rope

BERLIN (AP) — East German border guards fired two shots at a refugee sliding down a rope during the night, West Berlin police reported today.

The two shots missed and the refugee, a 19 - year - old construction worker, slid from the roof of a five - story building on the East - West border to safety in the West. He was bruises.

After Western police took the youth to safety, the East police tried to haul up the rope. But the West police had tied the end to a tree.

The East police shouted down to the West police, telling them to untie it. The West police refused. Finally the East police cut the rope and let it drop into the West.

Glenn Meets Cosmonaut In Washington

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet cosmonaut Gherman S. Titov and U.S. astronaut John H. Glenn Jr., already associates in high adventure met face to face today.

The meeting was a simple one, with Glenn saying "Hello" as they shook hands and Titov replying "Very pleased to meet you."

The encounter took place on the second floor of the National Academy of Sciences building.

Both spacemen were accompanied by their wives, and at their meeting only a few other people were in attendance including officials from the Soviet Embassy, the National Academy of Sciences and the International Committee on Space Research—Cospar.

Both men had dates to address the space scientists later in the day.

NOT TRAINED SPEAKERS

As the two posed for photographers after the salutations, Titov pointed smilingly at the cameramen rushing about and said: "Something is going to break down."

And about the only other thing said between the spacemen before a pool reporter had to leave the room was this exchange:

Titov—"We are not trained for delivering speeches."

Glenn, with a grin—"I agree."

The astronauts and their wives had coffee together before the two went downstairs to the library of the academy to register for the third international space symposium of the Cospar organization.

Present when the astronauts met were Prof. H. C. Van de Hulst of the Netherlands, president of the Cospar organization; Dr. Richard W. Porter, a vice president of Cospar and chairman of the U.S. delegation to the conference, and Mrs. Porter; S. Douglas Cornell, executive officer of the National Academy of Sciences; Mrs. Anatoly F. Dobrynin, wife of the Soviet ambassador; Gen. Nikolai Petrovich Kamanin of the Soviet air force; Yuri Alexandrovich Belikov, of the Presidium of the Soviet Union; Yuri Nikolaevich Belov of the Soviet Academy of Sciences; an interpreter; and two other people from the Soviet Embassy who were not identified.

The next item was a sightseeing tour of Washington with Glenn as guide, followed by a chat with President Kennedy at the White House.

Country Folks Potent Voice, Politicos Find

Trend Noted In Regard To Vote On Reapportionment

WASHINGTON (AP) — Politicians had new evidence today that the country folks still have a potent voice in states where voting reapportionment is an issue.

But this was about the only trend discernible in Tuesday's gubernatorial primary elections in Alabama and Oklahoma.

Former Gov. Raymond Gary of Oklahoma, who openly opposed a reapportionment plan to give urban voters of that state a bigger voice, drew heavy support in the rural areas to lead a 12-man field in the Democratic primary.

LOSING BATTLE

And in Alabama, former Circuit Judge George C. Wallace, an ardent segregationist, harvested a substantial share of his votes in rural areas to lead in the Democratic primary.

Both men meet the runners-up in runoff elections later this month, and it is uncertain where the urban votes, spread over several candidates Tuesday, will go.

Another former governor trying to return to public life, James E. Folsom of Alabama, was losing his battle with State Sen. Ryan deGraffenried for the runoff spot opposite Wallace. Folsom, who ran behind in the cities, appeared unable to make up enough ground on deGraffenried as results from rural ballot boxes trickled in.

Gary, who gained national attention by supporting the unsuccessful bid of then Gov. W. Averell Harriman of New York for the 1956 Democratic presidential nomination, will meet W. P. Bill Atkinson, millionaire homebuilder, in the May 22 runoff.

The winner will take on Republican Henry Bellmon in November. A Republican has never been elected governor of Oklahoma.

The fate of a third former governor and two incumbents who hope to stretch their tenure in office to lengths unprecedented in their states will be determined later this month.

But Insists Upon Strong Europe Union

U.S. Position Described As New Approach

ATHENS, Greece (AP) —The United States was reported today to be willing to share control of its nuclear warheads in Western Europe with a politically strong European union that includes Britain.

The U.S. position was described as a new approach to the years-old discussion of giving the North Atlantic Treaty Organization an independent nuclear strike force.

Qualified Western sources disclosed the new U.S. ideas as foreign and defense ministers prepared to open NATO's annual spring meeting. The defense ministers were to meet this afternoon to study weapons and production problems, among others. The foreign ministers open a three-day review of the allied defense position Friday.

MANY FINGERS

During the past 18 months numerous proposals for a supranational nuclear strike force for the Atlantic alliance have been able to solve the key question: "How many fingers on the trigger?"

Only two fingers are envisioned in the concept of American partnership with the European political union that is the ultimate aim of the six-nation European Common Market. A qualified Western source reported that Washington now was using nuclear armament as an inducement to the six nations — all NATO members — to get on with their political negotiations and to include Britain.

In the view of some Americans, an American offer to share nuclear control with a European authority would achieve these ends:

1. Encourage West Germany and France to let Britain into the Common Market and speed formation of a political authority to manage the Common Market's foreign and defense policies. Brit-

Ohio Democrats, GOP To Select Nominees Tuesday

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio Democrats and Republicans will select their party nominees in primary elections next Tuesday. Just about every race of any national significance seems a foregone conclusion.

Democrats are expected to outvote Republicans because it is on that side of the political fence that the major campaigning has been waged.

Republicans are looking for a nominee capable of toppling Democratic U.S. Sen. Frank J. Lausche who is seeking his second Senate term. John Marshall Briley of Toledo, a former New York attorney who has been in Ohio 10 years, appears likely to win the GOP nomination.

So far as Ohioans are concerned, the big noise of the primary campaign has been the effort of Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy to defeat Gov. Michael V. DiSalle's bid for the Democratic nomination for a second four-year term.

STATE AUDITOR

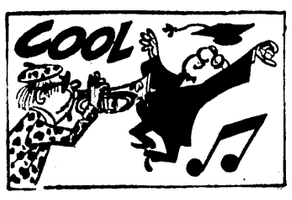
McElroy has deluged news media with speeches, statements and campaign literature.

Most observers are forecasting a DiSalle victory by a wide margin in spite of the opposition of Ray T. Miller Sr., Cuyahoga County (Cleveland) chairman, one of DiSalle's long-time political foes.

Republican James A. Rhodes, former Columbus mayor, appears certain of his party's nomination for Governor. He has been state auditor for 10 years. He has only token opposition.

For the first time in 10 years, Ohio will be electing a Congressman at large this year because the Ohio Legislature failed to redistrict the state to allow for a 24th member of the U.S. House to which Ohio became entitled under the 1960 census.

On the Republican side, Robert Taft Jr., son of the late U.S. Sen. Robert A. Taft of Cincinnati, seems an almost sure winner over his only rival, State Sen. Thomas Lowell Fees of Yellow Springs, son of the late GOP U.S. Sen. Simeon D. Fess. Taft now is Majority Leader of the Ohio House.



More mild weather is in store for the Monroe area, with a high today of near 78 and a low tonight of about 55.

It'll be warmer Friday with a high of 82.

Wednesday's high was 76 and the overnight low was 54. Sunset today will be at 6:51 p.m. and sunrise Friday will be 5:19 a.m.

Awards

Three local officials are recipients of service awards from Louisiana's Department of Veterans' Affairs. Fifteen-year certificates have been awarded to Ouachita Parish Veterans Service Officer H. B. McClendon, and office clerk Miss Lucille French. A 10-year certificate went to assistant service officer Fred E. Ragland.

Convention Roles

Monroe members of the Louisiana Oil Marketers Association, Thomas J. Hyland and James W. Moore, will be on the convention program at New Orleans today through Saturday.

Hyland is chairman of the convention program while Moore will participate on a panel.

Six Mississippi Men Accused Of Jury Tampering

ABERDEEN, Miss. (AP)—Six Mississippi men have been charged with tampering with a jury in a federal whisky conspiracy case in which one of the men was acquitted of making and selling illegal whisky.

The charges stem from the acquittal of Carl Murphy Jr., 32-year-old Tupelo farmer who is out on $20,000 bond awaiting Lee County Grand Jury action in the January slaying of reputed bootlegger James Grubbs, 33, of Verona.

U. S. Attorney H. M. Ray said Murphy and Chester Ray Seago, 38, of Iuka, were charged with attempted bribery, obstructing justice and conspiring to influence jurors.

EX-CONVICT

Charged with one count of obstructing justice were Carl Murphy Sr., 62, father of the acquitted man; Clarence William Riley, a brother of ex-convict J. W. Riley, also charged in the Grubbs slaying; Hal Cooper Bourland, son of former Monroe County sheriff LeRoy Bourland; and Herman Harold Hill, an Aberdeen service station owner.

"We don't question the decision of the jury," Ray said. "In fact, Murphy probably would have been acquitted anyway."

All six pleaded innocent at their arraignment Wednesday before U. S. Commissioner Ruth West.

Murphy was held in lieu of $50,000 bond.

Seago was released on $25,000 bond and the others on $10,000.

Pro-Reds Capture Town Site Of Dooley Hospital

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — Reports reaching Vientiane today said pro-Communist forces have captured Muong Sing, the northwest Laotian town where the late Dr. Tom Dooley had a jungle hospital. There was no official confirmation.

Muong Sing is five miles from the border of Communist China. It is 20 miles northwest of Nam Tha, the provincial capital which has been under attack by rebel batallions since January.

Sketchy advices reaching this capital from Nam Tha said Muong Sing was occupied by Pathet Lao and Vietminh, North Vietnamese forces.

There are no American military advisers stationed in the village.

HELP COVER

It was at Muong Sing in 1958 that Dr. Dooley, a Navy veteran from St. Louis, Mo., established the hospital that he was to consider his prime base in a jungle medical career that made him a world figure. He died of cancer at 34 in New York Jan. 18, 1961.

On the economic front, informed sources said the royal government has borrowed 220 million kip — $2.5 million — from the national bank to help cover its May expenditures.

This is the third month in a row the government has drawn money from the national bank since suspension of $3 - million monthly American aid last February — a measure taken to force the government to join a coalition.

CAN'T ELABORATE

Fields Reveals Deficit Solution

Rep. T. T. Fields of Farmerville today said the legislative budget committee "has a plan" to take care of Louisiana's $73-million deficit.

"I am not at liberty to elaborate, since our hearings are still underway, but we do have a plan to take care of the deficit if the Legislature will go along with us," Fields said.

"I am not at liberty to elaborate, since our hearings are still underway, but we do have a plan to take care of the deficit if the legislature will go along with us," Fields said.

There have been reports of a bond issue, but Fields, an administration floor leader, declined to comment.

"I will say that our committee will not recommend any tax increase," he said when reached this morning in Baton Rouge where the committee is still at work.

Gov. Jimmie H. Davis has said repeatedly the administration will not sponsor a tax when the legislature opens the 60-day regular session May 14th.

While Fields said the committee will submit a recommendation with the assistance of State Treasurer A. P. Tugwell to eliminate the deficit, he added:

"This committee will balance the budget. I think that all the agencies will be able to operate, but they will have to tighten the belt."

The committee has been working toward the reduction of operating costs in state agencies in view of the state's deficit that Tugwell says will reach $73-to - $75 - million by the end of the fiscal year.

Fields said he won't know what the administration will sponsor in the session until the committee finishes its work.

"We had hoped to get through today, but I imagine it'll run on through tomorrow," he explained.

Kennedy Cites Integration As Key Problem

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy said today he knows of no greater challenge facing America today than that posed by the problem of desegregating public schools.

His brother, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, said the eyes of the world are on the United States to see what is done in the field of civil rights.

The attorney general said it is vital to solve this problem if the nation is to continue as leader of the Western world.

CIVIL RIGHTS

The President's comments were made in a telegram to the first session of a two-day conference on school desegregation problems sponsored by the Civil Rights Commission.

About 100 school officials from 30 states are attending the conference.

President Kennedy said that, although progress has been made in recent months in a number of communities toward a peaceful and orderly transition to school systems unmarred by racial discrimination, these efforts must be redoubled.

Atty. Gen. Kennedy, in a brief speech, said that everywhere he went in his trip around the world earlier this year he was asked about civil rights.

U.S. Stresses Test Intention To Neutrals

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States told the neutral nations today that this country "will gladly cease" nuclear testing the moment an effective test ban agreement can be reached with Russia.

But in a note to the government of Ghana, the United States said that without a Soviet agreement, this country "will not unilaterally relinquish the right to conduct defense preparations."

The note was dispatched a day after the Defense Department and Atomic Energy Commission announced that the third U. S. atmospheric weapons test had been conducted in the Pacific.

LAST FALL

The note to Ghana urged the neutral nations to support U. S. efforts to achieve an effectively monitored test ban agreement. It was in response to a note of April 26 from Ghana appealing for an end to testing by all nations.

The U. S. reply said that this country "regrets the necessity" for its Pacific test series but that in the absence of Soviet agreement, it must be conducted.

The note said Russia undoubtedly "derived much information of military significance" from its test series last fall.

"If the Soviet Union," it said, "were to conduct nuclear test explosions while the United States refrained, military preponderance would in time come to test with the Soviet Union."

This, the United States said, "would be exceedingly dangerous for any government seeking o maintain its independence."

Meteor Blazes Across Sky

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—A meteor-like object blazed across the sky from west to east over the Southeast Wednesday night.

Karl Hujer, professor of astronomy at the University of Chattanooga, said the object probably was a meteor belonging to the orbit of Haley's Comet, due to be seen again in 1985.

Hujer said the earth's orbit overlaps that of Haley's Comet about this time each year, and sporadic meteors sometimes are seen.

Body Found Beneath Truck

NEW IBERIA, La. (AP)—Iberia Parish deputies found a man dead beneath his wrecked truck near here today, apparently the victim of a non-collision accident.

Deputies identified the victim as Wilson Pommier, 24, Avery Island Rd., near New Iberia.

Officers said the accident happened late Wednesday. It appeared, officers said, his truck went off the road after he lost control of the vehicle..

48 Killed In Train Accident

TOKYO (AP) — A triple train accident in northeastern Tokyo killed 48 persons and injured at least 120 tonight.

The fire department said 77 ambulances were rushed to the scene, where a commuter train piled into a derailed freight train near Mikawashima station and a third train plowed into the wreckage.

It was one of the worst rail accidents in Tokyo history.

Ninety minutes after the tragedy, rescue workers were still trying to extricate people from the wreckage.

One commuter train was with Japanese returning from the suburbs after Thursday's national holiday, Constitution Day.

CAROLINE STEALS SHOW

Envoys Dance At Kennedy Frolic

WASHINGTON (AP) — Foreign diplomats sipped champagne and danced at a gay White House frolic, moving President Kennedy to confide wistfully: "Ambassadors are happier sometimes than presidents, they can see more of the world."

As he chatted with Syrian Ambassador Omar Abou Riche the President perhaps was recalling the days when his father, Joseph P. Kennedy, was serving as U. S. ambassador to London.

Kennedy had left the cares of the day in his nearby executive office to spend an hour and a half early last evening at the traditional White House reception for 277 members of the Washington diplomatic corps and top U. S. officials.

He and Mrs. Kennedy greeted each guest with a receiving line handshake in the State Dining Room and then mingled and chatted with them in the East Ballroom, where a lavish buffet table was set.

An unexpected scene—stealer at the 6 to 8 p.m. affair was the President's 4-year-old daughter Caroline, who came to look at the party.

Caroline, in a frilly white dress, stood on a small balcony of the grand entrance staircase watching the crowd in the long red-carpeted corridor.

Many of the guests spotted her and waved.

Caroline, who has looked in on a few such parties before, appeared to be enjoying herself as she climbed on a rung of the balcony's iron railing for a better view.

Caroline saw some of the diplomats and their wives in colorful dress of their native lands. But the affair was not so fancy as most at the White House. The dress was for cocktail time and not formal and the men wore business suits.

Moslems Boycott Algiers Wharf

ALGIERS (AP)—Moslem dockworkers today boycotted the waterfront where at least 96 dockers were killed in a bomb blast planted by the European Secret Army Organization.

The strike brought the port to a standstill. Seven ships were waiting to be unloaded and others were anchored in the outer harbor.

The underground extremists fighting to keep Algeria French kept up their terror campaign today with bombings and robberies.

Two violent explosions wrecked a Moslem medical insurance office near the Algiers Casbah and two post offices were held up and robbed.

There were no immediate reports of casualties. The explosions occurred before the building opened for business. During office hours it is usually crowded with Moslems collecting government insurance payments for medical expenses.

The new terrorist action followed one of the bloodiest days in Algeria since rebellion erupted in the territory more than seven years ago. Officials reported 110 persons were killed and 147 wounded Wednesday in Algiers and Oran. Almost all were Moslem victims of the Secret Army.

Algerian Nationalist leaders strove to hold back enraged Moslems from wreaking vengeance against the European extremists out to wreck the cease-fire reached by President Charles de Gaulle and the rebels March 19.

The savagery of the terrorists' attacks in Algeria's two biggest cities was clearly designed to provoke a civil war to block Algerian independence.

Louisiana Bus Riders Seek Jobs In Three Cities

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Louisiana Negroes sent West and North by the pro-segregation Citizens Council of Greater New Orleans were looking for jobs today in Los Angeles, Chicago and New York.

While they were settling down in far away places, one of the men responsible for the exodus announced plans for a meeting in New Orleans May 18-19 to consider sponsorship of the movement on a Southwide basis.

George Singelmann, a director of the New Orleans Citizens Council, said he was making arrangements for the meeting at the request of Bob Patterson of Greenwood, Miss., national secretary of the Citizens Council of America.

The riders who made the trips reacted in different ways to the plan to give one-way bus fares to Negroes dissatisfied with life in the South. One felt the plan was failing while another called it a success.

300 MEMBERS

Negro alderman Benjamin Lewis of Chicago's 24th ward objected to what he termed "preferential treatment" given two Negroes sent to that city. He said they should take their chances like any other newcomer to the city.

"The more noise they make about the Negroes coming to Chicago, the more fuel will be added to the Citizens Council offer," he said. Lewis declared there are 227,000 Negroes out of work in Chicago, more than the entire Negro population of Los Angeles.

The Los Angeles population was boosted by the arrival of 20 Negroes from New Orleans Wednesday. They were given a tumultuous welcome by nearly 300 members of their race at Union Passenger Terminal.

The Travelers Aid Society made arrangements to lodge the newcomers in a hotel overnight and then help them find jobs.

Six more jobless and near penniless Negroes arrived in New York. Shelva Williams, 39, an unemployed meat cutter, said he was grateful to the Citizens Council for sending him North and predicted others would accept.

However, Roy Hamilton, a 23-year-old truck driver, said he thought Singelmann's plan "has failed miserably. I don't think there'll be many more Negroes to take him up on his offer. Singelmann practically got down on his knees and begged me to come."

The West Tennessee civil rights case was settled out of court with an agreement between the Justice Department and white landowners charged with using economic pressure against Negro tenant farmers who registered or tried to register to vote.

Under the agreement landowners said they would not interfere with Negroes who try to register to vote in the future. In return the government was to drop its federal court orders against the landowners.

Consent judgments were filed in U. S. District Court in Memphis restraining 53 white landowners in Haywood County, Tenn., from violations of the 1956 Civil Rights Act. Charges against 20 others were dropped.

At Biloxi, Miss., U. S. Dist. Judge Sidney Mize ruled unconstitutional nine state segregation statutes pertaining to travel by common carrier. But the ruling did not disturb three breach of peace laws under which several hundred "freedom riders" were arrested in Jackson last spring.

At about the same time the federal judge was ruling, the Mississippi House at Jackson was giving overwhelming approval to seven bills designed to strengthen state voter laws against attack from Negro groups in federal courts.

On the school desegregation front, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy planned to discuss the overall situation at a Washington conference of 100 school officials from 30 states.

Two Negro high school pupils asked for admission forms to Manatee Junior College in Bradenton, Fla. Officials said the applications would be processed the same as all the others.

Blame Reds For Death Of Boy

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — Police Wednesday blamed Communists for May Day disorders in which a 13-year-old boy was killed in Caracas and 17 persons injured.

Fourteen arrests were reported Caracas, where authorities said troop and police patrols squelched disorders as tast as they took place.

Texas Ex-Convicts Captured After Frenzied Chase

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Three Texas ex-convicts were held today after a wild chase following a $362 supermarket robbery.

The three were Richard Havens, 30, Groves, Tex., and Clarence Miguez, 29, and Thomas Godwin, 30, both of Port Arthur, Tex.

They were booked with attempted murder, armed robbery, being fugitives from Texas and for investigation of recent robberies.

Police said Miguez entered the Quick Stop Supermarket late Wednesday night and held a gun on Paul Ponthieux, 28 - year - old night manager. Miguez and Havens tied up the man while Godwin stayed outside as a lookout.

Police Maj. Louis Sirgo saw the car speed away and gave chase. When the trio opened fire, Sirgo radioed for help.

The men abandoned their car when it ran into a dead end street in the Pinea Village subdivision. Residents of the area turned on backyard flood lights and porch lights to illuminate the area.

Havens, the first man caught, identified his two companions. Godwin was found next. Miguez meanwhile hid the money and went into a poolroom where he drank three beers. He was nabbed when he tried to escape as police entered the room.

Police said all three admitted the robbery.

All three said they had served prison terms in Texas for burglary and forgery. Havens said he had served a term in the Louisiana state prison for burglary.

Pleasant Mail In For Change

DETROIT (AP) — What he termed the first pleasant communication he has had from the suburbs in quite a while arrived at the offices of Detroit Mayor Jerome Cavanagh Wednesday.

A Lincoln Park resident sent $200, with a request that the mayor give it to some worthy charity. "I cheated a man a long time ago," the letter said.

The $200 was sent to the Commission on Children and Youth.

Suburbanites have been flooding the mayor's mail protesting his proposal to levy an income tax and apply it to all who work in Detroit as well as all who live here.

$73 MILLION STILL NEEDED

State Session 11 Days Away

BATON ROUGE (AP) — The start of the state legislature is only 11 days away, and state officials have yet to find the $73 million needed to balance the present budget.

The big hope remains the tidelands, with officials hoping that President Kennedy might give some hint on the possibility of an early settlement when he visits New Orleans Friday. The state's congressional delegation will accompany the President.

There has been no word from the 17-member legislative budget study committee, which has been examining spending requests for next year in hopes of balancing the budget and covering this year's record deficit.

Atty. Gen. Gremillion denied Wednesday that an agreement had been reached under which Louisiana would get from $11.5 million to $80 million of the estimated $350 million in oil lease funds being held in escrow pending a settlement.

In Washington, a Justice Department spokesman said the matter is still in the negotiation stage.

"There is definitely no agreement either proposed or signed," Gremillion commented, when asked about reports Louisiana would receive a minimum four per cent of the tidelands escrow fund.

The attorney general already had written to U. S. Solicitor Gen. Archibald Cox seeking new tidelands talks. Chairman William Helis Jr. would join Gremillion in talks with the federal negotiator.

Speculation has been rampant on the tidelands. One report was the $11.5 million estimate was based on original escrow holdings of $350 million. This would leave $69 million undecided, after figuring federal and state shares.

Since the original estimate, according to the report, nearly $100 million has been added to the escrow fund from oil revenues in the dispute offshore territory and shares remained uncalculated.

State Sen. Howard Jones of St. Joseph, an oil operator and friend of Gov. Davis estimated months ago the state could expect about $65 million from the escrow fund.

Gremillion said any reports about a settlement or the amount of money to be involved undoubtedly came from "one of those federal career men who have been against us all along."

The attorney general added, "at the proper time, we will certainly call upon the federal administration—not the career men in Washington—utilizing the influence of the Democratic electors, our Congressional delegation and every other person who can help us."

United States enter a new moratorium on atmospheric tests, a reversal of present policy. Others insist that U. S. security requires a formal test ban agreement under an international inspection system to prevent sneak tests or secret preparations for tests.

Some State Department and White House officials are concerned the dispute may weaken the American bargaining position in the 17-nation disarmament conference at Geneva.

At the basis of the dispute is concern over policy and propaganda.

Washington authorities are sensitive to demands from overseas for an end to nuclear testing in the atmosphere. Thus officials say that efforts to improve detection equipment for all types of tests will be pressed.

As for policy, some administration officials were reportedly talking of the possibility that the United States could afford to join in a moratorium on atmospheric testing when the current series ends.

About 30 more shots are expected to be fired in the Pacific tests. Among them will be three high altitude explosions in June or July.

The discoverer of the Van Allen radiation belt, Dr. James Van Allen of State University of Iowa, said Wednesday that a big nuclear detonation at high altitude probably would kick a hole in the belt but that he expected that it would be healed or repaired in a matter of a few weeks.

All the rail labor organizations are solidly opposing the many proposed rail mergers.

The report to be delivered into Kennedy's hands in mid-afternoon concerns requests by the unions representing nonoperating workers for a 25-cent hourly pay raise, plus provision for six-month advance notice of job layoffs.

Many People Eye Gov't Labor Leanings

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—The government championing of the public interest in wage and other labor demands is the other side of the coin to its pressuring for a price level it considers beneficial.

And a lot of people have been wondering out loud what trends in the government attitude toward labor might be developing.

The report of a presidential advisory panel urging more power for a president to deal with national emergency strikes may give a clue—more intervention in more disputes. But the wide split among panel members as to the roles labor and management are now playing shows the issue is far from settled.

The panel members did agree that the White House should be allowed to intervene directly, rather than through the courts as now provided, more quickly to get an 80-day cooling off period.

The crux of a new labor policy, if one is to develop, may lie in what the panel sidetracked, however, rather than what it proposed.

That is the dispute which has been growing hotter of late. Should labor be curbed by law from exercising what management calls the monopoly powers of some unions? The management argument is that federal laws put tight curbs on corporations' using monopoly powers, but none on labor's, if any such powers exist as charged.

Many think that whatever restraints the White House may be inclined now to seek on wage increases it calls inflationary will be of doubtful strength until the monopoly issue is brought out into the open and settled one way or the other. They argue that the government doesn't have penalties to invoke against labor as it threatened against the steel companies.

The political chances of the monopoly issue being settled to management's satisfaction seem slight to most observers. And without the power to impose legal penalties on both labor and management, any pressure may be left largely to what President Kennedy told the U.S. Chamber of Commerce he advocates asking both sides to use responsibility in the public interest.

One member of the presidential panel—Dr. Arthur F. Burns, who was chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers under President Dwight D. Eisenhower—puts the issue this way.

"If the power of monopolies, whether of business or labor, were sufficiently curbed by law, there would be little or no need for the large intrusion of government into collective bargaining recommended in this report."

Labor unions deny they have monopolistic powers and strongly oppose any suggestion they should be brought under the antitrust laws.

Headed by AFL-CIO President George Meany, the labor members of the panel note that business firms combine to deal with a union. They deny that bargaining power is "unduly tilted in favor of workers."

With this wide split in opinion, it's still left up to the administration to reveal just how much pressure it will—or can—bring against labor if another inflationary wage-price issue should arise.

Burton, Liz Resume Dating

ROME (AP) — Brunette Elizabeth Taylor put on a blonde wig Wednesday night for her first date with Richard Burton after his blonde wife, Sybil, kissed him goodby eight hours earlier.

Burton, who had seen his wife and daughter off to London in the afternoon, called for Miss Taylor at her villa, near his, at 10 p.m.

She was hatless and wearing a blonde wig as she drove away with Burton in his car. They returned about midnight.

Sybil Burton had told newsmen a few hours earlier, on her arrival in London, that there was no trouble between her and her husband.

On her departure from Rome she had said she regretted the talk about an affair between her husband and Miss Taylor "for the sake of our children."

21 Killed Since Wall Erected

BERLIN (AP)—Since the Communists built the wall through Berlin, at least 21 people have been killed trying to escape across it, the West Berlin government reported Wednesday.

Eight have been seriously injured.

The figure covers the period since last Aug. 13, the day the Communists closed the border inside the city. Work on the wall began at that time.

Warns Of Locusts

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Agriculture Department warned the mid-Atlantic seaboard Wednesday to prepare for swarms of 17-year locusts, whose appearance invariably causes alarm due to their large size and loud, incessant singing. The main damage from the locust is done by the females, who puncture holes in the branches of shrubs and trees to lay eggs.

Tidelands Battle Reaches Stalemate

While the muddle over Louisiana's share of tidelands oil revenues continues, the most pertinent question still lies unanswered. Why is not our state entitled to revenues from equal offshore drilling areas as specified for Florida, Texas and California?

It might be added that the people and officials in Mississippi and Alabama are asking the same question. But the fact that Louisiana is running a deficit of upwards to $73 million for the end of this fiscal year makes the matter more urgent for this particular state.

Governor Davis has been searching for ways to promote a tidelands settlement between the state and federal governments. Such accord would make way for the state's share of the $159 million now held in the oil escrow fund.

Florida, Texas, and California have been allowed to collect revenue from minerals taken from the offshore lands as far as three leagues (10 miles) out. But the federal government has claimed Louisiana, Mississippi and Alabama were entitled to revenues only to the three-mile limit.

The basic injustice in this matter may be traced directly to federal-state relationships in politics. If there ever was an opportunity for a state to show its real desire for a measure of independence, Louisiana has that opportunity now. Apparently Florida, Texas and California have already chosen to conform to more federal authority than the three "deep Dixie" states on the Gulf of Mexico.

Several years ago, Louisiana, Mississippi and Alabama studied a plan to present a united effort in the case. Then Louisiana began to make separate proposals to the federal government as the need for extra revenues became more apparent.

This week, Attorney General Jack Gremillion said he planned to write U. S. Solicitor General Archibald Cox in a new attempt to work out "complete concurrence" on the fixing of a base line for the tidelands dispute.

Meanwhile, Governor Davis and William G. Helis, chairman of the state mineral board, have received copies of a federal study of the tidelands matter. Last week, Davis held a strategy conference with three Louisiana congressmen.

With the tidelands battle spreading out on so many fronts, the issue has reached a stalemate. This leaves Louisiana facing a possible $73 million deficit with no means of raising extra revenues.

The Kennedy administration would like to hear a plea for more federal aid. Perhaps we should devise a method of meeting our state deficit first without such aid. This would put us in a better position later to insist on our fair share of the frozen tidelands funds.

Sonic Booms Assure Adequate Defenses

One application of the "boom or bust" philosophy is completely accurate and that is the story of the sonic boom created by airplanes flying at supersonic speeds.

To many people, startled by the abrupt sound, the sonic boom seems a noisy and unnecessary nuisance. But an absence of the boom would indicate we were no longer training crews to operate fighter planes and bombers capable of traveling faster than the speed of sound--about 762 miles per hour.

Without such equipment or the ability to use it, our defensive striking power would be bankrupt.

The booms are a by-product of a plane speeding along at 762 miles per hour. Shock waves form a cone at the nose of the airplane in the same manner that a "V" shape is outlined at the bow of a boat speeding over the water.

When the cone from the airplane reaches the ground, the boom follows the path of the aircraft. The higher the plane is flying, the less intense are the reports. And supersonic speeds are not now permitted below 35,000 feet.

The Strategic Air Command, whose B-58 bombers cause most of the sonic booms in this area, has listed seven points regarding sonic booms: they are not caused by irresponsible flying, are the result of necessary defense training, may cause damage to large window panes with internal stresses; may aggravate existing plaster cracks only if extensive glass damage is present; will not cause structural damage; will not cause injury to humans or animals; damages will be paid if incurred as a result of a sonic boom.

None of these overshadows the value of having a well-trained air force on guard at all times.

Oldest active military group in the United States is the Rhode Island Militia. It was chartered in 1741 to beat back marauding pirates.

The 100 Year Ride

False Logic Shown In Editorial On Voter Qualifications

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — An editorial in the New York "Times" on the subject of "qualifications" for voting has startled many of the constitutional lawyers of the country. The doctrine expressed is novel. It is that, when the fifteenth amendment was adopted just after the Civil War, this action gave Congress an overriding power to fix voter qualifications.

The "Times" editorial puts it this way:

"The Constitution does provide, in section 2 of article 1, that voters for Congress shall have the qualifications fixed by each state for electors of the most numerous house of its legislature. But this provision, like all others in the Constitution, is subject to the overriding limitations imposed after the Civil War in the fifteenth amendment. The fifteenth amendment says that the right to vote shall not be 'denied or abridged' on account of race or color. And it gives Congress the power to enforce that sweeping command by 'appropriate legislation.'"

MEANING

But, if this be true, lawyers are asking what was the meaning of the action taken—43 years after the fifteenth amendment was proclaimed — when the people of the United States in 1913 ratified the seventeenth amendment reiterating the exact language of the original article I?

For if an amendment adopted at a later date "overrode" its predecessors and opened the way to "appropriate legislation" on voter qualifications, then didn't the 1913 amendment supersede the 1870 amendment and restore to the previous language its full constitutional effect? Here is what the seventeenth amendment says:

"The Senate of the United States shall be composed of two Senators from each state, elected by the people thereof, for six years; and each Senator shall have one vote. The electors in each state shall have the qualifications requisite for electors of the most numerous branch of the state legislatures."

This relates specifically to the sole right of the states to fix voter "qualifications." It is obvious that every voter must always be given a square deal and cannot be denied his chance to vote only because of race or color. But to say that, because the constitution has forbidden the States to discriminate, they have thereby lost their power to set what they, in their judgment, consider a proper qualification for voting, is to argue that a mere act of Congress now can amend the Constitution.

The "Times" editorial does concede that the States still have some powers left. It says:

"The bill would leave the States free to impose their own educational qualifications for voting. They could require three grades of schooling, or they could make voters have a college degree. Those are objective qualifications, applicable to white and Negro alike. What a State could no longer do is adopt the vague standard of 'literacy' and then apply it unequally to citizens of different color."

But the Attorney General himself admits that he could prosecute such discrimination today under the fifteenth amendment, though he frankly states that a federal law would save him a lot of bother. What the proponents of the new legislation before the Senate this week rally are saying is that, because they suspect the good faith of certain States and do not wish to take the trouble to prove in court that those state officers have exercised discrimination, the provisions of the constitution which give the States the sole power to fix qualifications of voters can be ignored. If, indeed, a state can fix a third-grade education or a college degree as a standard for qualification, it will be asked: Why doesn't a state have the constitutional power to determine and prescribe its own standards of "literacy" and to apply them equally to all persons?

But if Congress has the "overriding" right to fix "standards," then, in an endeavor to abolish racial discrimination in factories, a law could be enacted setting "efficiency" standards in employment based on a fixed number of years of experience in a particular trade or profession. It could require an employer to hire, whenever there are enough applicants, at least one colored worker for every white employee. The argument could be made that "equal protection of the law," as set forth in the fourteenth amendment, overrides all other articles of the constitution.

REALITY

In reality, the Supreme Court in two decisions has declared that neither the fourteenth nor the fifteenth amendment gave any additional powers to Congress but merely forbade discrimination in respect to the use of existing powers.

There are plenty of ways, however, to circumvent the Constitution if the public is indifferent and accepts the doctine that "the end justifies the means." There is currently prevalent in some quarters a mood of impatience with the method of amending the Constitution prescribed in that document itself. The New York "Times" expresses something of this mood in the concluding paragraph of its editorial as follows: "It is time to put aside specious legal arguments and consider the real issue before the Senate and before the Country — the right of Negroes to vote."

Series Of Top-Secret Reports Reach Moscow From Tokyo

By FULTON LEWIS, JR.

WASHINGTON — Earlier this month the Kremlin received a series of top-secret reports from espionage agents operating out of Tokyo.

Contained in the reports was classified information about the American Nike battalions that safeguard Tokyo from enemy planes. The reports disclosed that headquarters for the Nike battalion was at Narashino. They listed the location of each Nike firing company, its radar unit and ordinance unit.

According to the reports, the Nike battalions contained both Nike Ajax and Nike Hercules ground-to-air missiles. Each firing company has nine firing units.

At the same time, reports from other agents reached Moscow containing extensive information about this country's Air Force base at Itami. They disclosed the number of planes using the base from August to December, 1961, the type of planes on base, and details about their performance.

EARLIER

Two months earlier, the Kremlin received reports from agents at Japan's Itazuke air force base. They disclosed that aircraft of South Korea, Thailand, Turkey and the United States flew out of the base.

Intelligence authorities link this sharp step-up in Soviet espionage to G. A. Zhukov, who recently visited Japan. He bore then the interesting title of Chairman, USSR Committee for Cultural Relations with Foreign Countries. He is affiliated also with the World Peace Council, but works closely with Soviet intelligence.

Traveling with Zhukov on his Tokyo jaunt was a Red espionage expert named Kovalenko. The Japanese-speaking Kovalenko is reported to have cemented ties with his Japanese agents and to have given them new instructions.

Many Soviet tipsters do not know that their information ends up in Kremlin hands. They turn their findings over to leaders of the Council Against A- and H-Bomb Tests in the "interests of peace." Leaders of that group, affiliated with the Communist-directed World Peace Council, shuttle the reports on to Russia.

Members of the Japanese Communist Party often turn information over to party leaders. They are told the information will be used for "peace agitation." In actuality, it is sent to the Kremlin.

Note: Shortly after the return of Zhukov from Japan, he was relieved of his post as Chairman of the Committee for Cultural Relations with Foreign Countries. Many took this to be a demotion, but experts note that he will now concentrate entirely on "journalistic" matters. They say this is a Soviet euphemism for espionage.

RED-FACED

Vice President Lyndon Johnson is red-faced over disclosures by the San Diego Union that federal funds totaling $26,200 were used to outfit a landing strip on his sprawling LBJ ranch.

Attempts were made by the Federal Aviation Agency to cover up the deal by calling the landing strip Johnson City Airport. Johnson City is about fifteen miles away. Its population is 611.

For $26,200 Johnson got navigational lights and radio instrumentation. The strip will be manned by FAA personnel.

Billie Sol Estes' Texas Tricks

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

PECOS, Tex.,—This Billie Sol Estes who improvised a maze of games which finally reached into the Department of Agriculture with embarrassing consequences to Vice President Lyndon Johnson is a hick beyond bounds of fiction. He is 37 years old, he often preached in bad grammar at the Church of Christ, he set up an undertaking palace on the ugly main street of Pecos with capacity enough for a vast holocaust, he segregated his own little girls from his own little boy in their own swim-pool, he planted thousands of ammonia fertilizer tanks on small-patch cotton farmers with potential capacity to fertilize the entire allowable national cotton acreages and, like a stupid clown, he let his "society editor" run a loud, exultant piece in his own paper which brought his whole cosmos crashing down.

JOURNALISM

His paper is called the Pecos Daily News. Pecos has 11,000 population, including infants and illiterates, and there was already in vigorous, going condition a twice-a-week paper call the Independent and Enterprise. However, the Independent and Enterprise is conservative and Estes is a frenzied Democrat so he had to horn into journalism, too.

The loud, exultant society was an account of the pilgrimage of Billie Sol and his modest, pretty wife, a hick town belle, to our nation's capital last January for a dinner at $100 a plate celebrating the first anniversary of President Kennedy's Inauguaration. It is commonly known in Pecos that neither Billie Sol nor Mrs. Estes ever climbed outside of any potation more sinful than a black cow with a double dollop of ice cream. They once gave a barbecue in their patio for a thousand guests with three steers turning on the spits and there must have been agony by night because average Texans have been known to tear down the Baker Hotel in Dallas brick-by-brick on big football nights.

Billie Sol bought two tables at $1,000 each for the inaugural anniversary ball and two tables at $1,000 each for another ball to pay the debt of the solemn referendum of 1960. At each gala, the Billie Sols and their guests sat right under Vice President Johnson's position on the holy of holies.

After the ball was over, and Mrs. Estes had returned to Pecos, Miss Ida Belle Riggins, the society editor of the News, wrote an account of the gala which fizzled like a seidlitz powder. It said in part: "'We enjoyed every minute of it but it is good to be back.'

"That was the opinion of Mrs. Billie Sol Estes who accompanied her husband and other Texans to Washington, D.C., to attend the inaugural anniversary dinner honoring John Fitzgerald Kennedy, President of the United States, last week.

"'The first we went to was a style show luncheon at the Sheraton Park Hotel,' Mrs. Estes smiled. Asked if she had brought any of the styles back to Pecos, Mrs. Estes laughed. 'The one I liked would have cost $800 and that was too much to pay for one outfit.

"'Thursday night we had a private dinner in the hotel for 60 friends. We didn't have to do any that. There were six round tables each seating ten people. It was very informal and lots of fun.'

"Among those attending the dinner Mrs. Estes mentioned Senator and Mrs. Yarborough (he is senior Senator from Texas), Congressman Jamie Whitten from Mississippi (who is head of the Appropriations Committee on Agriculture), Bill Morris, Assistant Secretary to the Secretary of Agriculture, and his wife, Alice."

There will be a pause for elucidation at this point. Congressman Whitten has gratuitously denied that there was anything questionable, and for a man of his shining Democratic integrity, it goes without saying, of course not. Anyway, nobody accused him. It just seemed interesting, that's all, that Lyndon Johnson's bosom buddy, Mr. Estes, was there with the chairman of the Appropriations Committee on Agriculture, in view of later disclosures that Billie Sol got favors of colossal financial value from the Department of Agriculture. Don't you think so?

And interesting, too, that Bill Morris, of the Department of Agriculture, and his wife were guests of the Estes at this gala dinner for 60, because only recently Mr. Morris was canned for failure to show up for questioning after a witness at an official court on inquiry in Texas had accussed him of accepting a hat worth $100 from Billie Sol. And Mrs. Morris had somehow landed on the payroll of Congressman Edmondson of Oklahoma, Democrat, of course, for $13,000 a year and on Billie Sol's payroll as Washington "columist" of the Pecos Daily News at $296 a month—for two months. Then the roof blew off. Mrs. Morris was canned from a job paying $14,000, and she resigned from Mr. Edmondson's staff and silently vanished from the editorial page of the Pecos Daily News. Who can say what her column was really worth?

BOX PARTY

Well, later there was a box party for 60 at the National Theatre and "completing the round of entertainments was a Sunday afternoon tea in the Lyndon Johnson' home, a three-story house formerly belonging to Perle Mesta."

Johnson went to Washington 39 year ago at $125 a month as third-string secretary to Congressman Dick Kleberg, of the King Ranch. He has been constantly in politics ever since. He is naturally frugal. He had, until it crashed only recently, a great, expensive private plane and he bought Perle Mesta's castle without apparent strain.

The Johnsons were real proud of the house and they showed Mrs. Billie Sol around "just like anyone else would."

Raising Chickens Or Rabbits

By MARTIN E. SEGAL

Whether you spent your childhood on a farm or grew up on city streets, it seems that as you get nearer retirement you dream of getting a small patch of land somewhere and raising chickens or rabbits, or eggs.

It's a common enough dream. And since it's only a dream, it mushrooms a bit so that besides the land and the chickens there's also the prospect of making enough money to live comfortably.

Is this dream valid?

Obviously, some retired couples are able to support themselves in such projects.

Whether this is a good fullume occupation depends upon too many factors to go into here.

But before counting on it, you should take a number of things into consideration and find out the answers to some important questions.

For those interested in the subject—and apparently a sufficient number are—the government has published a number of booklets on small animal raising. The order form is headed: "for hobby, for profit."

You can buy these booklets for between 5 and 20 cents. They'll tell you what breeds of animals to choose, where to buy stock, what equipment you'll need, the kinds and amounts of food necessary for the animals you choose to raise, how to handle them, and where to sell them after you've raised them.

If you want any of the booklets —dealing with hamster, squab, chinchilla, Guinea Pig, goose raising — write to the Government Printing Office, Washington, 25, D. C., and ask for the order form "Animal Raising."

Reading the books will be fun even if you're only slightly interested.

But by all means don't make up your mind to go into the small animal raising business on the basis of these books. Here are some things you should think about long and hard before making any decision:

1. Are you allowed to raise animals where you live or where you expect to live on retirement? If so, do you need any special permits? Many cities and suburban areas do not allow the breeding and keeping of farm animals. Is the animal you're considering included in this category? Check with the local health department and licensing authority.

2. Will you be able to sell the animals you raise? Shipping live animals a couple of thousand miles across country can be costly—and dangerous to the animals. So check to find out whether there's a local market. If you are thinking of raising laboratory animals — mice, guinea pigs, hamsters, etc.—check nearby city and county health authorities, laboratories, hospitals. Find out what type, age, size, and quantity of animals they buy. And whether a new supplier is needed. If you're thinking of raising food animals, check local wholesalers on the most sought-after breeds, and on whether there isn't a glut on the market already.

3. Do you have the patience and energy that will be required? Raising animals isn't like most other hobbies or parttime jobs. You can take a week end or a week off from fixing clocks or making ship models. But you can't take even a day off from feeding and cleaning and watering your live stock. It's generally a good idea to have at least one other person share this responsibility.

4. Do you expect more money from this activity than you can realistically make? Usually it takes years for small animal raising to produce a real income. But if you take the trouble to learn all you can about the animals you decide to breed, you can look forward to some regular extra income.

And remember, if you do make any money, you may have to pay income taxes on it, plus a self-employment Social Security tax.

(If you have any questions on retirement, write to Martin E. Segal care of this newspaper. Those of wide interest will be dealt with in future columns.)

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

APPLES, APPLES, AND APPLES

The adage, "An apple a day keeps the doctor away," received scientific support recently. According to Science News Letter, 1,300 volunteer students at Michigan State University acted as guinea pigs. The daily apple eating students made fewer calls to the health center than any of the others over a three year period. Was it the vitamin C in apples or the tranquilizing effect of chewing down to the core?

A dentist told me several years ago that eating apples is a good substitute for brushing the teeth after eating. It sounds logical, provided all teeth are used in the process. Rinsing the mouth with water immediately after eating also helps to wash away the food particles between the teeth.

We received a letter several months ago from a New Yorker on a comment we made relative to the trouble that followed in the Garden of Eden after Eve ate the apple. 'Twasn't the apple in the Garden of Eden that caused all the trouble—'twas the 'pair' on the ground wot done it," he wrote.

The vitamin C (ascorbic acid) content of an apple is nothing to brag about when compared to that found in citrus fruits and fresh tomatoes. The raw apple has 5 mg. of absorbic acid per 100 grams of the fruit as compared with 49 for oranges and 23 for tomatoes.

On the other hand, it is seldom realized that many vegetables in the freshly harvested state contain much more vitaim C than do these fruits.

Comparable amounts of raw fresh green peppers contain 120, guava 302, parsley 193, kale 115, broccoli 118, and mustard greens 102. Much of the vitamin content is lost during storage and processing.

Lettuce (18) and raw spinach (59) have lost most of their vitamin C content after wilting for several days. The vitamin C in root vegetables, tightly packed leaves of cabbage, and hard fruit diminishes more slowly.

The decrease in vitamin C during cooking varies with the method used but in general rarely exceeds 50 per cent of the amount present prior to processing.

Pine needles and green walnuts also are rich in vitamin C. So is an ordinary multiple vitamin capsule, which usually contains more than the daily requirements.

Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self addressed envelope accompanies request.

ASTHMATIC BRONCHITIS

G.E. writes: Is there any way to prevent bronchitis from leading to asthma?

REPLY

Yes — by having the bronchitis treated. Avoid all irritants, including smoking, and take care of respiratory infections as soon as they develop. Allergies, if present, should be treated via desensitization. The chances of developing asthma depend to a certain extent upon the progression of bronchitis and additional allergies.

PKU TEST

L.M. writes: How soon after the birth of a baby, born two months prematurely, can the urine test be make for PKU that causes mental retardation?

REPLY

The urine test is not reliable during the first three months unless it is positive. Blood tests are better because they detect phenylketonuria earlier.

SALT WATER GARGLING

D.K writes: Is plain salt or the iodized type best for gargling?

REPLY

Take your pick. The trace of iodine will not add to or subract from the value of the gargle. But iodine does mean a lot to the thyroid gland, when taken internally.

INJECTIONS FOR BURSITIS

A.V. writes: How good are injections for bursitis?

REPLY

Very good, provided the solution contains an adrenal hormone such as hydrocortisone.

MISSISSIPPI RULING

9 Segregation Laws Illegal

BILOXI, Miss. (AP)—U.S. District Judge Sidney C. Mize today declared nine Mississippi segregation statutes unconstitutional and upheld the right of three Negroes to unsegregated transportation service.

Mize ruled the suit by the Negroes was not a proper class action and that no relief may be granted to any other than that to which the plaintiffs are personally entitled.

The Negroes sought relief for themselves and other Negroes as a class action, but Mize ruled the plaintiffs failed to prove it was a class action.

The nine segregation laws ruled unconstitutional violated the 14th amendment to the U.S. Constitution, Mize said.

The laws pertained to separate but equal accommodations for persons of white and Negro races traveling by common carriers.

The suit was brought by Samuel Bailey, Joseph Broadwater and Burnett L. Jacobs, Negroes of Jackson against state Atty. Gen. Joe T. Patterson, the city of Jackson, its mayor and commissioners and chief of police, Jackson Municipal Airport Authority, bus and railroad companies.

The ruling did not disturb three of Mississippi's breach of peace statutes which were attacked by the three Negroes. The statutes deal with disorderly conduct and disturbance of public peace and were the statutes under which the "Freedom Riders" were arrested in Jackson last spring.

"The cases arising out of those arrests are now pending in the courts of the state of Mississippi," Mize's ruling said, "and this court should not attempt to determine the merits of those state court actions."

The ruling also said the plaintiffs "are not now entitled to any injunctive relief.

"It is discretionary with the court," the ruling said, "as to whether it will enjoin enforcement of an unconstitutional statute and it will not do so in the absence of a strong showing that the plaintiffs will suffer immediate and irreparable injury in the absence of injunctive relief."

Mize pointed out there had been no arrests or prosecution under the segregation statutes attacked in the case for many years and that the statutes had not been enforced.

Army Boss Stahr Accepts College Post

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of the Army Elvis J. Stahr Jr. has resigned, effective June 30, to accept the presidency of Indiana University.

President Kennedy accepted Stahr's resignation today "with regret and reluctance."

Stahr takes over the university office July 1, succeeding Dr. Herman B. Wells, who has been president for 25 years.

The shift had been announced in advance of the word from the White House by William Hickman, president of the university board of trustees.

An exchange of letters between Stahr and President Kennedy was made public by the White House.

Stahr recalled in his letter, dated Tuesday, that he left the presidency of West Virginia University to become Army secretary "only because I shared your conviction about the need for our country to develop a much stronger Army in a time of prolonged and serious external threat to the basic values of peace, freedom and human dignity."

Stahr added:

"The opportunity to lead one of America's great universities comes to few men even once in a lifetime. Yet, even now that I have been invited to lead one of the greatest, I would be reluctant to ask you to release me after a year and a half as your Army secretary were it not that the Army has moved during that period to a distinctly higher plateau and our basic objectives for it have now been clearly mapped and moved far along the road to accomplishment."

Kennedy's reply, dated today, said Stahr's "personal dedication to the task, and to the Army, has been an inspiration to the men and women of the United States Army."

"You can take up your new and important post at Indiana University with great satisfaction of a job well done, and a service truly performed to the government and the people of our country," Kennedy wrote.

Kennedy called Stahr's conduct of Army affairs an outstanding example of good management and said his policies of recognition of young talent, of examination and adoption of new doctrines and techniques, and emphasis on vigorous leadership for the Army "marks your tenure as Army secretary."

GOP Listens To Care Plan, Shuns Stand

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republican senators listened to an explanation of various health care plans for the aged today but came to no party stand on the politically explosive issue.

Sen. Leverett Saltonstall of Massachusetts, chairman of the conference of all GOP senators, described it as an educational session at which no effort was made to get a consensus of views.

Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois the party floor leader, had said in advance of the session that he hoped some consensus could be reached on a party position.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits of New York, who did most of the explaining at the closed meeting, told newsmen afterward that he was encouraged at prospects of some Republican support for his health care proposal.

Javits noted that he sponsored bills in 1960 and 1961 which were based on financing out of the general Treasury revenues.

But he said he came to the conclusion this year that the only health care legislation which could pass Congress would have to be based on increased taxes.

Therefore, he said, he modified his earlier measure to include such financing, but retained a proposal that beneficiary could take the federal aid and put it into a private insurance plan. That would be an alternative to government-administered plans.

Two Suspects To Be Returned For Trial Here

Two members of the Ouachita parish sheriff department Wednesday were en route to Seattle, Washington, to pick up two men wanted in Monroe.

Deputies W. O. Causey and Carl Gregory will pick up L. J. Hill and Robert A. Johnston from authorities, who are holding the men for local officers. Both men were recently released from other institutions.

Hill is wanted in Monroe for theft by check, valued at $1,750. His bond has been set at $2,500.

Johnston is charged with re-mortgaged property. His bond is $750.

Empty Pockets

LIVERPOOL, England (UPI)—Railway porter Stanley Mainey sent the British Revenue Service two empty pockets and a note: "You may as well have them—you've left me nothing to fill them."

A revenue official returned the pockets with a promise to give him a more generous tax allowance and replied: "I trust you will fill them now."

NEW COMMITTEE

Rep. John Plans Watch-Dog Bill

Rep. Mike John Jr. of Monroe today disclosed plans for a proposal to create a legislative committee empowered to investigate any charges of wrong - doing in state government.

The concurrent resolution has been pre - filed for the regular session that opens May 14th.

"I think I'll have support for it," John said.

The resolution would create the Joint Legislative Committee on Legislative Oversight, composed of five lawmakers with authority to investigate charges covering the following fields:

Mismanagement, fraud, misconduct, abuse of authority, or misuse, misinterpretation or misapplication of public funds and-or of laws or rules or regulations adopted for the administration of any board, commission, department, or agency of the state government.

The committee also would have authority to investigate any officer or employe of the state government.

"I want to establish a study committee responsible to the legislature, which is responsible to the people, for honest and efficient government," John said.

Per diem — $50 per day for committeemen while they are actually rendering service for the committee — would be paid out of the operating fund for the House of Representatives.

The committee would be composed of three House members and two senators, but John said he imagined amendments would be offered to increase the size of the committee.

Committeemen would have the authority to subpoena witnesses for testimony during investigations.

John said he was not admitting that wrong - doing exists in state government, but added, "The resolution creating the committee speaks for itself."

The resolution states, "With increasing frequency various boards, commissions, departments and agencies of the state of Louisiana, and the public officials and employees charged with the responsibility for administering them, have been made the subject of criticism and charges, among others, of mismanagement, abuse, misinterpretation of legislative intent, and operation under too lax laws."

John's resolution points out that it is the duty of the legislature to "determine the validity of such charges and criticism."

The committee would be authorized to "hold hearings, subpoena witnesses, administer oaths, require the production of books and records, punish for contempt, and provide for the prosecution, in accordance with the laws of this state, of any person who refused to testify or who is guilty of false swearing or of perjury."

The Monroe lawmaker explained that the committee, after its investigations, would report to the legislature with recommendations for legislation or proper action if necessary.

QUOTES

WASHINGTON — Soviet cosmonaut Gherman Titov, commenting on his meeting with U.S. astronaut John H. Glenn:

"Space is very big. It is endless. It is very difficult for one man . . . to know everything there. Two persons on a street at the same time notice different things. I am quite sure my discussion with Col. Glenn will be useful for him and me."

NEW YORK — Woman boss Margery Hurst, handing out free advice on employer-employee relations:

"I don't advocate the boss and secretary lunching together. I think the relation between the two should be kept on a business-like basis."

ATHENS — Secretary of State Dean Rusk, taking a cautious view of a possible thaw in the cold war.

"It is true that there may be the appearance of some slight improvement in the international scene and even this much is welcome. But it is a long way from the appearance to the reality, and the reality is not even in sight."

BOULDER, Colo. — Mrs. Florence Carpenter, the mother of the next American to be shot into space:

"It's absolutely fascinating. I'm as excited as he is. It's a very thrilling thing."

Six Jobless Negroes Arrive; 2 Praise Council

NEW YORK (UPI) — Six broke, jobless Negroes arrived here by bus today from New Orleans at the expense of the segregationist White Citizens' Council and found jobs awaiting them.

The six said they were happy to get the chance to come North. One of them, Roy Hamilton, 23, said he would like to strangle the members of the White Citizens' Council "one by one."

Another of the group, Leon Horne, 25, was a former Freedom Rider who served a 40-day jail term in Jackson, Miss., for his integrationist activities. He said he had taken advantage of the council and its head, George Singelmann, to get a return ride North.

"This is one way of getting even," he said.

Dr. Edward Lewis, executive director of the Urban League, greeted the shivering, shirt - sleeved Negroes with the news that a Baltimore, Md., contractor has offered jobs for all six. Lewis said a service union also had informed him it had jobs available.

The men were met by agents of the Travelers Aid Society and the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. The Negroes said they did not come here to join the welfare rolls, although one had only 45 cents in his pocket and another was flat broke.

Hamilton, who claimed he was arrested without cause five times in New Orleans and robbed of $5 by New Orleans police, said he thought the White Citizens' Council was trying to embarrass "one section of the country—New York —by using it."

Illegal Sale Of Liquor Charged

A West Monroe Negro, Margaret Johnson, is free Wednesday after posting a bond of $500 on a charge of selling beer on Sunday. She was apprehended by the Ouachita parish sheriff department on a warrant.

The woman, who operated the Lone Star Cafe, 1417 Ridge Drive, West Monroe, will be brought into Fourth District Court on the charge. The warrant was issued by the district attorney's office.

Airport Study Is Planned

Plans for a major improvement program at Selman Field airport will be discussed at 3 p.m. Thursday at a meeting of the Monroe Chamber of Commerce aviation committee.

Louis D. Smith, committee chairman, said that Finance and Utilities Commissioner H. W. McSherry will be present, to work with the group on the recommendations.

The session will be held in the MCC board room in the Virginia Hotel.

Free Paint Job

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (UPI) — Dr. James H. Allen, 36, got his "stolen" sports car back Wednesday with a complimentary bright red paint job.

Allen left the car in a hospital parking lot the other day. So did a woman patient, who ordered repair shop operator Earl Boyd to pick up her car and paint it while she was hospitalized.

The woman called Boyd Wednesday to ask why her car hadn't been picked up and Boyd discovered that the brightly painted auto he had outside his shop was the one reported stolen by Allen.

Gremillion Says $80-Million Estimate Wrong

BATON ROUGE (UPI) — Atty. Gen. Jack Gremillion today denounced a published report that Louisiana could only expect up to $80 million from an escrow fund of oil revenues when its coastal boundary dispute with the federal government is settled.

The report, quoting sources in Washington, said Louisiana would receive a minimum of 4 per cent of the escrow funds if current sketches of the state's offshore holdings are accepted.

The escrow fund now totals $459 million of royalties from production and bonuses paid by oil companies for leases off the Louisiana coast.

"I would not have the audacity to even think of an agreement with such a small amount," Gremillion said, referring to the published report. "I couldn't even accept this in good conscience, much less recommend it to the governor and the legislature."

The report said the state could expect $11.5 million in from areas along the coast where the state and federal government agree upon the coastal boundary, and up to $69 million from areas where the state and federal government are still in disagreement.

Gremillion said the report was "utterly ridiculous. There is definitely no agreement either proposed or signed." He said the report was probably issued by "one of those federal career men who have been against us all along."

Tourist Potential Slowly Developing

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Louisiana, working hard on tourist hospitality, so far has found a snag in the lack of a uniform traffic fine and bond system for highway offenders.

William Welch, director of the state Tourist Bureau, said the state is swiftly developing its tourist potential.

"But this traffic fine and bond system, which varies throughout the state, is hurting what we're trying to do."

He has heard some state troopers and sheriff's deputies criticize the existing lack of uniformity, Welch said.

For instance, while the average speeding fine plus court costs runs $37.50, Welch commented, the bond might be set as high as $75.

"In some parishes, I understand, you may have to pay only $5 plus court costs, but depending upon the parish or judge, it could run as much as $250."

Another factor that doesn't contribute to tourist cases is the fact that most courts won't accept checks.

"We've had a lot of complaints about this, because it works a hardship," Welch said.

Auto tourists arriving in Louisiana now are greeted with big bill boards showing a smiling state trooper with the words, "Hospitality Starts With I."

Troopers have been trained to be the state's highway ambassadors. But they have no control over the parish court actions, and an out - of - state license plate doesn't mean anyone wants to overlook traffic violations.

Sen. Sylvan Friedman of Natchez, one of the top leaders in tourist promotional efforts, said he recognized the problem.

State troopers usually halt speeding visitor when they're going 20 or more, the lawmaker said.

Under that the officers may tolerate, but over that the driver just doesn't have an excuse, Friedman said. "And he wouldn't have an excuse for going more than 10 miles over the speed limit in his own state or anywhere else and knows it."

Welch suggested some arrangement to keep traffic bonds within reasonable range for the normal fine for the offense involved. This could go a long way toward easing tourist irritations, he said.

Tourism brought $561 million to Louisiana last year, with the state picking up about $39 million of that amount in revenues. It's the state's fourth largest industry.

From January through March, Welch said, the tourist bureau handled 4,387 letters from prospective tourists seeking information about the state.

TB Likely To Remain In U.S. Far Into Future

Citing tuberculosis as a "global problem," Dr. Douglas Kelly, tuberculosis consultant for the Northeast Regional Chest Clinic, told the board members of the Ouachita TB and Public Health Association that it is "not likely we will eradicate tuberculosis from the United States as long as there are high TB rates in countries with which we have dealings."

The physician said much had been accomplished in the medical and research fields in the battle against tuberculosis, but "in the final analysis, it is still up to the health departments and voluntary associations to search out cases and see that patients have immediate medical care."

Dr. Kelly said Ouachita parish has 134 cases, 50 of which were new.

A total of 361 patients were seen in the chest clinics during 1961. The clinics are for 13 surrounding areas.

Hugh Balfour was elected to fill the vice - president's position, which was vacated by Herbert Waldrop.

Mrs. Vera Chambers, field consultant for Ouachita parish, told the group of a Christmas Seals Clinic for the state, which will be held in Monroe during July.

Also announced for the coming year will be a doctors and nurses' seminar, slated for this fall in Monroe.

SORRY WRONG NUMBER

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP) — At a recent Democratic Party dinner a man arrived early and mingled with others attired in tuxedos. While standing around, he was handed a slip of paper with a number on it by Jim Foley, the caterer.

Later as the program time neared, the man was seen near the head table.

"Are you sure you're at the right station?" Foley asked. "I don't think you're waiting on the head table."

"Waiting on it?" the man said. "I'm sitting at it."

Chief Kelly Withdraws Plan For Dismissals

Two resolutions dealing with grounds for dismissal from either the police or fire departments were withdrawn Wednesday night during a meeting of the Monroe Police and Fire Civil Service Board.

Chief of Police James C. Kelly, Jr., who had introduced the resolutions and asked for adoption by the board, withdrew both after it was pointed out that both were already covered by rules in the Civil Service manual.

The action was taken at a meeting of board, held in the Monroe court room, second floor of the city hall, at 8 p.m.

Following the withdrawal of the proposals by Kelly, the board handled swiftly the routine business. Seven members of the police department were promoted to patrolmen first class since all had passed the tests and worked the required length of time. They were W. E. Watson, D. M. Hill, A. L. Moore, G. L. Earl, S. D. Scott, A. W. Calhoun and E. W. Webb.

Harry H. Petty was confirmed as a patrolman.

The board is composed of Fred Petty, W. L. Husted, R. C. Sparks, R. T. Hawthorne representing the fire department, and Leo Earl of the police department.

Youth Held As Theft Suspect

A 19 - year - old Monroe man, Roy Edward Barmore, was booked late Wednesday by Monroe police after a warrant was sworn out charging him with theft. He was taken into custody at his residence, 1512 South Fourth street, Monroe.

The warrant was sworn out by Barmore's sister-in-law, Alice Faye Barmore.

TOGETHERNESS PROBLEM

Problems Facing Gallo Gangsters

NEW YORK (AP) — Brooklyn's Gallo brothers have a trying togetherness problem.

Any time they get together for a christening, a wedding feast or maybe just a bottle of beer in Grandma Gallo's kitchen, they run the risk of being arrested for consorting with known criminals. Namely, themselves.

Any time they venture forth alone, which isn't recommended in their section of the Red Hook waterfront, they run the even greater risk of being gunned down by a rival mob.

Both alternatives have been visited on the Gallos in abundance since they stirred up Brooklyn's first open gang war in more than 30 years by challenging the long entrenched Joe Profaci mob for a bigger piece of the rackets action.

The resulting unpleasantness, which so far has accounted for 6, possibly 7 deaths, 20 assassination attempts and more than 100 arrests, may not have established the brothers Larry, Joe and Albert Gallo as the toughest hoods in the East, as they fancy themselves, but it has spotlighted their talents for sass and brass, in case anyone is interested in the television rights.

Live or canned, the Gallos would make a fascinating television series, a sort of "Candid Camera" version of "The Untouchables" with overtones of "Romper Room" and "Who Do You Trust?"

What producer wouldn't weep tears of joy over a plot that had the bad buys saluted as heroes one day for rescuing six kids from a tenement house fire and denounced as inhumane bums the next for keeping a hungry lion in the cellar to frighten shakedown victims?

The Gallos shrugged off both incidents with the same arrogant sneer that Joey used in greeting Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, when the latter was counsel for the Senate rackets investigating committee: "Nice carpet ya got here, kid. Be good for a crap game."

Lines like that, plus the fact that the brothers are hauled in for questioning any time a body is found with more than two bullets in it, have added to growing Gallo folklore.

Crazy Joe or Joey the Blond, as he is more familiarly known, is almost as famous for his forensic skill in addressing judges and reporter as he is for his complete insudibility in the presence of grand juries and district attorneys.

He has been known to refuse to talk even to his own lawyer at a trial but to have no qualms about jumping up to threaten a witness with "How'd ya like a bullet in the head?"

SINGER Rosemary Clooney sits in a Santa Monica, Calif., courtroom after her tearful testimony that actor Jose Ferrer (left) engaged in affairs with other women since the beginning of their marriage. She is sueing for divorce and Ferrer is fighting it. When she cried on the witness stand and needed a handkerchief, Ferrer quickly walked to the stand and gave her his. (AP Wirephoto)

Singer Says No To Reconciliation

By JAMES BACON

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Jose Ferrer after hearing Rosemary Clooney accuse him of infidelity while siring five children at home, answered her by pleading for a reconciliation.

"I'd come home tonight," Ferrer said.

His blonde wife tearfully testified Wednesday in their contested divorce trial that the Oscar winner had "affairs with other women from the beginning of our marriage."

Asked to comment on Ferrer's desire to come home, Miss Clooney, 33, answered "I guess he would, if he could—and that's my only comment."

The trial is in recess until Tuesday.

Superior Judge Mervyn Aggeler suggested that both sides use the time to resolve their tangled financial situations.

"From what I've heard," the judge said, "both parties are as confused as the court."

Both Ferrer, 49, and his wife have given graphic accounts of how it is possible in Hollywood to earn millions and still be broke.

Miss Clooney, for instance, testified that she grossed $30,613.43 in 1955 and wound up with a net profit for the year of $4,190.38.

And that, apparently, was one of her better years because during eight years of marriage she grossed a total of $2,060,667.97—and now owes $63,632.99.

"Besides being insolvent," she said, "my doctor told me a week ago that I have an ulcer."

Testimony about Ferrer's alleged misconduct came after three days of detailed—and often dull—financial testimony.

Miss Clooney was choked with sobs as she accused her husband of sexual infidelity. The drama was so intense that Ferrer himself brushed away tears.

Then the singer described a meeting at which she said Ferrer told her that he could not promise to be a better boy. At this she cried uncontrollably.

Regaining composure after a few minutes, she asked her lawyer for a handkerchief.

Ferrer quickly jumped up from his seat at the counsel table and gave his own to his sobbing wife.

She accepted it without looking at him.

Liberals See Breakthrough On Civil Rights

WASHINGTON (AP)—Northern backers of a bill designed to prevent racial discrimination in voter literacy tests said today if they lose this fight their hand may be strengthened for future civil rights battles.

Sens. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., and Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., members of a bipartisan, self-styled liberal bloc, spoke in separate interviews as debate on the disputed measure rolled into its ninth day.

At issue is a move by the Senate leaders, Democrat Mike Mansfield of Montana and Republican Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, to pass legislation exempting any citizen with a sixth-grade education from having to pass a state literacy test as a requirement to vote in a federal election.

Dirksen told the Senate Wednesday the bill is needed to curb what he called intolerable abuse of literacy tests to prevent Negroes from registering and voting in some areas. The Republican leader also contended the measure is constitutional—a point disputed by Southern opponents.

Mansfield and Dirksen are moving to force test votes Wednesday on the measure. Preliminary nose counts indicate it is uncertain whether they can muster the two-thirds majority vote needed to clamp a filibuster-ending time limit on the debate.

It takes two-thirds of the senators present and voting to invoke the time limit, known as cloture.

Javits said that "more and more this is developing into a fight over whether it is possible to get cloture on any civil rights bill under the Senate rules. It has never been done before, but there is a chance for a breakthrough."

Javits said the outcome could show a majority in favor of the bill and in favor of cloture but unable to get the two-thirds margin needed to choke off debate.

"That," he said, "would make it crystal clear what we face in situations where the majority can be defeated. It would be a tremendous argument for a change in the cloture rule."

Javits and Hart both said their group is mapping strategy now for an effort when the new Congress is sworn in next January to change the cloture rule and some other rules. They want to make it easier to halt filibusters.

The Senate code carries a provision forbidding time limits on the debate of motions to change any rule. Hart and Javits call this a built-in protection for filibusters.

Fist Fight Breaks Out Between Labor Leaders

WASHINGTON (AP)—A continuing feud between the two top leaders of the International Union of Electrical Workers (IUE) is said to have erupted in a fist fight—their second one.

The latest exchange of blows between President James B. Carey of the AFL-CIO union and Secretary-treasurer Al Hartnett is reported to have occurred after an argument at an IUE board meeting Wednesday.

Neither man could be reached for comment.

Hartnett would bring a decided physical edge into any fight with Carey. Hartnett is 42, and packs about 180 pounds on a 6-foot-3 frame, while Carey is 50, stands 5-feet-8 and weighs about 160.

Carey is said to have lunged at Hartnett and struck him—in full view of the 31-member board. Hartnett's reported response was a blood-drawing punch to Carey's nose.

Board members reportedly piled in and at least one was knocked off his feet.

Then, the meeting was recessed for a day on complaints of Mary Callahan of Philadelphia that it was more than she and the other woman on the board, Evelyn McGarr of Montreal, could take.

The two union leaders have been at odds for a long time, evidently in a contest for power. They reportedly came to blows last summer—Hartnett winding up with a scratched face—but both men still deny it.

Reds To Draft Farm Workers

HONG KONG (AP) — Communist China plans to mobilize at least five million people from its major cities to take part in agricultural production, persons arriving from the mainland reported Wednesday.

The arrivals described the mobilization as a desperate effort to avert another agricultural failure.

Communist China has suffered three consecutive years of bad harvests caused partly by natural calamities and partly by poor planning. Acute food shortage is reported in many areas.

To lure city workers to the countryside, it was reported, the Communists have drastically cut food rations in many major cities and increased them in the country.

Fallout Uncertainty Alarms Public

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Writer

OAK RIDGE, Tenn. (AP)—Outside, rain spattered down.

A frightened mother kept her children home from school. Rain, she believed, would bring down deadly amounts of radioactive fallout.

Other parents at times of nuclear tests, and even long afterward, won't allow their children to drink milk for fear it is contaminated with radioactive iodine that would give them thyroid cancer.

A small boy broke his finger. His mother is convinced it healed slowly because fallout had weakened his bones.

Scientists are generally dismayed over such extreme reactions to real or potential hazards in fallout.

They know what happens to animals given pretty good wallops of radiation, or big doses of strontium-90 or radioactive iodine. They know, for example, that strontium goes to bones, and can produce bone cancer in animals. But it takes 1,000 to 10,000 times the amount of strontium represented so far in fallout to produce the bone cancers in animals.

Still, that gives them cause for caution about what the far more tiny doses from fallout might do to humans over the years. But the scientist's phrase of "might be hazardous" is sometimes taken to mean any amount will be hazardous.

Federal radiation experts have established what they believe are sound safety limits regarding special-threat fallout atoms. These are the maximum amounts of radioactive strontium, iodine, or cesium which they believe a person could take in or be exposed to daily and still not be harmed. Fallout in the air, in milk or food, rarely has exceeded these limits, and then only for brief periods.

But they cannot offer absolute proof of no bodily harm from test fallout. Full knowledge about such radiation is lacking.

This uncertainty creates an issue in discussions of the need for nuclear testing, the moral right to test, and the fear that testing enhances prospects of ultimate war.

New research experiments are aimed at learning what the somatic or bodily effects of low-level, chronic radiation may be.

One project being started here at the Oak Ridge National Laboratory by a team of specialists will involve a colony of 100,000 mice, quite apart from the mice used in genetic studies.

Hundreds to thousands of mice will be exposed to various dosages of gamma rays from radioactive cesium over periods of days to months.

Then they will be observed and examined during their lifespans—normally about two years or so—to see if they live less long or get more cancers, leukemias and other ailments than mice not so exposed, explains Dr. A. C. Upton, a pathologist and physiologist.

Little is known about the long-term effects of low amounts of external radiation, he adds. Mice here will receive total dosages of five to 50 roentgens. That is about as low an amount as it is practical to give and still hope to see any measurable results among hundreds of mice.

It is already known that a dosage given at a low rate generally has no more than one-quarter to one-third the effect on mice as the same amount given rather rapidly.

Life shortening from radiation has been observed so far in mice, Dr. Upton adds. But little information is available about animals larger than mice, and about humans.

Irradiated mice usually die of about the same causes as normal mice, but they die sooner. The timetable for death is advanced. The more radiation received, the earlier the appearance of diseases of old age, such as cancer.

At the Argonne National Laboratory, near Chicago, the Atomic Energy Commission also is setting up still another colony of 10,000 mice.

Some of these will be dosed with varying amounts of strontium-90 and perhaps other fallout atoms to pinpoint effects. The amounts will be about 1,000 times or so larger than the amounts humans now are exposed to from fallout. Out of this will come more solid clues to human hazards from long-lasting fallout atoms such as strontium and cesium.

Like Dr. Upton's project, the Argonne research may take up to 10 years to draw significant new clues to put the human hazards into clearer focus.

These projects represent just some of the research to assess the real influence of radiation on human life.

"Many of us are concerned not so much about present levels of fallout, or what may come in the near future, so much as the effects if tests are held repeatedly to add greatly to existing radiation levels," Dr. Upton said.

The research seeking basic information could also produce extremely valuable dividends, he adds, such as:

Sounder estimates of the protections really needed for workers in the atomic age as atomic energy power plans expand.

Opportunities to test, in animals, for radiation sickness, or protection against genetic or somatic hazards.

Clearer understanding of how radiation acts to kill cancer cells or combat leukemia, or how large doses act to bring on these diseases.

Clues to the immunity reaction by which a living body rejects borrowed organs, and study of methods to make borrowed organs survive to save lives.

Clues to the action of some viruses which, like genes, are regarded as bundles of genetic information to dictate what happens to cells and organisms.

These may well overshadow the ability finally one day to state precisely the risks from fallout.

As of now, in the words of one U.S. Public Health Service expert, fallout "is a matter for concern, but not alarm."

Many but not all scientific judges would agree.

Eichmann Admits Terrible Wrong

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP)—Adolf Eichmann says a terrible wrong has happened to the Jewish people and everything should be done to prevent a repetition, the Tel Aviv newspaper Maariv reports.

The newspaper said Eichmann assailed anti-Semitism during his meeting with his wife Sunday night in Ramleh Prison, where he is awaiting the outcome of an appeal from a death sentence imposed for his part in the Nazi slaughter of millions of Jews.

"Anti-Semitism is a terrible mistake and anti-Semitic movements should no longer be allowed," Eichmann was quoted as telling his wife. "A terrible wrong has been done to the Jewish people. What has happened cannot be undone, but everything should be done to prevent a repetition."

His wife, Vera, reportedly replied: "I and the children — we know you are innocent. Justice will prevail and you will return to us."

The newspaper gave the account of Eichmann's meeting with his wife, who was brought from Argentina to Israel incognito and and spirited out of the country immediately after the meeting.

Eichmann was told of his wife's arrival in Israel only two hours before she entered the prison accompanied by Liesa Grude, secretary of Eichmann's German defense counsel, Dr. Robert Servatius.

Eichmann and his wife faced each other through a glass partition.

His wife told Eichmann that she was going to leave Argentina soon and live in Germany again and that their two daughters-in-law are pregnant.

The next day Eichmann wrote the inspector general of prisons to thank him for the visit with his wife.

The newspaper also reported that Eichmann told his wife a 16-year-old Canadian orphan girl who admires him had asked him to be her father and that he had decided to "adopt" her. He reportedly asked his wife to convey his decision to the girl, who he said had sent her request to Dr. Servatius.

In Cologne, Germany, Servatius termed the adoption report complete nonsense.

"I've heard of some nutty things, but this is about the craziest I've come across in a long time," Servatius said.

Royalty Does Twist At Juliana Ball

AMSTERDAM, the Netherlands (AP) — Royalty did the twist at Queen Juliana's ball afloat Wednesday night and an expert witness reported Princess Margaretha of Sweden far outclassed Britain's Prince Philip.

"Prince Philip was a good sport about it," said one of the Dutch guests on the cruise aboard the Dutch luxury liner Oranje. "He was smiling and gay, but you would hardly call his dancing of the twist abandoned."

"Margaretha was really good," reported Cosimo Gile, the Italian musician whose band played the music.

"She was outstanding at the twist when dancing with some young Italian. It was an exhibition; people backed away to give them room and to applaud."

The evening's cruise from Amsterdam was the final of a two-day celebration of the 25th wedding anniversary of Queen Juliana and Prince Bernhard. The festivities brought to the Netherlands five monarchs and nearly 100 lesser titles.

After dinner, the Oranje put in at the port of Ymuiden to take on 180 college friends of the Dutch princesses, Beatrix and Irene.

The guests at first were hesitant to take the dance floor, but at a signal from Queen Juliana the Italian band hit up a rhumba. Juliana and Bernhard began dancing.

When others hung back, the Dutch queen clapped her hands in schoolmistress fashion and the young people poured on to the floor.

The music got louder and faster. Finally the Italian maestro swung into the latest dance craze.

Prince Bernhard twisted all over the floor, witnesses said. Queen Juliana didn't.

Gile said Philip's wife, Queen Elizabeth II, also danced to his music but she didn't do the twist or anything like it.

Asked how she danced, he replied: "Like a queen. Beautifully and with great dignity."

Some of the royal guests did not reach their hotel until almost 5 a.m., employes of the hotel reported.

Arab Socialism Launched With Old Reform Law

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP) — Syria's new government launched its program of Arab socialism by reinstating the country's 1958 land reform law Wednesday.

The law, a keystone in the program begun when Syria was a part of President Nasser's United Arab Republic, divided the country's large feudal estates among landless peasants.

After the army took Syria out of the U.A.R. and a conservative Parliament was elected, the government of Dr. Marouf Dawaliby reversed the land reform program and displaced many of the peasants. Army leaders gave this as one of the chief reasons for their coup in late March, which threw out the parliamentary government.

Serve at least one food of good quality protein at every meal—eggs, lean meat, poultry, fish or cheese, nutritionists suggest.

Way Cleared For Classroom Aid Agreement

WASHINGTON (AP)—The way was clear today for a try at a House-Senate compromise on a bill to provide $1.5 billion in federal aid to build college classrooms.

The House Rules Committee removed its roadblock Wednesday after being assured that House participants in a joint conference would not accept a $900-million scholarship provision in the Senate bill.

The committee's handling of the higher education measure offered a rich example of the high art of legislating.

Rep. Howard W. Smith, 79, D-Va., chairman of the rules committee, readily admitted he initiated the proceedings whereby his committee sought to dictate the terms under which the House bill could be sent to conference.

Another member of the committee, Rep. Richard Bolling, D-Mo., observed that it didn't seem a proper function of the rules committee.

"I confess it is somewhat unusual," Smith replied. "But sometimes you have to do unusual things to get along with legislation. And this is not the first time I have offended in that direction."

The House passed a bill last Jan. 30 providing $300 million a year for five years in grants and loans for the construction of academic facilities. A scholarship provision had been stricken in advance by sponsors of the bill because heavy opposition to it threatened the entire measure.

The Senate, following President Kennedy's request for student aid, provided for 212,500 federal scholarships in the bill it passed Feb. 6. The construction section carried the same amount of money as the House bill but it was all for loans, with no grants.

Rules committee approval was needed to send the bill to conference. Smith, who was one of those opposing scholarships, took no official action.

He disclosed Wednesday, however, that he sought out Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, D-N.Y., chaiman of the House Education and Labor Committee, two weeks ago and got his private assurance that the House would stand firm against scholarship provision in conference. Powell would be chairman of the House conferees.

Smith had Powell give the same assurance in public Wednesday before the full committee.

"I want this in the open so no one can accuse you or me of bad faith," Smith explained.

The committee voted 8 to 6 to send the bill to conference. The House must still approve the committee action before the conference can actually begin.

TO CHILE ON SCOOTER!

Scene To Shift In Love Affair

NEW YORK (AP)—An international love affair that blossomed in the Kentucky Blue Grass country will start moving toward Santiago, Chile, this week — on a scooter.

The swain, Jim Owen, 21, will take off on his small Italian motor scooter for a 12,000 mile trip to keep a Christmas Eve date with his Latin-American beauty, Ximina Villarroel.

Ximinia, 20, met Jim last February while she was on a two-week student exchange trip to the University of Kentucky where he was a senior majoring in English.

It was love at first sight, he said, but she had to return home.

Jim was so smitten, he quit school.

To prove the depth of his affection, he promised to ride his scooter over 12,000 miles of jungle and mountain roads and to meet his dark-eyed senorita this December 24 in front of her house in Santiago, Chile.

Young Owen, a Lexington dentist's son, has packed his scooter with 75 pounds of gear, including 22 pounds of books, and clothes and camping equipment which will be suitable for both the Guatemalan tropics and the Bolivian highlands.

He is also carrying $350 for the journey which he estimates will take about 15 months round trip.

Owen plans to leave from New York and cross into Mexico at Laredo, Tex. From there he said he will travel on the Pan American Highway to Panama and transfer his scooter by boat to Venezuela.

Then he will push on to Bogota, Colombia, to Lima, Peru, and up to 17,000 feet to Cuzco, Peru. He will roll on to La Paz, Bolivia, across the Andes to Argentina and then back again to Chile.

Owen says his father is not too happy about the venture and that senorita Villarroel's father doubts he will make it.

However, there are some more optimistic parties willing to take a gamble on youthful love.

The managing director of the motor scooter company gave Jim a free machine valued at $475 and a large oil company has donated enough gas for him to get there and back. Several newspapers and magazines have agreed to buy articles based on the trip.

Man Killed

CHURCH POINT, La. (AP) — Curley Joseph Doucet, 39 year-old oil field worker from Iota, was killed Wednesday when he fell 30 feet from a drilling rig after apparently losing his balance.

Action At Polk

FT. POLK, La. (AP) — More than 20,000 troops went into simulated action today, their recent gripes all but forgotten.

Most of the troops came from the Texas 49th Armored Division. The 15-day exercise, called "Iron Dragoon," is the largest Army maneuver of its kind this year.

It is the first time an armored National Guard division has participated in a strategic Army Corps exercise.

Brig. Gen. John A. Beall, chief of staff for the III Army Corps commands the exercise.

With reference to recent dissatisfaction and demonstrations, Gen. Herbert B. Powell, commanding general of the Continental Army Command, said in New York that the trouble which developed recently was the old story of "one rotten apple spoiling the barrel."

And he admitted there was not enough equipment to go around.

Powell predicted "a lean summer" ahead of National Guardsmen performing annual training duty, noting that they would continue to face several familiar difficulties.

"Everything will be overcrowded at Ft. Polk, where most of the units of the 4th Army Area will do their training, he said.

Kennedy Speech

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — President Kennedy carries his fight for his foreign trade program to New Orleans Friday with a major policy address scheduled on one of the world's largest wharves, along the banks of the Mississippi River.

In addition to his speech scheduled for 10:20 a.m. (CST) Kennedy will give an informal talk to most of the city's school children at City Hall during his two and one-half hour visit.

A Kennedy aide said the President had handpicked New Orleans for the speech. "The President considers the foreign trade legislation the most important item before this session of Congress," the aide said. "And he considers New Orleans a focal point in the nation's foreign trade setup."

Kennedy will fly to New Orleans from Washington Friday morning and will fly to Eglin Air Force Base, Fla., afterwards before returning to Washington.

Voting Suit

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — A federal voting suit against Plaquemines Parish headed into its third and possibly final day today with eight more defense witnesses scheduled to testify.

The Justice Department seeks an injunction against Mrs. Mary Ethel Fox, parish vote registrar, and Lionel L. Lassus, her deputy, to prevent alleged discrimination against Negroes. U. S. Dist. Judge Robert A. Ainsworth Jr. is hearing the case.

Subpoenas Issued

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP) — Subpoenas for ten persons have been issued by the State Civil Service Department for Wednesday's hearing on an appeal by state highway employes fired for alleged irregularities.

The hearing on the firing of Charles E. Brasher, Bossier City, project engineer, is set for 9 a.m. in Baton Rouge.

Those for whom subpoenas were issued were Charles Reynolds, Tommy Reynolds, Edgar Gould, Billy Young, Henry Brown, Otis Collum, and E. R. Woodman, all employes of the department; R. C. Bridges, L. T. Brown and Marvil Taylor, all contractors.

Boy Strangled

EUNICE, La. (AP)—Five-year-old John H. Sanders was accidentally strangled Wednesday, apparently when he leaned out of a window and the window slid down on him.

He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Sanders.

Two Escapees Back In School After Capture

Two students are back in the Louisiana Training Institute after escaping Wednesday morning and allegedly taking two vehicles. One of the vehicles belonged to the school.

The two youths were taken into custody by state police on the Wellerman road, just out of West Monroe.

The truck belonging to the school was found abandoned shortly after authorities received a report from G. E. Harris, 710 North 7th Street, West Monroe, that his vehicle was missing from the Illinois Central freight office.

The two were in the Harris automobile when apprehended.

NEWS CONFERENCE

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy will hold a news conference at 11 a.m. Thursday.

The White House said the conference is being shifted from the State Department auditorium to the Indian Treaty room in the executive office building because the auditorium is being used all week by the committee for space research.

FROM PROVIDENCE MAN

Authorities Told Of Money 'Loan'

ST. LOUIS (Special) — Lola Perkins, who along with her husband heads a group known as the United Rock of Charity, admitted to authorities here Wednesday they obtained $365,000 from a wealthy Lake Providence cattle owner.

But he claimed it was just a loan and no fraud was involved. The Perkinses are Negroes.

They are accused of swindling Robert Amacker of Lake Providence out of the money.

Quentin H. Gansoser, Jr., assistant circuit attorney, said the Perkins woman defended as valid a will filed on behalf of the late Magnolia J. Ward naming the Perkinses as beneficiaries of a trust fund purportedly worth $500,000 to $1 million.

She claimed the trust fund is sufficient security for Amacker's loan."

Gansoser quoted the Perkins woman as saying: "I could and would pay him back now. But first, I have to meet the conditions of the will. Besides, I can't do anything about it until civil and criminal suits pending against me are dismissed."

Authorities have said the Ward estate was never worth more than $1,000.

The Perkins woman is charged in three warrants with stealing more than $30,000.

Perkins, 59, who calls himself Rev. Perkins, has been charged with stealing and is held in lieu of $50,000 bond.

Authorities said the pair filed a phony will for the Ward woman which provided for them to receive the estate and use it in a so-called charitable organization, the United Rock of Charity, to be used to build churches and for other religious projects.

Female members of this group call themselves "plucks" and men are known as "rocks."

The Perkins woman calls herself the "supreme ruler" and Perkins is known as the "supreme master."

The Perkins woman was arrested Wednesday night here and her husband two weeks ago.

Federal, state and local authorities began an inquiry into the case at the request of attorneys for a land firm of which Amacker is an officer.

Bureau Probes Alleged Beating

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — H. G. Maynor, special agent in charge of the New Orleans FBI office, has confirmed that the FBI is investigating the alleged beating of a 21 year-old former jockey in Jefferson Parish.

Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy ordered the probe.

One Jefferson Parish deputy has been suspended in connection with the alleged beating of James LeMay outside a motel where he lived.

Parade To Start

WINNSBORO (Special) — Winnsboro will launch its annual clean up campaign for the cleanest city contest Monday with a parade led by the Winnsboro High School band at 4:30 p.m.

District judging for the contest sponsored by the Winnsboro Garden Club, will be held May 28.

AT LOUISIANA COLLEGE

Winnfield Girl 'Queen Of May'

PINEVILLE (Special) — Portraying the goddess of "Love and Beatuy," Ann Sowers, 19-year-old Winnfield sophomore will reign as Louisiana College Queen of May in the school's 1962 May Pageant, Friday at 8 p.m.

The event, annually one of the colleges most colorful is again being sponsored by the Booster Club. It will be staged in front of the Weathersby Fine Arts Building.

Sherry Milligan, Kenner sophomore, will be Maid of Honor and will portray the Goddess of Night.

Cecilia Pate Ward, famous Alexandria mezzo soprano and L. C. alumna, will be honored guest performer for the occasion.

Queen Ann, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Sowers of Winnfield and a music education major, has twice been a runnerup in the Miss Louisiana College contest, and was a member of the 1961 May court.

Miss Milligan is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley F. Milligan of Kenner.

Theme of the pageant is "An Atmosphere of Spring." The remaining 10 girls of the court will be representing other well-known Greek goddessess.

The other co - eds follow: Diane Bordelon, Bunkie, Goddess of Mischief, and Lou Ellen McFadden, Shreveport, Goddess of the Home Fires, both freshmen.

Veda Davis, Baton Rouge, Goddess of the Rainbow and Carlene Baker, Pineville, Goddess of the Harvest; both sophomores.

Pat Snyder, Ferriday, Goddess of the Divine Law of Right; Peggy Horton, Benton, Goddess of War; Lynne Holden, Denham Springs, Goddess of Victory; and Betty Dee Sloan, Eunice, goddess of the sea; all juniors.

Peggy Wade, Farmerville, Goddess of Storms, and Donna Sue Guyton, Monroe, Goddess of Blooming, both seniors.

These beauties were selected by a special panel of judges from the 30 originally nominated by the L. C. student body.

The event is open to the general public. There will be no admission charge.

Women Leaders Blast Action Of Committee

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Several Mississippi women leaders have blasted the Senate Judiciary Committee's action in killing a House-passed bill to permit women to serve on Mississippi juries.

Meanwhile, four senators filed a minority report to give the proposal new life. They were Sens. Frank Barber of Hattiesburg, Nat Troutt of Senatobia, Jack Tucker of Tunica and Jimmy Christenberry of Rolling Fork.

Mrs. Burnette Y. Hennington of Jackson, legislative chairman of the Mississippi Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, said Sen. E. K. Collins of Laurel, committee chairman, had broken a promise to hold a hearing and appoint a subcommittee to consider the bill.

"I must say we are not only disappointed, but completely shocked by this swift and final action without notice from the committee chairman," she added.

Sen. Collins said the measure was objectionable because "it only lets those serve who want to serve."

8 Witnesses To Testify In Murder Trial

ELKINS, W. Va. (UPI) —Eight witnesses were expected to testify today at the murder trial of William C. Simmons, 50, of Elkins as the defense opened its case.

Simmons is charged with the fatal shooting last Oct. 21 of Donald Leatherwood, 21, Bethesda, Md., a Davis & Elkins College senior.

The defense rested its case Wednesday after several witnesses appeared on the stand. Among those testifying was Richard Lange, another D&E student, who was with Leatherwood at the time of the slaying.

Lange told the jury of six men and six women that he and Leatherwood went to the Simmons home to obtain some liquor.

Simmons pleaded innocent to both the murder indictment and another for illegal sale of liquor.

The student said they asked Simmons for a bottle but he told them to leave.

Lange said Simmons struck Leatherwood twice in the face with the butt of a .32 caliber pistol. A scuffle followed, he said, and two shots were fired. Leatherwood was fatally wounded.

Lt. Lawrence Perchan of the Elkins Police Department, the arresting officer, read a signed statement in which Simmons allegedly admitted the shooting.

State Sen. Dayton Stemple of Philippi, the defense counsel, moved that Judge Stanley Bosworth direct the jury of six men and six women return a verdict of innocent. The motion was denied. Stemple contended Simmons was merely protecting his home from invasion.

Man Injured In Drawbridge Mishap

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A city employe was injured seriously when he became trapped and squeezed in the mechanism of a drawbridge.

It took firemen and police about 20 minutes to free the man, Henry Williams, 59, Wednesday.

Williams was helping to clean a pit beneath the bridge when a signal sounded and the span was raised. His co-workers said Williams started climbing a ladder to the bridge surface instead of flattening himself against a wall.

7 Bills Aimed At Protection From Negroes

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Seven bills to strengthen state voter laws against attacks from Negroes have the approval of the Mississippi House.

Segregation was not mentioned as the bills were submitted.

Rep. Thompson McClellan of Clay County, chairman of the Judiciary Committee, handled the bills.

"I think everyone in the House should be interested in reading this bill and should avoid asking questions not absolutely necessary."

The bill would require that every application for registration as a voter be published twice in a county newspaper, with the name and addresses of the applicants listed.

If the qualifications of the applican't go unchallenged by a voter, the registrar would then administer the necessary tests.

When Rep. Richard Arrington of Copiah, one of the two who voted against the bill, asked McClellan if the bill would not enrich newspapers, McClellan said:

"I don't know what it would do for the newspapers. We've got more serious problems than newspapers."

Joining Arrington in voting against the bill was Rep. Tom Martin of Monroe County.

The second bill would insert into the law a new constitutional provision requiring applicants to vote to be a good moral character.

"It's the same type of bill," McClellan said.

When Arrington offered an amendment to require that any voter must actually live in the district, McClellan said:

"A pretty good authority drafted this bill and I think we'd better leave it alone. It is a very important bill and you can tear it up with an amendment. That's not the purpose of the bill."

The third bill dealt with requirement that a voter be of good moral character and the fourth would eliminate from the poll books reference to the race of the elector.

McClellan said, referring to the elimination of race from the record, "the courts have held this invalid and I think it will help our cause."

The fifth measure dealt with procedure for the moral character being shown and it provided that if an applicant were unqualified because of poor character, this should be noted on the record and reasons set forth.

The measure said that if an applicant was otherwise disqualified as a voter, the word 'failed' should be noted on the application "without specifying the reason or reasons therefor, as so to do may constitute assistance to the applicant on another application."

The sixth measure provided the means for another voter to challenge the moral character of any applicant for registration and provided the registrar — the county circuit clerk — could hold hearings and render decisions.

The final bill inserted the good moral character requirements into other laws and held that records of applications could be thrown away when the applicant abandoned his application or when there was no appeal from the decision of the registrar.

82-Channel TV Bill Passes

WASHINGTON (AP)—A bill to require that all new television sets be built to receive 82 channels was passed by the House Wednesday and sent to the Senate.

The 279-90 roll call vote followed a voice vote of approval in the House Tuesday.

The measure would require television set manufacturers shipping in interstate commerce to provide for reception of the 70 ultra high frequency channels as well as for the 12 very high fregency channels most commonly used.

At present there are only 103 UHF stations, whereas the 70 UHF channels would provide room for 1,544 stations.

Home Run Lightning Strikes Again For Giants, Yanks

Front Runners Also Deliver Fine Pitching

By FRED DOWN
UPI Sports Writer

The fellow who said lightning doesn't strike twice in the same place never heard of the San Francisco Giants and New York Yankees.

With the Giants and Yankees it seems that home run lightning strikes day after day — sometimes early — but more often in the late innings. Both lineups are loaded with whiplash-bat-swinging sluggers and there's just no telling when or where the blow will come.

The National and American league front runners did it again Wednesday to run their winning streaks to eight and seven games, respectively. The Giants now lead the NL by 1½ games while the Yankees have opened up an early 2½-length margin.

Willie Mays rocketed his eighth homer of the season halfway up the left field seats at Candlestick Park in the sixth inning to give the Giants a 3-2 triumph over the Pittsburgh Pirates. The winning streak is the longest the Giants have achieved since they transferred from New York to San Francisco in 1958.

Chicago White Sox rookie Joe Horlen had the Yankees beaten, 3-2, entering the ninth inning but suddenly found himself a 4-3 loser after throwing only two pitches. Yogi Berra hit the first one for a double and Elston Howard hit the next one for a game-winning two-run homer.

GET GOOD PITCHING

What makes the Giants and Yankees look even stronger is the powerful pitching each has been getting from a so-called question mark staff.

Juan Marichal struck out seven and pitched a seven-hitter to win his fourth game for the Giants. He was the sixth consecutive Giant pitcher to go the distance and he tagged the Pirates with their seventh loss in 10 games. When Pirate pitcher Earl Francis departed in the eighth, it marked the 22nd straight time the Giants kayoed their rivals' starting pitcher.

Ralph Terry was tagged for three White Sox' runs in six innings but then Jim Coates took over to throttle the Sox on one hit during the last three innings. Bobby Richardson ran his hitting streak to 17 straight games for the Yankees and Al Smith had three of the White Sox' four hits.

The St. Louis Cardinals scored a 4-1 victory over the Houston Colts and the Chicago Cubs beat the Los Angeles Dodgers, 3-1, in other NL games. The Kansas City Athletics outslugged the Detroit Tigers, 12-8, and the Baltimore Orioles defeated the Minnesota Twins, 6-5, in the other AL action. Four major league games were rained out.

Former Harlem Globetrotter Bob Gibson struck out nine and walked only one in beating the Colts for the second straight time. Bill White homered and Julio Gotay had three hits to lead the nine-hit Cardinal attack that dealt Ken Johnson, who fanned 10, his fourth loss in a row. Jim Pendleton homered for Houston.

Bob Ruhl, in his first start since being obtained from Milwaukee, allowed two hits in six innings to snap the Cubs' seven-game losing streak. Strike-out king Sandy Koufax whiffed eight in 6 1-3 innings but committed a key error preceding a two-run double by Andre Rodgers in the fourth inning. Sandy's first strike out of the night raised his career total to 1,000.

Gino Cimoli and Norm Siebern collected three hits each as the A's routed Don Mossi in a seven-run second inning and went on to pound five Detroit pitchers for 15 hits. Al Kaline, Dick Brown and Bill Bruton hit homers for the Tigers.

Rookie John Powell hit two-run homers to pace a rally that enabled the Orioles to overcome Minnesota's early 5-0 lead. Dick Hall went the last 3 1-3 innings to preserve the win for Hal Brown. Brooks Robinson had three hits for the Orioles.

FINAL ENTRY DAY

16 Horses Due To Challenge Gaylord, Ridan's Favoritism

By RAY AYRES

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI) — The 88th running of the $125,000 added Kentucky Derby Saturday can be named for it today before the entry box closes.

There are four or five of them shaped up as a tough horse race and yet 18 horses were expected after trainer said with the exception of Casey Hayes, who handles favored Sir Gaylord, and LeRoy Jolley, conditioner of second-choice Ridan. They were confident but cautious.

Hayes, who has had two previous starters finish second and third, warned, "You still have to get the breaks." Jolley echoed these sentiments.

Behind Sir Gaylord, owned by the Meadow Stable of Christopher T. Chenery and Mrs. Moody Jolley's Ridan, were five dangerous contenders — Townsend B. Martin's Sunrise County, Fred W. Turner's Sir Ribot, Verne Winchell's Donut King, and Fred W. Hooper's Admiral's Voyage. Next in ranking were Robert Lehman's Prego, El Peco Stable's Decidedly, Crimson King Farm's Crimson Satan, and T. Ahe Grissom's Roman Line.

SIX OUTSIDERS

Then came the outsiders — Neil S. McCarthy's Royal Attack, Reverie Knoll Farm's Sharp Count, Golden Triangle Stable's Mister Pitt, F. & B. Farm's Good Fight, Mrs. Joe W. Brown's Green Hornet, and Harold Estopinal and Adrian Arnaud's Touch Bar.

The 18th horse to be entered is Cicada, a brilliant filly also owned by the Meadow Stable. Without offering any further explanation Hayes said, "I will enter two of them but run only one."

This was interpreted in two ways, with Hayes giving no indication as to which was correct.

Some say he wants to keep Cicada eligible for the Kentucky Derby as long as possible in the event something should happen to Sir Gaylord.

SUPERIOR ON MUD

Others claim he wants her available in the event of rain. The filly is a superior runner in mud and could become the second of her sex ever to win the Kentucky Derby, if the track should be muddy on Saturday.

It cost each owner $250 to enter and will cost an additional $1,250 to start. By paying $250 for Cicada, Hayes buys another 24 hours to play out whatever he has in mind. Then he must decide whether or not to run Cicada in Friday's Kentucky Oaks, for which she is an odds-on favorite.

The chances of mud on Saturday were slim, according to the weatherman. The Churchill Downs course dries out rapidly and, while light showers were forecast for Friday, Saturday is expected to be bright, sunny and warm.

LOUISIANA TECH NEXT

Statesmen Sock Redskins Twice

Delta State got sweet revenge yesterday for that double defeat on their home field last month when they invaded the Northeast State camp Wednesday to hand the Indians a double loss on their own field, 2-1 and 8-1.

A. C. Williams pitched five-hit and two-time loser Luke Terry ball and drove in two runs to notched his first win for D. S. spark the opening victory for in the nightcap although belted Coach "Boo" Ferris' Statesmen, for ten hits.

An eleven-hit Delta attack saved the game for Terry. Northeast pitching allowed only seven hits in the opener.

Eddie McGowan was Northeast's top batter of the day with 4 for 8, three of his hits in the second game.

First baseman Fred Rossi was the Statesman batting star with 4 for 6, also with three hits in the nightcap.

Next outing for Coach George Luffey's Indians comes Saturday at Ruston in a double header with Louisiana Tech.

Rams Snatch Playoff Win From Bruins

BASTROP, La. (Special) — Trailing 6-5 in the last inning after earlier enjoying a 5-1 lead, the Bastrop Rams exploded for two runs and a 7-6 victory over the Bolton Bears of Alexandria in the opening game of their best-of-three bi-district series in Louisiana triple-A championship baseball here Wednesday night.

Doubles by Don Cox and Pete Perot mixed in with a free pass to David Whitworth and Nickey Reynolds' perfect squeeze bunt broke up the ball game with only one out in the seventh inning.

The victory was No. 5 in six decisions for Floyd Murry and gave coach Bob Brasher's Rams a 17-5 record for the season. Bolton now has won 11, lost five, and tied one.

Outfielder J. W. Hall led Bolton batting with three hits, one third of his club's total production.

Third baseman Rickey Head sparked a seven-hit Bastrop attack with two hits, one a double.

Bastrop goes to Alexandria Friday for the series clinching, and a possible double header to decide the issue if the Bears win the second meeting.

Pelican Pitcher Wins Two Games Same Afternoon

The Pelicans of Southside High of Monroe scored 33 runs in two baseball games here Wednesday afternoon, defeating Florida Training School of Marianna, Fla., 13 to 0 and 20 to 0.

It was a big day for Wilson Sepulvado, the winning pitcher in both contests. The Pelican hurler delivered matching two-hitters and led the batting for his team with four hits for the day, two of his blows going for a triple and a double.

Yesterday's Stars

By The Associated Press

PITCHING—Bob Gibson, Cards, beat Houston 4-1 with five-hitter for second low-hit game in row against Colts. He held them to two hits last week.

BATTING—John (Boog) Powell, Orioles, powered Baltimore to 6-5 victory over Minnesota with pair of two-run homers.

Loyola Topples McNeese, 9 To 2

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—Wayne Pietri led the Loyola Wolfpack to a 9-2 baseball victory over McNeese State Wednesday, smacking a 3-run homer in the fifth inning.

Winning pitcher Bob Delpidio earned himself his seventh straight victory of the season against no losses and gave Loyola a 14-3 record. Ken Rabalais was the loser.

Neville, Minden Resume Twin-A Playoff Today

The Neville Tigers will attempt to erase Minden's Crimson Wave from the double-A state championship baseball picture in a 2o'clock meeting with the Minden team here this afternoon on the Neville diamond. A Wave victory would send the teams into another game immediately to determine the bi-district playoff winner.

Coach Charlie Brown's Bengals won the series opener at Minden, 7-2, earlier this week.

Neville batters expect fo find lefty Mike Powell pitching for the Wave today, while they plan to shoot with Hershel Walker.

The series winner advances in state play against the similar victor of a Menard of Alexandria-Opelousas playoff.

Ouachita Plays In Dubach Ball Tourney Today

DUBACH, La. (Special) Bossier High of Bossier City and Spearsville open the 12-team Dubach Inivitational Base ball Tournament here this afternoon at 4:30 o'clock.

Ouachita of Monroe meets Downsville at 6 o'clock, and host Dubach tackles Simsboro at 7:30 as half the teams see action on opening day.

The tournament continues Friday and Saturday with the title game at 8 p.m. Saturday.

Athletes Operate Y's Health Club

Tommy Beaube and Don Blackwelder, Northeast State athletes, will operate the new Health Club opening Saturday at the Twin Cities YMCA here.

Operation hours will be 4 p.m. to 8 p.m. Monday through Friday, and 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Saturday. The club is for adult male members of the YMCA.

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI) — Nelson Fisher of the San Diego (Calif.) Union has been elected president of the National Turf Writers Association, succeeding Maurice Shevlin of the Chicago Tribune.

Turner's 880 Run New Mark In Tensas Meet

ST. JOSEPH, La. (Special) — Eugene Turner of Davidson High of St. Joseph set the only new record as Davidson's Warriors won the Tensas Parish Track and Field Meet here Wednesday.

Turner gave the meet a new record in the 880 run with a time of 2:10.3, seven tenths of a second off the old mark.

Davidson barely nosed out second place Waterproof for the team championship, 75 to 73. Third place Newellton polled 31 points.

STENGEL KEEPS CHIN UP

Tee-Vee Sets Getting Boot From Fans Of Casey's Mets

By OSCAR FRALEY

NEW YORK (UPI) — There is no thought in Casey Stengel's mind today of stepping out as manager of the moth-eaten New York Mets and in shrugging off the suggestion he figures maybe he'll outlast scores of television sets.

"The way we been going must be tough on a lot of TV sets," he analyzed. "Everywhere I go the interest is tremendous and one guy told me he kicked the front out of his set when we lost a tough one."

"Maybe that's what happened to Edna," he said of his wife, who made a trip to the West Coast. "I haven't heard from her so maybe she kicked out the tee-vee set."

A lot of people are sorry that the Old Perfesser decided to come back to baseball with what had to be a loser. They figure that he should have stayed retired a winner and that all he can do now is to tarnish the golden reputation he forged with the Yankees after being a perennial prowler of the cellar division during his long-gone days as a National League pilot.

BETTER THAN NONE

They overlook one fact. Even losing baseball is better to Stengel than no baseball at all.

Old Case was happy as a winner with the Yankees, where he picked up 10 pennants and seven world championships in 12 years. He probably would still have been there, basking in his long-awaited reputation as a guiding genius, if the Yankees hadn't fired him.

"I'm one who was sorry to see him come back," says Billy Martin, now a scout with the Minnesota Twins. "I like him and I always will. I hate to see this happen to him."

You can only understand how deep Martin's feeling runs — and how typical it is — by realizing that Billy the Kid once was known as "Casey's Boy" and yet hasn't spoken to Stengel since the Yanks traded the scrappy infielder away to Kansas City in 1957.

STEMS FROM FIGHT

Martin was intimated by the Yankee brass to have been the one who led Mickey Mantle astray. It was Billy who bore the brunt of that fistic party at the Copacabana in which Hank Bauer made a ham on rye out of a heckler. But when he was sent away, Billy felt that Stengel hadn't gone to bat properly for him with the front office and the iciness which developed remains unthawed.

"What they'll say now is that he was just another manager," Martin asserts. "It's not true. He made a lot of ball players."

The Yankees dismissed Stengel, and general manager George Weiss, on grounds of age. Yet, two years after that goodbye, Stengel has shown an alertness with the Mets which throws the lie at senility. In a few brief weeks he has a sharply focused "book" on every National League player he has seen and can discuss their merits and defects with a crystal insight.

Bad baseball may be better to him than none at all, and yet even Stengel couldn't have expected it to be as bad as it has. The Mets went with a band of ancient heroes, figuring that maybe they could come up with one more good year. It hasn't worked that way. So now Casey is looking forward eagerly to the May 10 cut-down date when, he figures, he may make some profitable acquisitions from the other clubs' excess material.

Baseball being the business it is, there has been no compassion for him from his rivals. Nor has Stengel sought any. In his days with the Yankees, the players always said he was rough-hewn winning and a calm, sympathetic manager when losing. After pushing those Yankee buttons, the current chore has to be murder.

But old Casey is calmer than ever because, after 52 years in the game, it's better than going back to banking.

Marion Takes 7-C, Aims For Montgomery

MER ROUGE, La. (Special) — Marion Panthers spotted Mer Rouge a first inning run, tied it up in the second, went ahead in the fourth and assured victory with a five-run burst in the fifth to defeat the host team, 7-1, here Wednesday.

The victory clinched the district 7-C baseball championship for the Union parish club, a second straight in their playoff.

Marion, boasting a 14-2 mark for the season, will meet Montgomery's 8-0 champs next Wednesday in a single game to decide which goes to the semi-finals and finals dated for Baton Rouge.

Elton Pardue, the Panthers' all-state pitcher, tamed Mer Rouge Wednesday on three hits. Davy Daniels, the losing pitcher, allowed only five hits, four of them going to Pardue and Don Reeves, each with two.

Out Of Action

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI) — The Detroit Tigers will be without the services of utility infielder Reno Bertoia for the next two days. Bertoia has been confined to bed with a virus infection.

TOURNEY OF CHAMPS

Snead's Chances For Repeat Slim

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Sam Snead, veteran of innumerable golf wars, set out today in quest of his second straight victory in the Tournament of Champions and a major share of its $58,000 purse.

The almost 50-year-old West Virginian was slated to tee off with capable Jay Hebert in the first twosome of the initial round over the 7,000-yard par 36-36—72 Desert Inn Country Club course.

The 72-hole tournament ends Sunday, with the winner collecting $11,000.

Just behind Snead and Hebert were Mike Souchak, the 1959 winner here, and the man most everyone thinks will win this one, Arnold Palmer. Twenty four other professionals, each having qualified to compete here by having won at least one major PGA event in the past year, will follow.

A year ago Snead put together rounds of 68-67-69-69—273, 15 shots under par, to hit the jackpot.

Palmer has yet to win this event. In six tries his best effort was a fifth place finish in 1960.

Luckiest of them all, and a decided threat again, is U.S. Open Champion Gene Littler. He reeled off three straight wins in 1955-56-57.

Palmer, after practice rounds, said he was encouraged because he was driving the ball well.

"These fairways aren't the widest in the world, so it's important to keep the ball in play here," Palmer said. "I've always had trouble lining a shot up here. I could never get lined up right because there is very little background to set yourself up right.

"All things considered," Palmer added, "I'm pretty happy with my game. That's a pretty good indication. So maybe I can do something here."

Boston Keeps After Pender, Fullmer Fight

BOSTON (AP) — Boston promoter Sam Silverman says he still has hopes of staging the world middleweight title fight between Paul Pender and Gene Fullmer in Boston this summer.

The 15-round match to settle the middleweight dispute originally was set for June 9 at Bozeman, Mont. But co-promoters Silverman and Norm Rothschild of Syracuse, N.Y., have been unable to find a sponsor to telecast the fight "live" from Bozeman. Their price was $150,000.

Rothschild said Wednesday he is negotiating with several firms for closed circuit TV to be piped into theatres. If that can be sold, the fight would be Monday, June 11, at Bozeman.

However, Silverman says he still thinks the fight would be a success here—possibly in July at Fenway Park.

"I think I could get $100,000 for the television rights in Boston and the bout would draw at least $200,000—with a $20 top—for a live gate," he said.

Silverman said he would guarantee each fighter $100,000 for the Boston scrap, should the Montana fight collapse.

Pender, of Brookline, is recognized as champion in Massachusetts, New York and Europe. Fullmer is the National Boxing Association king.

Richest Louisiana Daily Double Won By Two Women

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Two women won what is reported to be the largest daily double purse in Louisiana history—$3,891.20—by betting two dollars Thursday night at Jefferson Downs race track outside New Orleans.

The winners were Mrs. George Lum of New Orleans, who owns and operates a Chinese grocery, and another woman, who declined to identify herself or pick up her winnings until her husband appeared with her tonight.

The lucky horses were Bambizon who paid $19.40 for his nose victory in the first and Brother's Mate, a 30-1 shot who returned $63.60 for his second race triumph.

Fill In For Hoak

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Johnny Logan and Dick Schofield will alternate at third base for the Pittsburgh Pirates for the next three or four games because of Don Hoak's injured right wrist. Hoak suffered the sprained wrist in Monday's game against San Francisco.

LSU's Fraser Southern Golf Meet Favorite

ATHENS, Ga. (AP) — The cream of Southern collegiate golfers will open competition today for team and individual honors in the Southern Intercollegiate tournament.

Four titles will be decided—individual and team for the tournament as a whole and individual and team for the Southeastern Conference.

Last year's individual winner, Ron Weber of the University of Houston, has graduated. The runner-up and SEC titlist, Howell Fraser of Louisiana State, is back and has been established as a favorite this year.

Houston is favored to repeat as tournament champion and the University of Georgia is in the favorite's role among SEC teams.

Other highly rated teams include LSU, Florida, Auburn, Oklahoma State, North Texas State, Florida State and Miami.

Eighteen holes are scheduled today and Friday with the 36-hole windup Saturday.

The field will be cut to the low 35 and ties for the finale. Team play will be decided on the full 72 holes instead of 36 as in former years.

Vic Wertz Ties Pinchhit Record With 5th In Row

KANSAS CITY (AP)—"A pinch hitter has a helluva tough life," said Vic Wertz before Wednesday night's game between the Detroit Tigers and the Kansas City Athletics, won by the A's 12-8.

Then in the seventh inning of the game, the 37-year-old Tiger veteran batted for pitcher Hank Aguirre and collected his fifth straight pinch hit, a single to left.

The hit tied the American League record, set in 1953 by Johnny Mize of the New York Yankees and equalled by Bob Hale of Cleveland in 1960. The major league record for consecutive pinch hits is eight, set by Dave Philley of the Philadelphia Phillies in 1958.

Wertz, now in his 17th season in the American League, said Wednesday pinch hitters hoe a rough row, explaining:

"You sit around most of a ball game and you get in the toughest part of one. Maybe your club has been going good and you haven't played for a week because you were not needed. If you're on the road you haven't had much batting practice.

"Then you get called and everything hinges on what you do."

Jofre Exudes Confidence For Title Go

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Bantamweight Champion Eder Jofre exuded confidence Wednesday as he completed training for Friday night's title defense against Herman Marquez.

The 118-pound king from Brazil said he had no set strategy against the challenger from Stockton, Calif. The trend of the fight will determine how he battles.

Jofre said that if Marquez boxes, as expected, he'll try to outbox him but will be ready to slug it out if the Mexican-born Californian chose that route.

The champion's father, who handles his training, said Eder will have no trouble making the 118-pound limit at the weigh-in Friday noon preceding the 15-round bout at the Cow Palace.

TRACK AND FIELD

Northeast Nearer Unbeaten Season

A triangular meet at Natchitoches Saturday and the Gulf States Conference Meet at Hammond on May 12 are all that stand in the way of a second perfect track season for the Northeast Louisiana State Indians—and they're solid favorites to win both for a 9-won-

Host Northwestern and tough Louisiana Tech supply the opposition in the triangular affair at Natchitoches as the three GSC rivals tune for the confernce classic the following Saturday.

Plans for rescheduling a rained-out home date for the Indians have been cancelled as well as 2 high school events earlier dated for this week and next week.

Athletic director Jack Rowan of Northeast said plans to bring Northwestern and Southeastern back to Monroe for the rained-out date of last month are all off as well as the district 2-A high school meet scheduled for Friday, May 4, and the Louisiana Class B championship meet dated here for Thursday, May 10.

The start of construction on Northeast's new library has necessitated shifting of the Brown Field fence onto part of the track, thus ruining meet plans.

The high school events are being rescheduled for other sites, the 2-A event already ticketed for Tech Stadium at Ruston this weekend.

At completion of the library, the fence will be returned to its proper place at Brown field, and the Northeast track will again be available.

Tribal trackmen enjoyed their undefeated season in 1960, winning 14 meets, including the GSC crown. The Indians had a good season in '61, but finished second in the GSC.

Return of the Colorado Styron twins, Don and Dave, after a year's absence has given other Northeast hotshot spikemen the edge they need to make them favorites wherever they go this spring.

Buhl Winning New Friends With Chicago

LOS ANGELES (AP) — When Bob Buhl was traded to the Cubs this week, it struck some Chicagoans that the beetle-browed right-hander might not be the greatest thing to hit their city since the 1933 world's fair.

Buhl was 33 years old, but exactly an infant by baseball reckoning. To get him from the Milwaukee Braves, the Cubs had given up Jack Curtis, a promising young left-hander.

Buhl didn't do his Chicago image any damage Wednesday night when he pitched a two-hitter for six innings as the Cubs pulled out of a seven-game losing streak by beating the Dodgers 3-1.

Buhl had pitched only two innings for Milwaukee before the trade.

"I told Lou Klein, the Cubs' head coach, that I thought I could go five good innings," Buhl said. "After the sixth I told Klein, I'll go as far as you want me to, but I'm not as sharp as I was a couple of innings ago.

"He put in a pinch hitter and I thought it was a good move. Nobody likes to leave a game but I couldn't see any sense in hurting myself now."

Although Buhl had lost six straight decisions to Los Angeles before Wednesday night, he still ranks as the No. 1 Dodger killer among active pitchers. His career record against them is 23-9.

Dodger left-hander Sandy Koufax, who had fanned 15 in his last appearance against Chicago, has his career strikeout total to 1,007 by fanning eight in 6⅔ innings pitched last night.

Umpire's Call Leaves Lopez 'Boiling Mad'

CHICAGO (UPI) — Manager Al Lopez of the Chicago White Sox was boiling mad at umpire John Rice for the way he called a play at the plate.

The controversial call came in the sixth inning of the New York Yankee's 4-3 victory over the White Sox Wednesday night. Cletis Boyer slid into the plate when he came home on a double by Roger Maris.

From the press box it appeared catcher Sherm Lollar had blocked the plate and tagged Boyer long before he reached home.

"He does it all the time," Lopez said. "Calling the play too soon, an old Rice habit. When I went out there, all I said was that he ought to wait until the play was completed before calling it. He threw me out for that."

Lopez said Rice defended his call by saying he saw Boyer stick his leg between Lollar's legs to reach the plate.

"Lollar stopped the play five or six feet from the plate," Lopez said. "How could he touch the plate from there?"

Lopez contended that the run, the Yanks' second in the game, was a "turning point."

Every Game Produces Hit For Yank Ace

CHICAGO (AP) — Bobby Richardson, sturdy second baseman for the New York Yankees and a World Series whiz at the plate the last two years, is off to the fastest batting start of his career. He has hit safely in all of his team's 17 games.

The 26-year-old Richardson, one of the best leadoff men in the business, collected a pair of singles in five trips Wednesday night to boost his batting mark to .320.

He also scored a run as it was Elston Howard's two-run homer in the ninth inning that gave the league-leading Yankees a 4-3 victory over the Chicago White Sox to extend their winning string through seven games.

Howard's blow with Yogi Berra on base was his fourth homer of the campaign and came after rookie Joe Horlen had struck him out twice in succession.

"It was an outside pitch—the same he struck me out with before," said Howard.

"I'm usually batting about .200 at this time of the year," Richardson said. "This isn't my longest streak. I had 21 going at the end of 1959—but it's my best start. I'm usually dozing at the plate until it gets hot. But I've been lucky so far—some of my hits were flukes, blooper."

Richardson had a .301 mark in 1960, his highest since he came to the Yankees in 1955. He was .261 last year and .252 in 1960. In both of those years he had a great World Series.

"His batting averages in past years may not be impressive," said Manager Ralph Houk, "but Bobby really is a great clutch hitter."

LSU Wins Game In 12th Inning

HAMMOND, La. (UPI)—Jimmy Ford's 12th inning homerun gave Louisiana State an 8-6 triumph over Southeastern Louisiana College Wednesday.

The Southern Tigers knotted the count at 6-all with two runs in the seventh. Both Cubs scored single tallies in the 10th.

Dave Vitello got credit for the victory. Roland Oubre was the loser.

Record Prize In 500

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI) — The expected total payoff for this year's Memorial Day 500-mile auto race is $425,000, which would be an all-time high. The record sixty prize for the driver has reached $47,500—all the cash over the cost of the car.

MISTAKES COSTLY

Too Many Errors Are Ruining Reds

CINCINNATI (AP) — "The Reds are making too many mistakes for a championship club. We really haven't jelled since the season started," is what usually dour Cincinnati Red Manager Fred Hutchinson has to say about his team's performance so far.

The Reds, who won the National League pennant last year only to be humbled 4-1 in the World Series by the New York Yankees, returned Wednesday night from their brief, triumphant Gotham appearance.

They beat the collar-dwelling New York Mets 8-2 Tuesday night but Wednesday's game was postponed because of rain.

With his team now 9-11 and sixth in the league standings, Hutchinson assessed the Reds as follows:

"Our defensive play has been sloppy. Our outfielders have misjudged and permitted fly balls to drop, and the infielders have been guilty of some damaging errors."

Hutchinson planned to give the Reds a long workout at Crosley Field today to get them ready for a four-game series with the St. Louis Cardinals which starts Friday night. The Cardinals routed the Reds, 3-1, in a series at St. Louis over last weekend.

Hutchinson said he will put special emphasis on batting practice. The Cincinnati pitching has settled down in recent games, but Frank Robinson and some other power hitters have not been up to bat.

Though he admits he is not happy about Robinson's .261 batting average, Hutchinson says he is not really very concerned yet. Robinson has been a slow starter ever since he first joined the majors in 1956.

"It was just the reverse back in the minors. Robinson himself said. I can't explain it either. I'm not getting good wood on the ball, but I'm swinging the same way.

"The pitchers haven't improved that much. It's just one of those things. When my timing gets a little sharper they'll start falling in there. I'm not worried—just anxious."

So are the Reds.

Mrs. McMahan Out At State's Meet In Semi's

LAFAYETTE, La. (AP) — Favored Barbara Faye White of Shreveport meets 1959 champion Marjo Simmons of Bogalusa in the semifinals of the 34th annual Louisiana Women's Amateur golf tournament.

Miss White, 21-year-old Texas Christian University senior and daughter of golf pro Ned White, had little trouble in eliminating Mrs. William Melancon of Lafayette 5 and 4 Wednesday.

Miss Simmons, who says, "I can beat anybody until they beat me," topped Mrs. Claire McMahan of Monroe, 4 and 3.

The opponents in the other 18-hole semi-final over the 5,842 - yard Oakbourne Country Club course will be Bea Saloom of Lafayette and Mrs. Don Rue of Lake Charles.

Miss Saloom whipped Mrs. Leonard Warren of Bastrop 3 and 2 while Mrs. Rue upset the course record - holder, Mrs. J. Harry Henderson of Alexandria, 4 and 3.

The 36 - hole finals are scheduled for Friday.

DAY OF DECISION

Warriors Asking Okay To Go West

NEW YORK (AP)—Eddie Gottlieb will ask the National Basketball Association today to approve the sale and transfer of the Philadelphia Warriors—including Wilt Chamberlain—to San Francisco.

At the same time, however, Gottlieb is expected to acquire another franchise for Philadelphia, either by purchase of an existing franchise or by NBA grant of a new one—which would have the effect of expanding the league to 10 teams.

Gottlieb confirmed a long-standing rumor that he will ask approval of the sale and transfer of the Warriors to San Francisco, but hedged on whether he will attempt to establish a new team in Philadelphia.

"I just don't want to comment on that right now," he said Wednesday night. "I don't want to risk having my words twisted."

NBA president Maurice Podoloff, however, indicated that a new team probably will go into Philadelphia. He said Gottlieb wanted to avoid "leaving a hole in Philadelphia."

He said Gottlieb has been "conducting negotiations for the purchase of the franchise in either Syracuse, Detroit or Chicago for purpose of moving one to Philadelphia."

If he fails in that effort—and the Syracuse bid for one has been turned down—Gottlieb is expected to attempt to form a new team from scratch.

The request for the sale and transfer goes before the NBA board of directors at their meeting today. Approval requires the vote of seven of the nine club owners.

Under Gottlieb's plan, he would sell the present team, including Chamberlain, probably the league's greatest single gate attraction, to a San Francisco group headed by Bernard Solomon for $850,000.

Then, if he were to acquire a new franchise, he would negotiate with the San Francisco group for the return of at least two players, Paul Arizin and Tom Gola. Both have interests in Philadelphia and have been reported as reluctant to make the move to San Francisco. Local talent from the Philadelphia area would be used to complete the squad.

Waco Turner's Golf No Longer Poor Boy Open

BURNEYVILLE, Okla. (AP) — Waco Turner's Golf Tournament dubbed the "Poor Boy's Open" but a misnomer if there ever was one, starts Thursday with a field of more than 100 seeking official prize money totaling $20,000.

But that may be just a drop in the bucket after the wealthy oilman shells out $5a for birdies, $25 for eagles and $100 for daily low score. There's $500 waiting for any player fortunate to get a hole-in-one.

Turner originated the event because he could not accommodate the players who had not reached the winner's circle on the regular PGA tour and therefore were not eligible to compete in the Tournament of Champions at Las Vegas on the same days.

Turner paid out $83,330 in bonuses last year and he may have to dig deeper this year because a classy field of "also rans" are on the firing line for the 72-hole event which winds up Sunday. It will be contested over Turner's resort course which stretches 7,100 yards and plays to par of 73-36—72.

Butch Baird took last year's top money with an 11-under-par 281 and thus qualified to play at Las Vegas this week.

The field will be headed by Jack Nicklaus, Columbus, Ohio, who turned pro this year and now is the seventh top money winner on the PGA tour. He's won $14,673.

Other topnotchers include Bill Collins, Mason Rudolph, Don Fairfield, Marty Furgol, Dave Ragan, Howie Johnson, Don Whitt, Ernie Vossler and Ked Nagle, former British Open champion.

McClendon Says Tiger Football Losses High

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Coach Charles McClendon added up Louisiana State's football talent losses today to the tune of over $100,000.

McClendon, who spoke to a local service club in advance of Saturday night's annual spring inter-squad game, said that was the amount professional football teams paid six LSU graduates in contracts after last season.

He said it showed the real quality of athletes the LSU Tigers lost, and will be missing when they face 10 tough opponents this fall.

McClendon praised the attitude of his players in spring practice as great as any any time.

Dickey Heads New 2-Parish Dixie League

WINNSBORO (Special) — T. B. Dickey of Winnsboro was elected president of the Franklin - Caldwell Dixie Boys Baseball League at an organizational meeting in the Union Compress and Warehouse Co. office at Winnsboro Tuesday night.

Assisting in the organization of the bi-parish league were L. G. "Cotton" Prewett of Pineville, National Dixie Boys Baseball Commissioner, and Edgar Lowry of Winnsboro who is vice - president and a member of the board of directors of the national organization.

Directors elected to serve the new league for the coming year were D. J. Anders Jr., W. E. "Frenchie" Marioneaux and Harry Waffer, Jr., of Franklin parish, and Billy Childers, Oscar Head and John Wilks of Caldwell parish. Childers will also serve as vice president and Waffer as secretary - treasurer.

Dixie Boys Baseball, Inc., is for boys 13 and 14 years of age. Two teams have already been organized in Caldwell parish and two will be organized in Franklin. The Caldwell parish teams are sponsored by Pelican State Life Insurance and Kenneys, and both Franklin parish teams will be sponsored by the Sheriffs Department.

All 13 and 14 year old Franklin boys who want to play Dixie League baseball should register with player agents Edgar Lowry and D. J. Anders Jr., at the Northeast Louisiana Power Coop building in Winnsboro before noon May 10. Then at 5 p.m. on May 10 all players are to report to their managers at the Dixie League ball park.

Franklin parish Dixie League officials are T. B. Dickey, president; A. J. Stephens, vice-president; Harry Waffer, Jr., secretary - treasurer, and directors W. B. Scriber, Lantz Womack, Milford Andrews, D. J. Anders Jr., Howard Shirley, C. L. Moore Jr., Edgar Lowry, W. E. "Frenchie" Marioneaux, J. W. McLemore, Jr., Orville Elkin, W. B. Perkins, Marcus Emfinger and Hiram B. Waller.

Dixie League officials for Caldwell parish are Charlie Rowan, president; Billy Childers, vice - president, Hugh Roberts, secretary - treasurer, and directors Edgar Duke, Oscar Head, John Wilks, Jim Turner, Harold Waldrop, Frank Mancel and Orlin Hester.

Miss Creed Top Peach Blossom Amateur Entry

SPARTANBURG, S.C. (AP)— The 10th annual Peach Blossom-Betsy Rawls women's open golf tournament has a dress rehearsal today when 29 of 30 lady professional golfers team with male amateurs for a pro-am tournament.

The Peach Blossom event, a 54-hole, $7,500 affair, opens Friday. The arrival Wednesday of Sandra McClinton, a young pro from Mineola, Tex., pushed the starting field to a record 34, including 30 pros and four amateurs.

Heading the amateur field is Clifford Ann Creed, North-South amateur champion from Louisiana.

Chicago Strong Possibility For Big Title Fight

CHICAGO (UPI) — Promoter Irv Schoenwald says "Chicago looks very good" as the September site for the Floyd Patterson-Sonny Liston heavyweight championship fight.

Schoenwald said he gained this impression after a telephone chat with Al Bolan of Championship Sports, who will stage the title match.

"Bolan told me his outfit wants the fight in Chicago," Schoenwald said. "He said he's confident that it will be held here."

BRIDE-ELECT, Miss Gale Simmons, stands between her mother, Mrs. James Lamar Simmons of Lake Charles, right, and the mother of her fiance Mrs. Eldridge Linus Carroll of Columbia, at the luncheon in her honor on Saturday.

Party Given In Courtesy To Miss Gale Simmons

Of area interest is the June 2 wedding date for Miss Gale Simmons of Lake Charles and Eldridge Linus Carroll Jr. of Columbia, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. James Lamar Simmons and Dr. and Mrs. E. L. Carroll. The marriage will be solemnized in Lake Charles.

Saturday noon, April 28, the bride - elect was honored at a luncheon hosted by Mrs. David M. Gartman and Mrs. James G. Sherman. Decorating the table at Bayou DeSiard Country Club was an arrangement of magnolias, yellow iris, and bridal wreath.

The honoree was wearing a pink linen sheath and corsage of white iris. Marking places for guests were white cards trimmed with green leaves.

Present to share the occasion with Miss Simmons and her hostesses were Mrs. Simmons, Mrs. Carroll, Miss Peggy Koch of Alexandria, Mrs. N. Dartez, Miss Flossie Carroll, Mrs. William Long, Mrs. Robert Holladay, Mrs. Mickie Alford, Miss Ann Godfrey, Miss Margaret Minard, Mrs. D. O. Sherman, and Mrs. Harry Winters.

Mrs. Raybourn Honored At Annual NSA Banquet

The Ouachita Chapter of The National Secretary's Association met Wednesday, April 25, for the purpose of honoring Mrs. Patsy Raybourn as "Secretary of The Year." The Jade Room of the Paragon Supper Club was the setting for gaily decorated tables in the Chapter colors. A centerpiece at the headtable consisted of sweetheart roses, interspersed with white mums, greenery and gold ribbons.

The members were greeted by the Chapter President, Mrs. Beverly Dodson, and each member in turn introduced their bosses as their guests for the evening.

Highlight of the affair was the ceremony installing Mrs. Raybourn. A round table dressed with a circular skirt of net and ribbon held a cutglass bowl. An arrangement of dry ice depicted a bubbling, busy world around which was placed six candles representing key elements of basic skills which the Secretary had used in attaining her position of elevation as "Secretary of the Year." The narrator, Mrs. Mirdie Foreman, told the story of Mrs. Raybourn's life from the time of studying for the business profession, through her time of employment, to the present date. At an appointed time, Mrs. Raybourn was presented with a statue, engraved with the date and reason of presentation.

Also honored at this time were Mr. and Mrs. Louie Mathis, of BMI, employers of Mrs. Raybourn, as "Mr. and Mrs. Boss of The Year."

Those attending, with their guests were: Mrs. Beverly Dodson, Mr. P. L. Foreman, Southern Bell Tele. and Tele. Co.; Mrs. Mirdie Foreman, Mr. J. S. Stone, Superintendent United Carbon Company; Mrs. Pat Raybourn, Mr. and Mrs. Louie Mathis, Bish Mathis Institute; Mrs. Toby Smith, Mrs. Madge Kelly, State Board of Health; Mrs. Nina Evans, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Clark, American Louisiana Pipeline Company; Miss Gloria Kalil, Mr. Roy Johns, Johns and Neil Architects; Mrs. Helen Byrd; Mrs. Ona Mae Lafferty, Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Washburn, Weaks Supply Company; Miss Naomi Campbell; Mrs. Molly King; Mrs. Irma Boyd; Mrs. Martha Gore; Miss Monique Coates; Mrs. Jessica Lawn; Mrs. Norma Floyd; and special guests — Miss Mary Catherine DeStaffano, Mrs. Evelyn Bledsoe and Miss Greta Waller.

Bayou DeSiard Country Club Hosts Seventh Annual Bridge Tournament

Among the special annual attractions at Bayou DeSiard Country Club is the annual sectional bridge tournament, which was held for the seventh year April 27-29 with over 220 tables in play. Featured during the three-day event for the pleasure of participants, many of whom were visitors from neighboring states, were a cocktail party Friday evening, a brunch Sunday morning at the Holiday Inn, and a buffet dinner between sessions of the Open Pair on Sunday.

Official hostesses were Mrs. Guy Campbell, president of the Bayou Bridge Club, and Mrs. Lester High, tournament chairman.

Prominent out-of-town players included: Curtis Smith and Cy Strouse Jr., of Austin, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. Julius Rosenblum, New Orleans; Fred Berger, Natchez; Mrs. E. A. Mahony, El Dorado; Mrs. J. F. Welch and John E. Kennedy Jr., Shreveport; Cecil Inman Jr., Jackson; and John Dave Brichetto, Vicksburg.

Winners were as follows: Open Pairs, which consisted of 39 tables, First, Hughes Mendel-Fred Berger, Natchez; Second, Mrs. Percy Sandman, Mrs. Meyer Greenwald, Monroe; and Third, Mrs. Darwin Nichols, Mr. John Brichetto, Vicksburg, Mississippi.

CONSOLATION

The Consolation or Boll Weevil, consisting of 15 tables resulted in Mr. and Mrs. Bill Wilson of Monroe winning first, and Mrs. Arthur Wedemeyer and Mrs. Thomas Youngblood, of Monroe, winning second. The Team-Of-Four, with six tables, winners were First, Fred Berger, Mrs. Jack Wicks, and Mrs. Darwin Nichols, Hughes Mendel and Julius Rosenblum; Second, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Tighe, Jr. of Jackson, Mississippi; and Dr. and Mrs. Cailleteau, of Baton Rouge

MASTER'S PAIRS

In the Master's Pairs, consisting of 29 tables, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Rosenfield of Jackson won First, and Mrs. J. F. Welch and Jack Kennedy of Shreveport, won second. Thirteen tables comprised the Men's Pairs, with Ken Boagni Jr. of Opelousas and W. A. Dillingham winning first, and John Iannas and Orlando Lockett winning second. In the Women's Pairs, Mrs. A. Inklebarker and Mrs. S. P. Moreau, of Lake Charles, captured first honors, with Mrs. E. E. Ellis and Mrs. H. C. Marks, winning second.

NON-MASTER's PAIRS

Mr. and Mrs. Don Mayer of Winnsboro were first place winners in the Non-Master's Pairs, composed of 14 tables, while Mrs. Harrell Lary and Mrs. Alex Winn won second place. Gumbo Pairs winners, with 29 tables competing, were First, Mrs. J. L. Rosenblum of New Orleans, and Mrs. Hughes Mendel of Monroe, Second, Mrs. Harrell Lary and Miss Marion Mayor of Monroe.

FINAL ROUNDS

In the Pecan Pairs, composed of 15 tables, First place was awarded to Mrs. E. A. Mahoney of El Dorado, Arkansas, and Mrs. W. A. Stephens of Shreveport; and Second place to Mrs. C. W. Dodgen and Mrs. Allen Turpin. Twenty-four tables comprised the Cotton Pickin' Pairs, with Mrs. J. H. Miller and Mrs. T. Thurman of Shreveport, winning first place, and Mrs. J. L. Rosenblum of New Orleans, and Hughes Mendel of Monroe winning second place awards.

NLSC Faculty Invited To Tea By Kappa Alphas

Kappa Alpha Fraternity, headed by President Joe Thompson, entertained the Northeast Louisiana State College faculty, their husbands and wives at a tea Friday afternoon between the hours of 3 and 5 o'clock.

The affair, given in the fraternity home on the Loop Road, was one of several social activities on the calender of Old South Weekend, a traditional celebration for all KA chapters.

Guests were greeted by fraternity members, marked by well groomed beards, sideburns and whiskers, which they had grown especially for the annual event. Assisting in extending courtesies was the Kappa Alpha housemother, Mrs. Aline Beard.

Visitors were ushered into the spacious living room that bore definite symbols of the collegiate chapter, a photograph of Gen. Robert E. Lee, spiritual founder of the organization, the fraternity coat of arms, and various other pieces of art associated with the national order.

On the mantel was a central decor, an arrangement of yellow and purple iris and aenomonies. Beneath were handsome gold letters, Alpha Nu of Kappa Alpha. Magnolias and red roses added to the colorful setting.

The tea table, overlaid with white damask, was graced with magnolias. From services at either end, coffee and lime punch were served respectively by Miss Gay Demmary, immediate past president of Phi Mu Sorority, and Miss Dale Derbonne. Trays of assorted party foods were passed among the guests by Miss Janet Hyman and Miss Marcia Files.

Mrs. Beard and the coeds who served wore corsages of white carnations.

Included in the afternoon pleasures was a tour of the new Kappa Alpha home.

Lamkin HDC Meets In Carson Home

Mrs. W. F. Carson was hostess to the Lamkin Home Demonstration Club for April.

A demonstration on Sewing New Fabrics was presented by Mrs. Floyd Lightsey. Mrs. C. T. Baird gave a report on Home Management, and Mrs. S. C. Matthews reported on the recent Council meeting. Plans were made for the observance of National Demonstration Club week.

After a recreation period refreshments were served to the following: Mrs. Lightsey, Mrs. Baird, Mrs. Matthews, Mrs. Carson, and Mrs. J. E. Jones. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. O. H. Ham on May 17.

Tea Shower Compliments Recent Bride

A group of hostesses honored Mrs. E. Lester Little, a bride of recent date, when they entertained with a tea shower Thursday, April 26, in the social hall of the College Place Baptist Church.

Mrs. R. B. Harrison, Mrs. M. B. Weaver, Mrs. A. M. Ray, Mrs. R. Parham, Mrs. Burl Palmer, Mrs. H. K. Hartsell, Mrs. A. T. Robertson Jr., and Mrs. T. D. Montgomery invited guests between 7 and 9 p.m.

The honoree, wearing a white dress and orchid corsage, received near the door with Mrs. I. H. Otwell, Mrs. R. B. Harrison, Mrs. Reggie Parham, and Mrs. Troy Little.

The refreshment table was centered with an arrangement of pink tea roses, while spring flowers were the focal point on the gift table. An arrangement of white and colored roses graced the piano. Mrs. R. B. Weaver, Mrs. H. K. Hartsell, and Mrs. Burl Palmer alternated in serving the guests who called.

Mrs. Ellis New Member Of HD Club

Welcomed as a new member at the April 26 meeting of the Lenwil Home Demonstration Club was Mrs. Huey Ellis. The occasion was held in the home of Mrs. C. D. Byrd.

The president, Mrs. E. R. Williamson, reported on the last council meeting, and plans for observing National Home Demonstration Week were made, as well as a meeting being planned for May 10 at 10:00 a.m. in the Welcome Home Church of God.

Scrap books for Conway Memorial Hospital will be made and flowers planted on the church yard as a project. Mrs. F. M. Graff gave a poem entitled, "Wet Wash," followed by leader reports by Mrs. T. O. Black on food preservation, and Mrs. T. L. Tippen on home management.

A demonstration on sewing new fabrics was given by Mrs. C. D. Byrd and new ideas presented on the subject. Following the recreation conducted by Mrs. C. J. Moffett, refreshments were served to Mrs. Williamson, Mrs. Graff, Mrs. Tippen, Mrs. Moffett, Mrs. Ellis, Mrs. Black, Mrs. A. E. Rawls, Mrs. L. A. Whitlock, Mrs. John Anding, Mrs. Lawson Flowers Jr., and Mrs. J. W. Hackworth.

Schedule For Madison HDC Announced

Programs of the home demonstration clubs of Madison Parish for May will be centered on "Obediance and Its Relation to Safety of Children." Material on the subject will be based on a bulletin prepared by Dr. Bruce W. Everist, pediatrician of Ruston, La. who is chairman of the American Academy of Pediatries.

Schedule of the meetings have been announced by Mrs. Ethel M. Fuller, home agent as follows: Roundaway May 1 with Mrs. George Hopkins, Warsaw with Mrs. E. A. Hebert, May 2; Crepe Myrtle, Mrs. R. L. Reynolds, May 3; Millikin Bend, Mrs. E. E. Gilbreath, May 14; Willow Bayou, May 11; Better homemakers, Mrs. Lum Storey, May 16; Sycamore Center, Mrs. F. M. Miss Wallace Given Tea To Announce Engagement

The home of Mrs. Bill Durbin on Dondee Drive in West Monroe was the scene Saturday, April 28, when Miss Jean Wallace, bride-elect of Lester Hammonds, was given an announcement tea by Mrs. Durbin, Mrs. J. D. Purvis, Mrs. J. D. Fordham, Mrs. M. E. Robinson, Mrs. Max Willbanks, Mrs. Ivy Wallace, Mrs. Bill Watson, Mrs. Matilda Collins, Miss Marguerite Norris, and Mrs. James Dickerson.

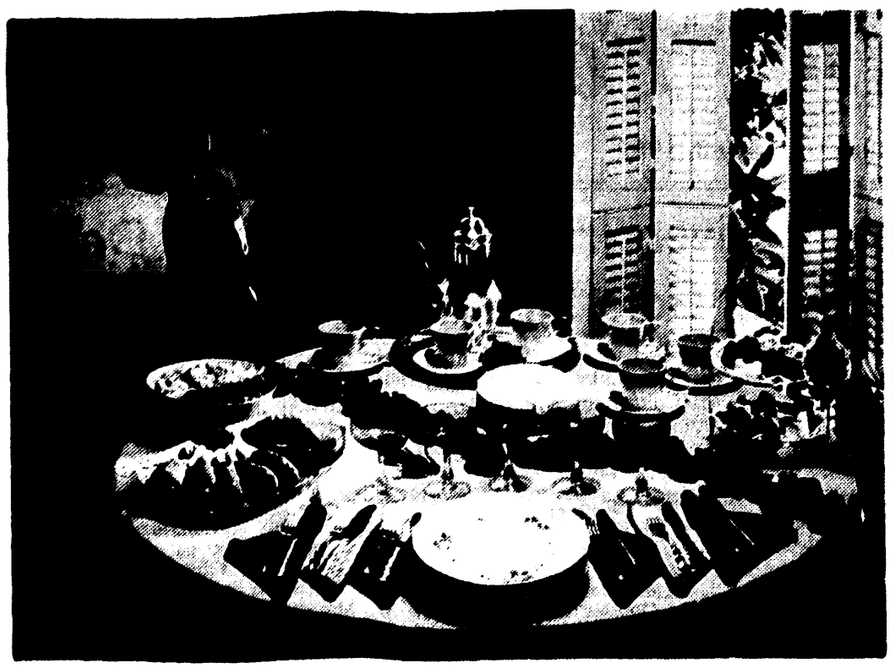
Parents of the engaged couple are Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Wallace and Mr. and Mrs. Delton Hammonds.

Greeting guests as they arrived were Mrs. Durbin, Mrs. Wallace, Mill Wallace, and Mrs. Hammonds.

A pink, white, and green theme was in evidence throughout the house, with arrangements of roses, chrysanthemums, and greenery at focal points. The serving table was centered with white mums, fern, and other greenery, flanked by candelabra holding burning white tapers. A Fostoria punch bowl reposed at one end of the table, and a silver coffee service at the other end. A serving table was also placed on the patio, and held a punch bowl and coffee service.

Mrs. Donald Logan and Mrs. Carl Stevenson served guests, assisted by tea girls, Miss Sally Purvis and Miss Mary Ann Purvis. Miss Ann Stevenson presided at the bride's book.

Miss Wallace greeted the approximately 125 guests who called during the appointed hours in a red chiffon model accented by a white corsage.



AS FRESH AS SPRING itself is this romantic setting for a supper party at which an engagement is to be announced. The festive table is set in shades of violet, and decorated with fresh flowers that repeat the colors in the violet patterned dinnerware.

DEAR ABBY

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am a freshman in college and, believe it or not, I have never kissed a girl. I mean really KISSED her. I have given girls little innocent pecks on the cheek, but that doesn't count. This may sound nuts but I have dated plenty of girls and while everyone else is making out, we sit and talk. I spoke to a buddy of mine and he said, "Don't ASK a girl if you can kiss her. Just grab her and kiss her!" I would die of embarrassment if she pushed me away. Does a guy just grab a girl or does he ask first?

SHY GUY

DEAR SHY: A kiss should be more of a spontaneous act than a planned campaign. If you have to ASK a girl for permission, the whole thing would probably be a big letdown. Wait until you get the "message."

DEAR ABBY: My brother and his wife were married for three years. They were divorced and stayed apart for almost a year. Then they were remarried to each other. If they had not been divorced they would be celebrating their 25th wedding anniversary this June. Would it be proper to entertain at an open house for their "25th anniversary" anyway, and ignore the time they were "apart"? Incidentally, a daughter was born to them before their divorce.

MIDWEST

DEAR MIDWEST: Be generous and ignore the divorce.

DEAR ABBY: My daughter was married two years ago, but it wasn't much of a wedding. She eloped with a schoolboy sweetheart. It lasted only a year and now she is getting married again.

We want to give her a large church wedding with a white gown and veil, but our friends say that we can't do it because of that first marriage she had. In view of the fact that she never had a "real" wedding, don't you think we should go ahead with our plans?

HER MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: Although your daughter never had a large church wedding, she did have a "real" marriage ceremony. Forego the veil and gown for a simple wedding.

DEAR ABBY: Please tell "Alone and in love" that if she is the woman who is in love with my husband, she'd better get used to being "alone" because there is not going to be a divorce in THIS family.

Molded Fabric May Outmode Sewing Art

The success of molded brassieres has spurred on research into molding for other fabrics, with the possibility that garments may one day be constructed in one operation.

According to researchers at Michigan State University, all thermo-plastic man-made fiber fabrics, such as nylon and acrylics, can be molded. This could mean that the entire front panel and back panel of a dress could each be molded in one step, then sewn together for the final garment.

Assembly-line techniques would take over. The wear points of seams would be largely eliminated. At this very moment, bathing suits are being tried out with the molding process. Experiments are going on with tricots, nets, fleeces, elastics, broadcloths and batistes.

Chief problem, researchers feel, is fit. Alterations may be nearly impossible, and larger figures may not get necessary support.

TEEN-AGE MAIL

By Dorothy Ricker

DEAR MRS. RICKER:

I am a 18-year-old boy. You may think a boy of my age should be able to solve his own problems, but this one has me stumped. I am going with Mickey who is 16. She is real pretty and I love her very much, but there's one thing wrong.

I admit we do a lot of petting, but the real problem is she will not say when to quit, I'm always the one to call a halt. When I do, she says I'm mad at her and don't love her.

I've told her she doesn't have the sense to know we could get into serious trouble — but I know the score. She keeps saying she trusts me, but how can she when I've gotten to the point where I don't trust myself?

I think it is up to the girl to draw the line, don't you? Please answer in your column soon, I need your advice as quickly as possible.

RANDY

DEAR RANDY:

While boys have an obligation to control their dating behavior, it always has been considered the girl's responsibility to keep a boy "in line." Apparently, Mickey has no intentions of doing this. Since she complains when you "call a halt," it is rather obvious that she wants your relationship to become more involved — in other words to go beyond the point of no return.

Human nature being what it is, one of these days she probably will have her way, and eventually you both will regret it.

My advice is to stand off and examine your relationship with Mickey from a distance. Ask yourself these questions: 1. Is our relationship based on physical attraction alone? 2. Would we still enjoy each other's company if we cut out the petting? How long would our relationship last? 3. If I think Mickey "doesn't have the sense" to realize the dangers of petting, do I really respect her? 4. If she believes I don't love her, when I'm trying to protect her, what does she know about real love? 5. Last but not least, if we do get into trouble, would I be willing to settle down to marriage, and can I adequately support a wife and child?

While you are thinking over these questions, you also should consider what effect the results of a forced marriage would have on both your families.

If you answer these questions honestly, you can come to only one conclusion — you are playing with fire and your relationship with Mickey is headed for trouble.

If she is so stupid that she will not help you to keep her out of trouble, I suggest you avoid any further involvement with her. I have a booklet, "FACTS ABOUT LOVE' FOR TEEN - AGERS," which you and Mickey should read. Please enclose 10 cents and a STAMPED, SELF-ADDRESSED ENVELOPE with your request. Mail to me in care of this newspaper.

DEAR MRS. RICKER:

I have a 16-year-old daughter, a very pretty girl and one who is meticulous about her appearance. Lately she has been terribly self-conscious about a breaking out on her face which I feel sure is caused by adolescence. She has used several preparations which have not helped.

Is there anything she can do, or use, to remedy this condition? She doesn't want to go to a doctor, and I am afraid it will eventually lead to her staying home and dropping some of her activities. She is a leader of several groups, and I would like to help her if possible.

MRS. N.F.

DEAR MRS. N.F.:

Your daughter should see a competent skin specialist (dermatologist) right away, and if she were my daughter I would insist upon it. I also suggest you and the girl read the splendid book entitled, "THE CARE OF YOUR SKIN" by Herbert Lawrence, M.D. It is written in easy-to-understand language especially for laymen readers. The book is published by Little, Brown and Company, Boston, Mass., and Toronto, Canada. The price is $2.50. You should

Chamber Hears Attack On JFK

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. Chamber of Commerce backed, with two reservations, President Kennedy's trade expansion program and then heard a sharp attack on the Kennedy administration before winding up its 50th annual meeting.

The attack came at the closing banquet Wednesday. Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper, R-Iowa, charged that Kennedy exercised coercive power in forcing a rollback in steel price increases last month. The senator also declared the administration is encouraging and stimulating segments of the people to demand more and more from government.

Earlier the chamber's voting delegates had killed, then revived, a resolution supporting Kennedy's proposals for aiding U.S. businesses which might be damaged by increased foreign imports under the tariff cutting authority he seeks from Congress. But they attached two conditions to the resolution.

One was that there should be no federal cash subsidies to firms hurt by imports. The bill now before Congress provides for loans, technical assistance and tax relief, but no direct payments.

The other was that there should be no federal allowances to workers laid off due to imports. Such allowances, the business group said, should be limited to the amount and duration of present unemployment insurance, and administered by the states.

The delegates first voted down the resolution entirely, but chamber leaders managed to get the matter reconsidered and the modified resolution was adopted.

Resolutions supporting other portions of the administration's trade proposals were adopted overwhelmingly in line with the chamber's traditional stand for lower tariffs and increased trade.

Hickenlooper spoke on a subject that came up frequently during the four-day convention—Kennedy's actions in successfully opposing the steel price increase of last month.

"I don't know whether an increase in the price of steel was necessary or not," Hickenlooper said. "But I do know that costs and prices in a private enterprise system have always been considered to be the responsibility of those who operate these businesses."

The senator noted that Kennedy told the chamber in a speech Monday that he did not intend to engage in price fixing.

"This is the first time I ever understood that anyone thought that there is any authority in the executive, outside of declared emergency or war when authorized by Congress, to assume the powers of price fixing in our private economy," Hickenlooper said.

H. Ladd Plumley, Worcester, Mass., insurance executive was installed as president at the banquet, succeeding Richard Wagner, Chicago oil company official.

Lorris Wimberly Rites Set Today; Veteran Official

ARCADIA, La. (AP)—Funeral services will be held here today for Lorris Wimberly, 64, veteran state official and legislator, who died Wednesday after a heart attack at his camp on Lake Kepler near here.

Services wil be conducted by Rev. R. L. Peyton of the First Methodist Church.

Survivors include his widow; a son, Lorris Wimberly Jr., Arcadia; a daughter, Mrs. Richard Mary, Baton Rouge; a sister, Mrs. Edrie Albrecht, and a brother, J. Rush Wimberly Jr., both of Arcadia.

Wimberly died in the Arcadia Hospital about three hours after he was stricken.

He had retired from public life and made his home in Arcadia.

Wimberly served in the state legislature when the late U. S. Sen. Huey P. Long was governor. He was speaker of the House under the administrations of former Gov. Richard Leche and the late Gov. Earl K. Long.

He resigned as speaker during Earl Long's second term to become public works director. He served until the end of Long's second term. For many years Wimberly served as chairman of the House Committee on Highways.

Negroes Not Thrilled By Judge Ruling

BILOXI, Miss. (AP) — Integration leaders have reacted with mixed feelings to U. S. Dist. Judge Sidney Mize's ruling that nine Mississippi segregation laws are unconstitutional.

Mize refused to disturb three breach of peace statutes used to arrested "Freedom Riders."

In his ruling Wednesday, Mize said that three Negroes are entitled to unsegregated transportation service.

But he rejected their request for an injunction against the city of Jackson and left the breach of peace laws standing on grounds the case is still pending in the courts.

"The cases arising out of those arrests are now pending in the courts of the state of Mississippi," Mize ruled, "and this court should not attempt to determine the merits of those state court actions."

The nine laws Mize threw out as violating the 14th Amendment of the U. S. Constitution had been on Mississippi's books for more than 60 years.

The ruling was blasted by Negro field secretary Tom Gaither of the Congress of Racial Equality. He said:

"We've had other rulings that didn't change things. Let's put the ruling into implementation and a reality for all Negroes."

But Medgar Evers, field secretary for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, called the decision "favorable" and said it was "the first in the state and should change things.

"Negro citizens now will use facilities as other passengers on a normal basis with this clear cut decision. Now we can go to other fields. . .like schools and housing," he added.

Gov. Ross Barnett was unavailable for comment on the ruling.

Samuel Bailey, Joseph Broadwater and Burnett L. Jacob, all from Jackson, brought the suit which named as defendants Mississippi attorney general Joe Patterson, the city of Jackson, its mayor and commissioners and chief of police, the Jackson Municipal Airport Authority, bus and railroad companies.

The laws ruled out pertained to separate but equal accomodations for persons of white and Negro races traveling by common carrier.

Mize also refused to issue the injunction as requested because he said the suit was not a proper class action to extend to all Negroes. He did not extend it beyond the relief to which the three plaintiffs were personally entitled.

"It is discretionary with the court," the ruling said, "as to whether it will enjoin enforcement of an unconstitutional statute and it will not do so in the absence of a strong showing that the plaintiffs will suffer immediate and irreparable injury in the absence of injunctive relief."

REGAINS VOICE

Actor Gargan Whips Cancer

NEW YORK (AP)—What is the most that a man can lose?

For a pianist, it's his hands. For an artist, it's his eyes. For an actor, it's his voice.

William Gargan, a veteran of 35 years on the stage, screen, radio and television, lost his voice, his livelihood and—he admits—even his hope, about a year ago.

But Gargan did not lose his courage, and today he can speak again; he has plans for re-entering the theater, and he is giving hope to others.

It was while appearing in "The Best Man," portraying a president of the United States who dies of cancer, that Gargan learned had the dread disese. The cancer forced removal of his larynx—or voice box—and left the actor without the ability to speak.

"God, why me?" Gargan recalls thinking. "Why my voice, which was my livelihood?"

But Gargan didn't give up. Five weeks after his operation, he began taking lessons sponsored by the American Cancer Society to learn how to speak through what is known as an esophageal voice.

Through this method, air is swallowed and then erupted from the bottom of the esophagus in a manner not unlike belching. As the air comes up, a muscle at the top of the throat is vibrated to make sound, and the words are formed in the normal manner.

Gargan appeared Wednesday before a group of 14 men and women at the National Hospital for Speech Disorders.

The face was the same that had appeared in scores of movies beginning with "Rain," opposite Joan Crawford. It had been seen weekly on television playing "Martin Kane—Private Eye." The voice, of course, was different, but it was audible and perfectly understandable.

The men and women in the room were, like Gargan and 20,000 others in the nation, without their voice boxes.

The actor stood before them and spoke. In his new-found voice, he told them that they, too, could speak. He told of his plans and, in a talk peppered with wisecracks, he urged them not to give up hope but to persevere and learn to speak again as he had.

He spoke for about 10 minutes in his deep, quiet tone and then had a long interview with newsmen. He showed no sign of tiring.

Gargan, who recently appeared again as an actor on television, playing the wordless role of a clown, plans to continue his work in the theater as an independent motion picture and television producer.

GIs Declare They Made No Deals

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Two U.S. Army sergeants held prisoner by Communist guerrillas for 22 days say they made no deals with the Reds to gain their release.

Sgt. Francis Quinn of Niagara Falls, N.Y., and Sgt. George E. Groom of St. Joseph, Mo., told newsmen Wednesday they never expected to return alive and did not know why the Communist Viet Cong guerrillas decided to let them go. They are the first American captives ever released by the Viet Cong.

Both denied a Communist radio broadcast asserting they had signed statements "repenting their barbarous aggressive activities." However, they said that the day before their release they were photographed sitting at a table with the Communist district commander who held a piece of paper in his hand.

The sergeants said the Viet Cong gave them propaganda lectures several hours a day during their captivity and often told the Americans things would go much easier for them if they cooperated. But the Communists proposed no deal for freedom, the sergeants said.

The sergeants were captured in a Communist ambush April 8. The Reds forced them to leave two wounded American companions on the trail to die.

9 Coeds Named To Serve Dance And Drill Team

Nine coeds at Northeast Louisiana State College and 10 high school seniors who will enter college this year have qualified as members of the NLSC Women's Precision Dance and Drill team.

Each will receive a scholarship of $30 per semester from the Monroe Boosters' Club.

Dr. Ethel Preston Trice, faculty sponsor, and Miss Sherry Sims, director, said that the scholarships are awarded to:

Roxanne Becker, Baton Rouge; Delores Frances Fontana, Jo Ann Genusa, both of Monroe; Marjorie Carolyn Fotos, Shreveport; Sharon Garland, Downsville; Jane Ella Gunn, Tallulah; Melvin Jean Whatley, Lake Providence; Doris Cecilia Richardson, New Albany, Miss.; Kathleen Whitfield, Falls Church, Va., all coeds.

Solons Near Crucial Sales Tax Battle

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Adjournment-minded legislators neared a crucial battle in the Senate today on a controversial sales tax proposal which may determine the state's financial future.

The Senate received a favorable report from the finance committee on a 4 per cent sales tax increase, readying for floor action the bill to raise the last $10 million needed to balance the next budget.

The fate of the bill, which underwent major revisions in the Senate Finance Committee, was called a decisive factor in determining whether lawmakers raise more money or adjourn and hope existing taxes will bring in $10 million more than predicted to keep the state in the black.

Hopes for a quick decision got a boost Wednesday when the House passed 35 appropriations bills totaling $63.5 million, the first of about 160 bills to finance state operations during the 1962-64 biennium as recommended by the state budget commission in its suggested $287 million budget.

Lawmakers felt action on the spending bills might force a quick decision on how to foot the costs.

A revenue study committee made up of Gov. Ross Barnett and legislative money experts has sought $27 million in new money it has said will be needed to balance the budget and leave a $5 million operating cushion in the treasury.

The committee has estimated present taxes and the anticipated treasury surplus would furnish $265 million toward the budget. Lawmakers already have passed bills to bring in about $16 million in new money.

ONE YEAR LATER

Invasion Of Cuba Failure Stressed

EDITOR'S NOTE — Teddy Roosevelt's success secret involved a big stick and soft talk. The United States tried the big stick at the Bay of Pigs and struck nothing but a painful blow to its prestige. But a year since the Cuban invasion has shown what a little talking can do.

By BEM PRICE

WASHINGTON (AP)—For Fidel Castro April 17 was a great day. He had his picture taken in the gun turret of a tank, the very model of a grim and weary, but triumphant military man.

Castro —and communism— won that day. The United States lost. But that was only a battle. The war goes on.

One year has now passed, or will have next Tuesday, since the photographer immortalized Castro, bearded and wearing a green U.S.-made field jacket in the tank turret.

Castro had come into power 15½ months earlier. For two long years before that he had carried on a guerrilla war against the corrupt tyranny of Fulgencio Batista, a man who had been given considerable U.S. aid in the name of anti-communism.

In those 15½ months, Castro had seized the vast holdings of foreigners valued in the billions, promising to pay with 20-year bonds bearing 4 per cent interest.

He had begun a vast land reform program, established industrial and agricultural cooperatives. With great fanfare he set up schools, inaugurated a slum clearance program, drove the gamblers, dope peddlers and prostitutes into hiding — or into more legitimate activities.

The corrupt in the old government he arrested wholesale and imprisoned. The brutal strong-arm men of the Batista regime he had shot.

At long last the people felt they were free. The hungry happily ate most of the blooded breeding stock of the vast, foreign-owned ranches.

Castro did something else, too. He established a 300,000-man militia force and armed them initially with left-over U.S. equipment.

Throughout these 15½ months, with increased gudance from known communists, he moved steadily to the left.

In the plush Havana hotels, once swarming with American tourists, Russian and Red Chinese trade missions appeared.

Steadily, the $1 billion annual trade between the United States and Cuba dwindled as the U.S. government, more and more convinced of Castro's anti-American, pro-Communist attitudes, applied economic pressures, especially by denying Cuba access to the American sugar market.

Some Cubans who had once supported Castro began accusing him of betraying the revolution.

Castro's militia ruthlessly and systematically stamped out opposition. The firing squads worked overtime and at least 639 people — the known count — were stood against prison walls and shot.

The police state came to Cuba, pre-Castro population, 6½ million.

Out of Cuba came doctors, lawyers, agronomists, salesmen, mechanics, managers and engineers. In time, about 250,000 refugees accumulated in Miami.

The United States, through the Central Intelligence Agency began recruiting anti-Castro Cubans.

In the jungles of Guatemala and elsewhere, a Cuban liberation force, 1,500 strong, took shape. They were given U.S. arms and trained by U.S. agents.

But all was not well within the anti-Castro forces. Some former Batista adherents were given command functions. They wrangled with those who had opposed Batista.

There was no unity among the refugees.

There was total absence of a political program for Cuba, one which might draw Cubans away from Castro.

Then it was April 17, the day the U.S.-backed forces were to begin the overthrow of the new tyrant.

Two days before some World War II B26 bombers had attacked Castro's airfields, knocking out four of Castro's U.S.-made T33 training jobs.

Now a couple of rust bucket cargo ships were standing off the Bay of Pigs with the main invasion force. This beach had a single road leading to a junction that spread into the heart of Cuba. The single road was flanked by mangrove swamps on both sides.

These 1,500 men had come to do battle with Castro's tank equipped forces, well supported by artillery. They landed at a point that was quickly and easily reachable by Castro's reserve forces.

The fact that an invasion was imminent was no secret. The refugees talked freely. U.S. newspapers printed stories and pictures of men training.

Apparently the invaders assumed the Cuban people would rise and join them. There was a flaw in the assumption. Nobody had told the people the invasion was actually in progress and the time to act was now.

The United States has a massive literature on ship-to-shore operations. The techniques had been tested successfully in the Pacific island campaigns of World War II, at Omaha Beach in Normandy, in Sicily, North Africa and Korea.

Post-invasion reports indicated the invasion ships weren't even loaded for combat. One ship carried the bulk of the invaders' armor, communications equipment and anti-tank guns. It was sunk.

These reports indicated the necessity of establishing air supremacy over the landing area was ignored. Provisions were not made for over-the-beach supply.

Castro simply rolled his tanks and artillery into position and plastered the invaders. His remaining armed jet trainers swept the skies clean of opposition and then concentrated on the ground troops.

Only one thing could have saved the invasion force: U.S. jets armed with rockets and jellied gasoline, both effective against tanks, ground personnel and artillery. They never appeared.

A few of the invaders escaped the deadly beach. Of the total force, 1,214 were captured. The others were killed.

Pro-Castro Cubans were elated. The "Colossus of the North" had suffered an ignominous defeat. In nation after nation there were anti-U.S. demonstrations.

In the aftermath of the fiasco, Castro was able to tighten his already strong grip on the people.

On April 30, Ernesto Guevarra, Castro's economic adviser, outlined a four-year plan to make Cuba independent economically. He said there were 157 Communist technicians, including 79 Russians, in the country to help. More have come since.

On May 1, Castro declared Cuba a Socialist nation and said there would be no more elections. Since the people were running the country, he said, who needed elections?

Even before the abortive invasion, however, the United States had recognized the danger in Latin America of Castro's appeal to the poverty stricken and his defiance of the rich and powerful United States.

This recognition led President Kennedy to create the Alliance for Progress in March 1961.

Ultimately, the United States set up a $20 billion program of loans or grants—mostly loans to Latin American countries over the next 10 years.

After the invasion, Castro offered to swap his prisoners to the United States for bulldozers.

A committee was formed to free the prisoners by providing Castro with 500 light agricultural tractors. Castro held out for bulldozers and the swap fell through.

In the wake of the invasion, arms shipments from the Soviet Union, Czechoslovakia and Red China rose to $100 million worth.

The economic well-being of Cuba was tied directly to that of the Communist bloc in a series of barter deals in which Cuba was to swap sugar for needed goods.

Where U.S. military efforts failed, political and economic measures have been putting increasing pressure on Cuba. The Organization of American States narrowly ousted Cuba last January.

Pork Dinner Carries Out Oriental Idea

This fruited sweet - sour pork is one of those exuberant tasting dishes that are a joy to serve. Everything about it is the most. The thin strips of pork are fork tender and flavory, the pineapple chunky and sweet, the pepper slices crisp, the onions bossily pungent. And the whole dish is given special character with a rich, dark gravy compounded chiefly of pineapple syrup, brown soy sauce and warmly spicy Russian dressing.

The gravy is an unusual and imaginative blend, to be sure, but a joyously sassy one that's perfect here. When guests ask you for the how-come of it, tell them if you wish. Or maybe not. After all, this dish will certainly become one of your hostess triumphs, and what hostess tells all!

To carry out the Oriental idea, serve the fruited pork over fluffy rice . . . and for an accompanying beverage, offer cups of hot fragrant tea.

One cheery fact about this dish is that for all its lusty flavor, it's remarkably easy to prepare . . . just another reason why you'll want to try it soon . . . and then often after that.

FRUITED SWEET-SOUR PORK

2 tablespoons butter or margarine

1½ pounds pork, sliced in thin strips (2-2½ pound pork shoulder, boned)

1 13½ ounce can pineapple tidbits

½ cup bottled Russian dressing

¾ cup water

2 tablespoons cornstarch

1½ tablespoons soy sauce

1 teaspoon vinegar

¼ teaspoon salt

1 medium size green pepper, sliced thin

½ cup thinly sliced onions

2 cups hot cooked rice

Preheat fry pan at 350 degrees, melt butter or margarine. Add pork and saute about 2 to 3 minutes or until meat is browned. Drain pineapple, reserving about ¾ cup syrup. Combine pineapple syrup, Russian dressing, water, cornstarch, soy sauce, vinegar and salt; pour over meat and stir until thickened.

Cover. Turn control dial down to 225 degrees and simmer ½ hour, or until meat is fork tender. Add green pepper, onion, and pineapple tidbits. Cover and cook 5 minutes. Serve over hot cooked rice. Makes 4 servings.

Note: If you do not have an electric skillet, use regular skillet on top of the range, over low heat.

For a flavorsome change from plain hot rolls, try thick slices of crusty French bread pan browned on both sides in Italian dressing.

Jeweler's Will Directs Estate To Aged Mother

NEW YORK (AP)—A jeweler's will directs that his $250,000 estate go to the United States government after the death of his mother, who is in her 80s.

"I make this bequest in appreciation of the freedom and liberty afforded in this country to all citizens irrespective of race, creed or color," wrote William Berns, who died April 20 at the age of 59. His will was filed for probate here Wednesday.

Berns bequeathed the income from his estate to his mother, Milly. Upon her death, the residuary estate is payable to the Treasurer of the United States of America.

ENERGY OUTPUT DROPS

NEW YORK (UPI)—Electric energy output throughout the nation last week dropped to 15,054,000,000 kilowatt hours from 15,329,000,000 a week earlier and compared with 14,254,000,000 in the same week last year, the Edison Electric Institute reported Wednesday.

Group Plans Junket To Capital

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP) — Six hundred Lancaster County residents who planned to attend President Kennedy's inauguration in 1961 but were snowed in by a sudden storm may get there yet.

A group of men who arranged the earlier junket plan another trip—this one for June 29.

Thomas M. Dougherty, a spokesman, said the idea for the second attempt followed a televised tour of the White House by Mrs. John F. Kennedy in which she urged as many Americans as possible to visit the White House.

72 Legislators To Visit Friday

'Kissin' Jim' Still Trails In 3rd Place

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UPI) — A dapper young state senator held a slim but apparently decisive lead today over former Gov. James (Kissin' Jim) Folsom in a race to decide who will face former Circuit Judge George C. Wallace in Alabama's May 29 gubernatorial runoff.

Wallace, former state amateur boxing champion, and state Sen. Ryan deGraffenried, 37, apparently out-distanced the six-foot, eight-inch Folsom, who sought an unprecedented third term.

A board meets in Montgomery Friday for an official count of the ballots in the Democratic primary.

A late count showed Wallace had 201,494 votes with all but 200 of the state's 3,432 precincts reporting. DeGraffenried had 157,129 votes to 154,602 for Folsom, one of the South's most colorful campaigners.

Wallace, a 150-pounder who likes to be called "The Little Judge," once promised to go to jail if necessary to shield the state from court-ordered integration.

DeGraffenried, handsome scion of a politically prominent Alabama family, sounded a call for fresh, young leadership to stimulate industry, improve schools and get the farmer out of the cost-price pinch.

Folsom, who tells voters "You let me grind up the ham and I'll see that you get the gravy," traveled throughout the state with his hillbilly band called "The Meat Grinders."

But he apparently did not draw as much support from rural areas as he did in his two previous races.

Seventy - two north Louisiana senators, representatives and their wives are invited to Legislators' Day sponsored by Northeast Louisiana State College and the Chambers of Commerce here Friday.

State officials from the Fourth, Fifth and Eighth congressional districts will attend.

Dr. George T. Walker, NLSC president, pointed out today that, "The purpose of the visit will be to provide the legislators with the opportunity to become more familiar with developments at Northeast State and to acquaint them with present and future needs of the college."

Representatives of the Monroe and West Monroe Chambers of Commerce, city officials, college officials and their wives will host the group.

The program begins at 4 p.m., when the legislators are invited to a coffee at Dr. Walker's home, and a brief tour of the campus.

At 6 p.m., they will leave the boat dock for a cruise on the Ouachita River. Former Gov. James A. Noe's boat, Noe's Ark., and Craig (Skeeter) Morgan's boat, The Playhouse, will provide transportation.

TELEVISION NOTES

Star Evidently Needed Drink

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Miss Tallulah Bankhead, the foghorn that walks like a woman, made a rare television appearance Wednesday night in a "Steel Hour" comedy about a mother whose daughter falls in love with a Japanese boy. So sorry.

Early in the CBS offering, "A Man for Oona," Miss Bankhead polished off a martini, and she undoubtedly needed it to get her through this latest East-West version of "Abie's Irish Rose."

In the play, Miss Bankhead's problem is that her daughter is an ugly duckling she wants to marry off. That's about the total substance of the play, which attacked us with all those dated English parlor types, including a silly young man named Freddie (naturally), who said such things as "I say. . . Smashing. . . Are you absolutely sure?. . . Cheers."

The writer, Michael Dyne, may have had a few martinis too because he seemed to think that jokes about the novelties of Freud belonged in the same period as funnies about Marilyn Monroe, Tony Armstrong-Jones and Yul Brynner.

Miss Bankhead, who was more of a cut-up in her day than "Ben Casey," once told this reviewer she usually arises at five in the afternoon, and Wednesday night she looked as if she'd slept until 20 minutes before show-time. The cameras tactfully kept at a safe distance.

Yet the thunderous, veteran actress was also responsible for the only light moments. At the end, after the girl elopes and does not see her mother for six months, she puts on a Japanese kimono and confronts her at a party. Miss Bankhead takes one look at her and says, "What are you endorsing, dear?"

Anyway, it turns out the husband is really a prince—a cousin of the Japanese emperor, which makes everything okay with Tallulah.

Miss Bankhead had good company in her distress. Nancy Carroll played a socialite who headed a "Committee for Destitute Gentlewomen." Yoshi Naka was the boy, and Astrid Wilsrud was the girl, who was additionally plagued by an older sister who went around saying "I'm preggie" to inform people she was expecting a baby.

The play was technically denoted as a farce, and that's what it was. I'd rather see Tallulah and Oscar Levant in "A Majority of One," or maybe "Peter Pan." It's pretty hard, of course, to knock a plea for tolerance. So hurray for tolerance. But it was still a lousy play, dahling.

DIVORCE RATE DROPS

OTTAWA (AP) — Canada's divorce rate last year—35.6 divorces per 100,000 population—was the lowest since 1944.

Settlement Is Reached In Eviction Case

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—Consent judgments in federal court have ended lawsuits against 70 landowners accused of evicting Negro sharecroppers who joined a voter registration drive.

The judgments, rendered Wednesday, restrain 50 of the white landowners from violating the 1957 Civil Rights Act. Charges against the other 20 were dropped. All defendants lived in Haywood County, Tenn.

The settlement between the landowners and the Justice Department ended more than a year of litigation in federal courts. Negotiations for a settlement of similar charges against 80 landowners and a bank in Fayette County, Tenn., reportedly are under way.

The Haywood landowners agreed not to interfere with or take economic reprisals against Negroes who try to register to vote in the future, and the government was to drop its federal court orders against the landowners.

The case had been set for trial next Monday.

The dispute began in 1960 when the government filed complaints against the landowners charging them with coercing and intimidating Negroes who tried to register as voters.

The complaints accused the landowners of terminating tenant leases, barring some Negroes from jobs, refusing to sell them provisions, and cutting off sources of credit.

A federal injunction issued April 20, 1961, prohibited 34 landowners from evicting Negro tenant farmers if it was done because of their voter registration activity.

Mrs. Burrough Funeral Set 2 P.M. Friday

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Friday in the chapel of Hixson Brothers Funeral Home for Mrs. Adeline Cryer Burrough, 71-year-old resident of 209 Malvern street, Monroe.

Burial will be in the Riverview cemetery under the direction of Hixson.

Mrs. Burrough died Wednesday afternoon in a local hospital following a long illness.

She is survived by her husband, Dave Burrough, Monroe; one son, Fred Nugent, also of Monroe; and two grandsons.

Judge Sends First Man To Penal Farm

A Monroe man, Rufus A. Patrick, 304 Orange street, Wednesday was sentenced to serve 90 days on the Ouachita parish penal farm. This was the first sentence to the farm imposed in Monroe city court.

Judge W. M. Harper sentenced the man after he was convicted for habitual drunkenness.

In other action Judge Harper fined seven persons for driving while under the influence of intoxicating beverages. Receiving the $425 fines, plus costs of court, were Ozzie Bob Hinton, Negro, 203 South 6th street, Monroe; Thomas Louie Grant, 2502 South Grand street, Monroe; Eugene Greggs, Negro, 1610 State street, Monroe; Lowell McClendon, Negro, 303 McKaskle street, West Monroe; Odell Jessie Neighbors, 314½ North Monroe street, Monroe; Guy E. Sims, 209 North 6th street, West Monroe; and George William Turner, 411 Tennessee Avenue, Ferriday.

Grant was also fined $55 and costs for speeding, while Greggs received an additional $100 fine for no driver's license.

Ellis Donald, Negro, 4004 Dunlap street, Monroe, was fined $100 and costs for damage to property and $37 for disturbing the peace.

Olivia Hernandez received a $25 fine for public drunkenness. A charge fo property damage was nolle prossed upon her promise to pay for the damage. Also dropped was a vagrancy count.

Two West Monroe youths were given six months compulsory jail term after they pled guilty to vagrancy. They were identified as Rudolph and Randolph Ainsworth, Route 3, Box 262-C, West Monroe. Theft charges against Tom J. Dupree, 3113 Lee Avenue, Monroe, and Thomas E. Floyd were nolle prossed. However, Dupree was fined $25 and costs for public drunkenness.

Fined $350 and costs for carrying concealed weapons were James Travis Davis, Negro, General Delivery, Linville, and Loretta Moore, 3210 Jackson street, Monroe.

In minor cases brought before the court, Judge Harper fined one person for battery, resisting arrests and four for disturbing the peace. Four other disturbing the peace counts were nolle prossed.

Fourteen persons were fined for public drunkenness.

In traffic court four persons were fined for reckless driving. They included Elmer L. Bryant, 2014 Erin street, Monroe; Willie Flennory, Jr., 717 Harris street, Monroe; Stanley Ross Wilds, 103 Orange street, West Monroe; and James C. Fourmy, 1100 Speed Avenue, Monroe. Wilds was also fined for speeding.

Reckless driving count against Ida W. Middleton, 1506 South Eighth street, Monroe, was nolle prossed.

Convenience Foods—Help To Housewife

The sounds of spring are many. Whir — the sewing machine, swish — the broom and rake, vroom - vroom — the vacuum. They announce the wakening of a spring - fresh household, those task - packed days.

Meal time finds working appetites sharper but, alas, preparation time shorter. The answer, through, is simple — simple, snappy dishes that stem from convenience foods, each with a winsome 'n tasty trick in the making.

For swift lunches or weekday suppers, there's a choice of eggs with cheese or easily prepared meat and fish entrees. An elegant dinner dish, Alpine beef casserole, combines flavorful round steak, green pepper strips, and grated Swiss cheese. And for dessert - on - the - run - - orange cake au rum, an orange syrup topped refrigerator sweet, made from a baker's cake.

No need to abandon an occasional neighborly get-together in the "tween" hours. For extra quick serving, here are spicy ginger buns, sesame English muffins, or raisin - cinnamon - nut brunch cake, made in minutes from raisin bread.

ALPINE BEEF CASSEROLE

1 pound round steak 1 inch thick
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
3 tablespoons vegetable oil
½ cup chopped onion
2 cups green pepper strips
½ teaspoon basil
3 cups soft bread crumbs
1 can condensed cream of mushroom soup
½ cup water
2 cups grated Swiss cheese, ½ pound

Cut meat into 1 inch strips. Salt and pepper steak strips. Place vegetable oil in skillet and brown steak strips. Add onion and saute until tender, then add green pepper strips and basil and cook about five minutes more. Alternate two layers each of 1 cup soft bread crumbs and meat in a 1½ quart casserole. Combine soup and water and pour over meat combination.

Sprinkle grated cheese over all and then remaining 1 cup soft bread crumbs. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for about twenty minutes.

Yield: 6 servings.

ORANGE CHIFFON CAKE AU RUM

1 baked orange chiffon cake 8 inch
1/3 cup rum
1/3 cup orange juice
½ cup sugar
½ teaspoon grated orange rind

Combine rum, orange juice, sugar and orange rind in a small saucepan. Bring to a boil, lower heat and simmer for ten minutes. Cool. Place cake on serving platter. Spoon orange syrup evenly over cake. Refrigerate for two hours before serving. Slice cake into twelve equal sized portions and serve plain.

Yield: 12 servings.

GINGER BUNS

1/4 soft butter or margarine
1 tablespoon brown sugar
1 teaspoon ground ginger
½ teaspoon ground cinnamon
7 sliced sandwich buns

Combine soft butter, sugar, ginger and cinnamon. Toast cut sides of buns. Spread about 2 teaspoons butter mixture over hot bun halves. Serve hot.

SESAME ENGLISH MUFFINS

4 large English muffins
3 tablespoons soft butter or margarine
1 tablespoon toasted sesame seeds

Split muffins and spread with soft butter, place on a cookie sheet. Sprinkle with toasted sesame seeds. Toast in a hot oven (400 degrees F.) for ten minutes, or until brown. Serve hot.

Yield: 4 servings.

RAISIN - CINNAMON - NUT BRUNCH CAKE

1 loaf unsliced raisin bread
3 tablespoons melted butter or margarine
1 teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ cup brown sugar (firmly packed)
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 tablespoons dark corn syrup
¼ cup chopped pecan or walnut meats

Remove crusts from bread, cut loaf in half, horizontally. Place bread on a greased baking sheet, brush with melted butter. Blend cinnamon, salt, and brown sugar. Cut in butter until mixture is crumbly; mix in syrup and nut meats. With a spatula, spread brown sugar mixture over the top of each piece of bread. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for twenty minutes, or until topping is bubbly and bread is golden brown. Cut each piece of bread into 5 or 6 slices.

Yield: 10-12 servings.

LUNCHEON EGGS

4 English muffins
1 cup grated Cheddar cheese
8 poached eggs
1 (10½-ounce) can tomato soup

Toast muffin halves. Top each with 2 tablespoons grated cheese and a poached egg. Cover each with about 2 tablespoons hot, undiluted tomato soup.

Yield: 8 servings.

TUNA-MIXED VEGETABLES

1 (10-ounce) package frozen mixed vegetables.
½ teaspoon salt
1 (10½-ounce) can condensed cream of celery soup
½ teaspoon savory
½ teaspoon minced onion
¼ teaspoon Tabasco sauce
1 (3-ounce) package cream cheese, soft
1 tablespoon milk
1 (7-ounce) can tuna, flaked
6 brown 'n serve party rolls, sliced crosswise
1 tablespoon butter, soft
6 short strips pimiento
Dash, paprika

Pour frozen mixed vegetables into a (1½ quart) baking dish and sprinkle them with salt. Combine undiluted celery soup, savory, onion, and Tabasco. Blend cheese with milk until of a smooth consistency, stir into celery soup mixture along with tuna until ingredients are well blended. Pour evenly over frozen vegetables.

Butter rolls on cut side and arrange over top of casserole. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for twenty to twenty-five minutes. Arrange pimiento strips between rolls and sprinkle roll tops with paprika after removal from oven.

Yield: 8 servings.

RYE CHEESE PUFF

½ cup beer
1 cup soft rye bread crumbs
1 cup grated Swiss cheese
4 eggs, well-beaten
½ teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
½ cup crisp bacon pieces

Pour beer over bread crumbs in a (9-inch) pie plate; let stand ten minutes. Stir in cheese, beaten eggs, and salt; dot with butter. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for thirty-five minutes, or until golden brown. Top with crisp bacon pieces. Serve at once.

Yield: 6 servings.

New Recipes Created For Poultry Day

With the theme "The Old — The New in '62" the annual Poultry Products Booster Day was held at New York. Among recipes presented were 2 familiar ideas — an egg dip and a chicken spread — in completely new forms. The two which home economist created and tested recipes are for an Egg Creole Dip, to be served with triple - rippled "Dipsy doodles" and a Chicken - Pecan Crunch to be spread on Pumpernickel Toast or White Rounds.

EGG CREOLE DIP

6 hard cooked eggs, chilled
1 tablespoon grated onion
½ cup minced green pepper
1 8 - ounce can tomato sauce
1 envelope Parmesan salad dressing mix
⅛ teaspoon salt

Dice eggs fine or shred them on fine grater of set. Add remaining ingredients, stirring to blend well. Makes about 2½ cups of dip for "dipsy doodles" or the tripple-rippled corn chips.

CHICKEN - PECAN CRUNCH

1 6-ounce can boned chicken or 1 1-3 cups diced cooked chicken
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 3 - ounce can shelled pecans (about 1 cup nut meats)
½ teaspoon grated lemon rind
¼ cup mayonnaise
1 3 - ounce package cream cheese
½ teaspoon grated nutmeg
¼ teaspoon salt

Mince chicken. Melt butter or margarine in a small skillet. Add pecan meats and cook over low heat, stirring often, until nuts are a deep brown (about 2 to 3 minutes). cool. Chop nuts. Combine chicken, nuts and remaining ingredients. Blend well. Chill.

Potatoes
Baked Peach Pudding
Beverage

BAKED PEACH PUDDING

1 can (1 pound, 13 ounces) sliced cling peaches
¼ cup butter
½ cup firmly packed light brown sugar.
1¼ cups sifted flour
1¼ teaspoon salt
1-3 cup margarine
½ cup granulated sugar
1 teaspoon grated orange rind
1 egg
½ cup orange juice

Drain peaches in a colander for several hours. Melt butter in an 8 by 2 inch baking pan; remove from heat. Mix in brown sugar and spread evenly over bottom of pan. Sift together the flour, baking powder and salt.

Cream margarine, granulated sugar and orange rind; beat in egg thoroughly. Stir in sifted dry ingredients, in 4 additions, alternately with orange juice so batter is smooth. Bake in a moderate (350 degrees) 40 to 45 minutes or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean.

Place on wire rack to cool for about 5 minutes. Loosen edges; turn out on serving plate; serve at once or reheat. The layer of batter under the peaches will have a steamed - pudding quality.

1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon white pepper
1 cup buttermilk
½ teaspoon baking soda

Have chickens cut so drumsticks, 2nd joints, wings, breasts and backs are separate; then have each breast cut into 4 pieces and each back into 2 pieces. Mix together the flour, salt and pepper.

Stir baking soda into buttermilk. Roll chicken, a piece at a time, in seasoned flour; dip into buttermilk; roll again in flour. fry in deep fat (350 degrees), without frying basket, until lightly browned — 10 to 15 minutes — and cooked through. Makes 8 servings.

Meal-In-Can Makes Debut In Markets

The homemaker with a "problem eater" in her family will be interested in a new chocolate and vanilla flavored liquid meal-in-a-can making its debut in drug and food stores here this week.

The new food is called Nutrament and, essentially, it's a good 400-calorie breakfast or lunch which is useful as a between meal supplement for weight gain or as an easy-to-digest meal for the problem eater.

Because it's a pleasant tasting liquid that supplies the nutrients and appetite satisfaction of a good meal it can be helpful particularly for fussy-eating children, carbohydrate-snacking teenagers, and oldsters with chewing or certain digestive problems. Mother might try it too when she's forced to skip the usual breakfast or lunch. Cost-wise it's economical: 39 cents a can.

It provides all essential nutrients and is equavalent nutritionally to a breakfast of orange juice, a poached egg, an ounce of Candian bacon a sweet roll and sugared coffee; or a lunch of hamburger with bun and catsup, pineapple, lettuce, and celery salad, and coffee.

Trial Of Salan Set For May 15

PARIS (UPI)—Ex - Gen. Raoul Salan, imprisoned commander of the outlawed Secret Army Organization (OAS), will go on trial for crimes against the state on May 15, it was announced on Wednesday night. He faces a possible death sentence if convicted.

The Ministry of Justice announcement said the trial before the special high military tribunal will last four days.

Salan was captured in Algiers on Good Friday, April 20.

The same military tribunal tried and sentenced him to death in absentia last July 11 for his part in the abortive generals' revolt in Algeria in April 1961.

Can Man Learn To Live On Top Of High Mountain

By APRIL W. STONE

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Can man learn to live on the great mountains that form the roof of the world—where the air is thin and contains little oxygen?

Sir Edmund Hillary, who conquered Mt. Everest in 1953—while he wore oxygen equipment — has spent nine months trying to find out.

One of his conclusions: In extremely high altitudes, "there is a definite risk to the body without extra oxygen."

The tall, lanky New Zealander, in Washington recently on a lecture tour, described in a UPI interview the expedition he led in September, 1960, to the great mountains of Nepal to conduct an extensive test of man's acclimatization at high altitudes.

The expedition, which lasted nine months, consisted of 22 scientists, meterologists, doctors and glacial experts.

Questions for which the group sought answers were:

—Can man learn to live at great heights where the air contains little oxygen?

—How much radiation, or heat and light energy from the sun, is found in the Himalayas?

—How do radiation and glacier movements affect the weather?

—What is the Yeti, or "abominable snowman." Does he exist or is he just a native superstition?

The main part of the expedition was carried out in an assault on 27,790 foot Mt. Makalu, first scaled in 1955 by a French expedition using oxygen equipment.

Hillary's group, however, climbed without oxygen equipment to see what effects the altitude had on the climbers' bodies.

As the party ascended the great mountain, camps were established at each new level. In these camps Hillary said, a standard series of tests were performed on the climbers.

"Everyone in the party was experimented on," Sir Edmund said. The tests included measurement of respiration, pulse, brain waves, and other physical functions.

Hillary said "the most commonly used piece of scientific equipment was a bicycle." It was stationary, with one wheel. There was a brake on the wheel, and a speedometer on the bicycle's handlebars. Sir Edmund said a exact amount of pressure would be set—for example, 10 or 15 pounds—and a man would then peddle against this weight.

"He was examined while peddling against a standard amount of work," Hillary said, "and the change in performance at different levels showed the exact way he was adapting to the altitude."

Sherpas, natives of the Himalayas, accompanied the expedition as guides and porters. The greatest height at which they live is about 13,000 feet. Sir Edmund said the tests at 19,000 feet showed a "sea level chap" lost 50 per cent of his regular bodily functions, whereas the Sherpas, already well acclimatized to high altitudes, only lost 5 per cent.

Men have been able to spend a few weeks at 23,000 feet without oxygen, but it has been found that above that height the human body runs down quickly. A person becomes weak, tired, and disease prone. The brain is affected, and one has trouble concentrating on a task, or on remembering. Loss of appetite also occurs.

A task force of three men set out from a camp at 26,900 feet to try and reach the summit of Makalu without oxygen equipment.

The climbers had attained 27,400 feet when one man fell unconscious in the snow with a blood clot in the lung.

Sir Edmund said that from this point on "the whole effort of the expedition was devoted to getting the stricken man down alive." He was carried on the Sherpas' backs down the mountain's dangerous passes. The injured man reached 21,200 feet with frostbitten hands and feet.

A helicopter from Katmandu, capital of Nepal, flew a pioneer mission to the mountain and rescued the climber. Hillary said the man eventually recovered, but several finger joints and both feet had to be amputated.

Sir Edmund pointed out that this accident proved "there is a definite risk to the body without extra oxygen" at high altitudes. If it had not been for the man's collapse, however, he said "there is no doubt they would have reached the top. Only 400 feet of Makalu had been left inviolate."

ANGEL FOOD with a baked-in pink layer and all-the-way-through raspberry flavor not only is possible it's easy with new Raspberry Sundae Angel Food Cake Mix. A packet of pink swirl mix is included in the package by following recipe directions, great effect shown here can be achieved.

NEWEST MIXES

Old-Time Flavor Found In Cakes

Cakes in flavors you wouldn't expect to find outside an old-fashioned soda parlor are yours for the baking with Pillsbury's newest mixes — Banana Sundae Cake Mix, Raspberry Sundae Angel Food Cake Mix, and Fudge Sundae Fluffy Frosting Mix.

Flavorful Banana Sundae Cake is touched with spice, every forkful fragrant and delicious with the taste of banana — the kind of flavor you used to save bananas for till just the right ripeness was reached — then you mashed them by hand.

EASY

Easy! Even Raspberry Sundae Angel Food with its luscious all the way — through fruit flavor couldn't be simpler. Use 11 egg whites, high, but the egg whites have already been separated for you — into a dry mix, beat and fold in the cake flour mix from the other compartment box. Add water to the whites mix, beat and fold in the cake flour mix from the other compartment.

Fun! Once you've decorated with the tube of Fudge Sundae Topping which comes right in the box of Fudge Sundae Fluffy Frosting Mix, you'll agree. Fancy touch decorating has never been so little trouble, so much fun.

And versatile, too! Bake Banana Sundae Cake in two 8" layers, two 9" layers, a 13x9x2" rectangle or cupcakes — it makes 24 to 30. Fudge Sundae Fluffy Frosting Mix tops them all spectacularly. Or try whipped cream or ice cream and fruit toppings — or fillings. As for Raspberry Sundae Angel Food, you can change its color right before your eyes, depending on how you choose to use the packet of pink Sundae Swirling Mixture which comes in the package. Mix it with a tablespoon of water and swirl it through the batter if you like the gay look of a revel, or mix it through the batter for a delicate pink cake. Here's still another idea if you want to impress the family with the pink and white layered look of a parfait — pronounced "perfect" by everyone who tastes it!

PINK AND WHITE LAYERED RASPBERRY SUNDAE

Prepare Pillsbury Raspberry Sundae Angel Food Cake Mix as directed on package, folding half of raspberry swirl mix into one third of batter. Pour half of white batter into 10" inch tube pan, then pink batter and top with remaining white batter.

Bake as directed. Prepare Pillsbury Fluffy White Frosting Mix as directed on package, folding in remaining swirl mixture. Frost cooled cake.

Bobby To Talk On Problem Of Desegregation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy will discuss school desegregation today at a conference of 100 school officials from 30 states, many of whom have been in the thick of integration battles.

The occasion is the start of a two-day conference on the problems of segregation and desegregation in public schools sponsored by the Civil Rights Commission.

School officials from across the nation will take part in the conference, which the commission says is designed to swap information about the problems involved in desegregation and how they may be met.

In its 1961 report, the commission proposed that it be authorized to act as a clearinghouse for information about desegregation in public schools so that successful methods might be passed on to school districts approaching desegregation.

India Begins Pushing Back Red Poachers

By HENRY S. BRADSHER

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — India appears to have begun a long-awaited but small-scale effort to push back Communist Chinese encroachments in disputed border lands west of Tibet.

This is the interpretation put on a protest from Peiping that Indian forces have been pressing toward Chinese outposts in Ladakh, a bleak stony plateau some three miles high in northern Kashmir.

Observers say there is a strong possibility of armed clashes in Ladakh.

The last clash between troops of the world's two most populous nations occurred in Ladakh in October 1959. India accused the Chinese of ambushing an Indian patrol on Indian territory. Nine Indians were killed and 10 were captured but later released.

China controls about 14,000 square miles of the 15,000 square miles that both nations claim in eastern Ladakh.

The Chinese note was made public in Peiping Wednesday. It warned of the danger of armed clashes if the Indians continue pressing forward.

Since China's seizure of eastern Ladakh became public in 1959, there has been strong public pressure here for India to do something about it. But India lacked roads into the area, which is separated from north Indian military bases by the world's two highest ranges, the Himalayas and the Karakorams.

Observers in New Delhi have been expecting that by this spring India would finally have built up enough strength in Ladakh by airlifts and mule caravans to begin stronger patrolling.

Informed sources have been predicting that Indian troops would try to cut off supplies to some of the most advanced Chinese outposts, forcing the Chinese to fight for them or abandon them.

$12-MILLION INDUSTRY

Celery Now Is 'Big Business'

Raisin Cake Basic Recipe Is Developed

Many consumer letters received by packers of California raisins contain a frequent request for "a good raisin cake, other than applesauce or pound cake, in which the raisins don't sink".

With this in mind, a basic recipe was developed for a good eating, good looking raisin layer cake. The batter is thick and fluffy and the layers turn out tender and well shaped. The recipe has variations too for a chocolate or spice cake.

RAISIN LAYER CAKE

2-3 to 1 cup dark or golden raisins
2-3 cup soft shortening
1½ cups sugar
1½ teaspoons vanilla
3 eggs
2¼ cups sifted flour
2½ teaspoons baking powder
1½ teaspoons salt
1 teaspoon cream of tarter
1 cup milk

Chop raisins coarsely. Cream shortening, 1¼ cups sugar and vanilla together until very light and fluffy. Beat 1 whole egg and 2 yolks together; beat into creamed mixture thoroughly.

Beat remaining 2 egg whites to soft peaks, beat in remaining ¼ cup sugar to make medium-stiff meringue. Sift flour together twice with baking powder, salt and cream of tartar. Add to creamed mixture alternately with milk, beginning and ending with flour. Stir in raisins; gently fold in meringue. Spoon batter into 2 greased and floured 8 or 9 - inch layer cake pans.

Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 30 to 35 minutes. Turn baked layers out onto wire racks to cool. Frost with your favorite icing. Make 2 layers.

To chop raisins easily toss with 1 teaspoon salad oil or melted shortening.

VARIATIONS

SPICED RAISIN CAKE: Use basic recipe with ¾ cup brown sugar (packed) and ¾ cup granulated sugar instead of the 1½ cups sugar called for. Add 1 teaspoon cinnamon, ½ teaspoon nutmeg and ¼ teaspoon cloves along with the vanilla.

CHOCOLATE RAISIN CAKE: Use basic recipe, adding 1½ squares unsweetened chocolate, melted and cooled, to creamed mixture. Decrease flour to 2 cups.

"Pascal Celery Strain 52-70" is what triumphant plant - breeders call a recently perfected variety of green crisp - tender celery which is at its peak this month in Florida fields. The stalks are 10 or 11 inches in length, topped with fragrant green leaves and its thick, waxy ribs enclose a choice heart section. The popularity of this new celery has helped make celery - growing a $12,000,000 industry in Florida.

Celery varieties may be classified by color — green and golden — then by types within the color division. About 85 per cent of the celery we consume is green or as generally called, "Pascal" celery. While celery is available throughout the year, it is particularly abundant in late spring.

Today, when celery ranks among America's most important vegetables, it is hard to believe that about 350 years ago its flavor was such that its use was purely medicinal. Then those clever French cooks found out that meats, soups and stews acquired an exciting new aroma when cooked with a few celery ribs. This started the cultivation of celery as a food.

The more it was cultivated, the milder the flavor became. Toward the end of the 17th century people began eating celery raw, as a salad vegetable. In the course of several hundred years of trial - and - error in celery-growing we now have exceptionally delicate and tender celeries like strain 52-70.

Celery growers point out that there is still a certain amount of confusion in some cook books which call for "stalks" of celery when they mean "ribs." A "stalk" or "bunch" is the whole plant. The "rib" is only a part of the stalk — the part we eat with such gusto and a sprinkling of salt.

CELERY AND SHRIMP SALAD

3 cups sliced celery
2 cups shredded cabbage
3 tablespoons chopped scallions
2 tablespoons mayonnaise
1 tablespoon cider vinegar
¾ teaspoon salt or salt to taste
⅛ teaspoon ground black pepper
1½ lbs. shrimp, cooked or 2 cans (6½ ounces each) shrimp
1½ teaspoons salt
Sliced cucumbers

Combine celery, cabbage and scallions. Blend together mayonnaise, vinegar, salt and black pepper. Pour over vegetables and toss lightly. Turn into a salad bowl. Mix shrimp with the 1½ teaspoons salt, black pepper and lemon juice. Make a nest in the celery and cabbage and fill with shrimp mixture. Garnish with sliced cucumbers, place around edge of salad.

Yield: 6 to 8 servings.

CELERY SAUTE

4 cups sliced celery
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 tablespoons soya sauce
½ teaspoon sugar

Cut celery into ¼-inch diagonal slices. Melt butter or margarine in a saucepan, add celery and saute 5 minutes stirring constantly. Stir in soya sauce and sugar. Heat 1 minute, stirring constantly. Serve hot as a vegetable.

Yield: 6 servings.

ZIPPY STUFFED CELERY STICKS

Blend an 8-ounce package creamy cottage cheese with ¼ cup Bleu or Roquefort cheese. Add 1 teaspoon salt and 2 teaspoons ground dill seed and mix well. Pile lightly into 3 - inch ribs of celery and garnish with Spanish paprika.

CELERY, CABBAGE AND APPLE SALAD

2 cups sliced celery
2 cups finely shredded cabbage
2 cups diced unpeeled apples
¼ cup Roquefort or Bleu cheese cheese
¼ cup sour cream
Dash cayenne
⅛ teaspoon ground black pepper
1 teaspoon salt
Head lettuce

Dog Digs Out Pal In Cave-In

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A terrier named Dotty disappeared when it chased an armadillo under Carl Newcomber's house. Another dog, Scotty, ran under the house and started digging.

Half an hour later, Dotty was unearthed, still alive.

Newcomber said he believed Dotty chased the armadillo into its burrow and then scrambled out, caving in the hole on Scotty.

Canada Dollar Devalued To 92 Cents

OTTAWA (AP)—Canada devalued its dollar Wednesday night and pegged it at 92½ U.S. cents to give a boost to exports and ease the nation's chronic foreign trade deficit.

The president of the Canadian Manufacturing Association said he was delighted with the export boost but expressed surprise at the new rate, the lowest since Canada adopted a free, floating exchange rate in September 1950.

The Canadian dollar had sold at 95¼ cents on the exchanges for the past two months.

Finance Minister Donald Fleming said in a statement announcing the new rate the government had taken progressive steps to bring the exchange rate down. The Canadian dollar in August 1957 was worth $1.06⅛ in U.S. currency.

The drop in the rate is expected to give a strong boost to export earnings and to discourage import buying by raising import prices in terms of Canadian dollars.

It will mean, among other things, costlier vacation trips in the United States for Canadians and cheaper ones in Canada for American tourists.

For the government, the pegging of the dollar will mean that will have to intervene in the market by buying or selling U.S. dollars to ensure that the exchange rate doesn't move farther than one percentage point on either side of the 92½-cent rate.

the government's exchange fund

The International Monetary Fund, which had been urging Canada to adopt a fixed exchange rate, issued a statement warmly welcoming the move.

Conductor Quits After Criticism

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Enrique Jorda, the Basque musical director, is terminating his contract with the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra.

Jorda, who once proudly told Adolf Hitler that the Basque people were pre-aryan said a "small opposition is undermining the structure and morale of the symphony."

He said that he would be willing to stay through next season because of the difficulty in finding a replacement.

The board of governors of the San Francisco Symphony Association accepted his decision with deep regret, and told him he would suffer no financial loss because of shortening his term as conductor and musical director.

Opposition to Jorda came to a head in March when George Szell cut short an engagement as guest conductor. Later Szell, conductor of the Cleveland Symphony, made public a letter to a music critic saying he found music in a sad state in San Francisco. He made no explanation.

The musicianship of Jorda's symphony, however, won high praise the following month from Pablo Casals as it gave the noted cellist and conductor the American premier of his oratorio "El Pessebre."

Jorda was permanent director of the Madrid Symphony during World War II and found reasons to reject several invitations to conduct at the Salzburg Festival in Germany. Finally he wrote in answer to a Nazi request for his race "pre-Aryan."

The Basques, he often explained, were in the Pyrenees long before the Aryans, pride of the Nazis, started their world march. Jorda was born in San Sebastian in 1911.

Special Session Call Is Issued

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UPI) — Gov. Buford Ellington Wednesday ordered lawmakers into a special session to deal with Tennessee's legislative apportionment situation — the case which inspired the recent historic U. S. Supreme Court ruling.

West German Envoy Given U.S. Pledge

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States has promised to take into full account any misgivings the West German government may have about U. S. plans for a Berlin settlement, diplomatic sources said Wednesday

They said this assurance has been given to Heinrich Von Brentano, West German chancellor Konrad Adenauer's party leader who is here for discussion of mutual problems

The disclosure came as Von Brentano visited both houses of Congress The former German foreign minister already has met with President Kennedy and State Department officials

Diplomatic sources said that in his talks with administration officials Von Brentano was told that the United States had no intention of reaching any Berlin agreement with Russia which would not be fully acceptable to West Germany and other Western Allies

Von Brentano came to Washington to register his concern about some aspects of the U.S. proposal for a Berlin settlement—particularly the suggestion that West and East German representatives be on equal footing in the proposed international authority to supervise Western access to Berlin

On that same score, Sen Hugh Scott, R-Pa., expressed fear that the international agency plan might dilute Western rights. In a prepared Senate speech, Scott said he had asked that Gen Lucius D Clay, stepping down as President Kennedy's Berlin representative, be called to give Congress his views on the subject

Two Drift Helpless On Seas Ten Days

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Ten days of helpless drifting over 225 miles of ocean, often in wind-tossed seas, ended Wednesday for Jeff L. Hodges, 35, and his 13-year-old daughter, Sandra.

The 105-foot converted World War II subchaser on which they became lost, after engine failure on a trip from Gray's Harbor, Wash., was attached to the cutter Taney at 1 a.m. 90 miles west of Point Sur, Calif.

Both the San Jose man and his daughter were reported in good condition although low on food.

The Taney relayed this brief account of what happened.

The subchaser, a $50,000 vessel Hodges bought for use in a cargo business, left Gray's Harbor April 21 with one of its two engines not operating.

At 4:20 p.m. on April 22 while the vessel, renamed the Pelican, was 60 miles southeast of Blunts Reef lightship off Eureka, Calif., the other engine quit. Apparently the timing gear jammed.

The boat then was in a heavy fog and sea was calm.

But on April 23, 24 and 25 the vessel was tossed by winds of 30 to 45 knots from the northwest.

After the Pelican failed to reach San Francisco by April 24, Hodges' wife, Vivian, reported to the Coast Guard that the boat was missing.

Friday, the pilot of a Naval Reserve plane from Alameda, Calif., spotted the drifting Pelican 75 miles southwest of San Francisco. But he thought it was a fishing boat and made no report to the Coast Guard until Tuesday, after reading about the missing Hodges.

A Coast Guard plane found the wooden-hulled boat, flying its flag upside down in a distress signal.

Jackson Station Told Negro Must Have Equal Time

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Communications Commission has advised Jackson, Miss., television station WLBT-TV it is required by law to give a Negro House candidate time equal to that allowed his primary opponent.

A spokesman for the commission said Wednesday night that R. C. Smith, a Jackson grocer, who is opposing Rep. John Bell Williams, D-Miss., in the June 5 primary, complained to the FCC that his request for time over WLBT-TV had been denied by the station.

This occurred, Smith said in a letter to the FCC, after Williams had made a television appearance over WLBT to further his candidacy.

The spokesman said the commission then told the station that because Smith was a legally qualified candidate for the nomination and because his opponent had been allowed a prior appearance, the law required that Smith be given equal treatment.

APPROVE CABLE PROJECT

TOKYO (AP)—Telecommunications experts from nine Asian countries have approved a proposed $85 million project to lay a 6,000 mile submarine cable from Tokyo to Indonesia via Formosa, Hong Kong, the Philippines, South Viet Nam, Thailand, Malaya and Singapore.

Predicts Reds Will Make Space Break

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — A top American missile man predicted Wednesday that the major breakthrough in space flight will be achieved by the Soviet Union.

Krafft A. Ehricke said he believes the Soviets soon will put two men into space and may achieve the first rendezvous in space this year.

The American program for achieving a rendezvous of a manned vehicle with a fueling station in space is still about two years away, he said.

However, he said, the United States is ahead of the Soviet Union in many aerospace areas involving weather satellites, communications and reconnaissance techniques.

Ehricke, former German V-2 rocket scientist now director of advanced studies for General Dynamics Corp., was chairman of the final session of the three-day meeting of scientists on manned space flight.

He indicated America's next big space shot this year will be an attempt to hit planet Venus—25 million miles away. He said the Atlas-Centaur will be fired sometime in August and he believes it will hit Venus.

BEGINS BOND DRIVE

WASHINGTON (UPI)— President Kennedy Tuesday urged his fellow citizens to buy at least one extra U.S. savings bond during the next 60 days.

The President issued a statement kicking off the May-June freedom savings bond drive, marking the 21st anniversary of the Series E bond.

Ted Kennedy In Deadlock With Opponent

BOSTON (AP)—A Boston Globe poll shows Edward M. Kennedy, youngest brother of the President, and Atty. Gen. Edward J. McCormack Jr. virtually deadlocked for convention endorsement for the U.S. Senate Democratic nomination.

The newspaper said in a copyrighted report today it polled 577 delegates in 75 communities. The result: Kennedy 196, McCormack 193; undecided 188.

The Democratic State Committee says 1,723 delegates have been authorized for the June 8-9 convention at Srpingfield. Endorsement will require a majority, or 862 votes.

The Globe said supporters of McCormack, nephew of House Speaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass., claim to have 631 delegates nailed down. Kennedy backers credit their man with 387 and McCormack with 529.

Cancels Reward

LONDON (AP) — An insurance company canceled a reward offer today after $55,000 worth of missing diamonds turned up in the customs department at Paris' Orly Airport.

The gems disappeared en route to an exhibition at the Louvre and the company offered a reward of $5,460. The company said they thought the mixup came about because the two packages arrived during a French national holiday.

Nine Southern Negroes Win Fellowships

PRINCETON, N. J. (AP)—The Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship Foundation Wednesday announced the names of nine Southern Negro students who will receive fellowships for a year of graduate study.

The foundation is carrying out the second year of a program begun last spring in cooperation with the Southern Education Foundation of Atlanta, Ga.

The purpose of the joint fellowships is to train students in integrated colleges for careers as teachers in Southern Negro colleges.

The nine selected, their present colleges and the graduate schools they will attend include:

Edward Boster (607 South 14th St., Wilmington, N. C., North Carolina College at Durham to University of Michigan.

Clark Hillery Everett (Route 5, Blakely, Ga., Morehouse College (graduate school unknown).

James R. Haynes (634 Finzer St., Louisville, Ky., Fish University to Syracuse.

Dave Jones, Redwood, Miss., Tougaloo Southern Christian College to Purdue.

Mack H. Jones, Oakdale, La., Texas Southern University to University of Illinois.

Ruby Lee Magee, Tylertown, Miss., Jackson State College to Radscliffe.

Voice Of Broadway

By DOROTHY KILGALLEN

The Liz-Dickie hullaballoo completely stifled news of another crisis involving movie stars that took place in Nice recently. This one featured Romy Schneider, Germany's Marilyn Monroe, and her longtime fiance, handsome Alain Delon of the French and Italian cinema. Romy checked into a hospital in Nice with a "nervous breakdown" that friends felt was nothing more than her bi-annual test of Alain's amour, and sure enough, Alain rushed to her bedside from Paris, where he is working in the big "Marco Polo" production. Romy suffered a similar "breakdown" about six months ago when her friends thought Alain was losing interest.

Robert Preston was the shining light of the televised "Tony" awards, deserving of all the adjectives applicable to a master of ceremonies - articulate, intelligent, humorous, sincere, and unhammy. And he looked fine, too. The theatre people who voted did a pretty fine job as was evident by the applause for those who won the most important prizes. Richard Rodgers as composer of "Not Strings," Paul Scofield as leading actor of "A Man for All Seasons," and Diahann Carroll and Bobby Morse in the musical comedy performing division. Abe Burrows' many trips to the podium were well - earned, because he is a terrific talent. They would have been well earned if he were a talented jerk, but it was a double pleasure to see him walk off with so many awards because he is also an awfully nice fellow in real life. Celeste Holm summed it up well for the theatrical folk present when she said, "Isn't it nice to be a member of the family?" It's tough, but it's nice.

Wide publicity has been given to the bootlegging in the field of pop records, but the same racket prevails in the long - hair field. As an example, Carnegie Hall was rechecked for hidden microphones before a recent recital by a world famous concert artist — all because a renowned pianist was secretly recorded during several of his recitals in the hall. Credit Michael Wilding's wife, Susan (who is divorcing him) with the nastiest crack of the week. After talking to him on the telephone she said: "Everything is amicable. As a matter of fact, I wish he were my brother."

TASTE THE DIFFERENCE!

Fresh Louisiana strawberries are now available for consumers in all parts of Louisiana. The strawberry industry wishes that each of you could discover the health giving qualities of Louisiana strawberries. There is no comparison in the entire U.S.A. for taste, sweetness, and vitamin content. This is the time of year that you can enjoy locally grown strawberries shipped to you direct from your neighbors in Southeast Louisiana.

Why be satisfied with ordinary strawberries when you can request that your grocer supply you the best? That is, Louisiana strawberries. These delicious strawberries from Southeast Louisiana may be used many different ways in delicious desserts and salads. Some favorites are strawberry short cake, tarts, pies, fresh fruit salad, fresh strawberry ice cream, or served alone with a tasty dessert topping.
